Republican Primaries.

The attention of the Republican voters of the county is especially directed to the call for party primaries at the head of this column. The delegates to be elected to the county convention at these primaries will not only elect delegates to the State and Judicial conventions, but will also nominate candidates for the State Senate, House of Delegates and county offices. In addition to electing delegates to the county convention members of the County Central Committee, to serve two years, will also be chosen by the voters at the primaries, a fact which emphasizes their importance and adds to the urgency for a large attendance of the Republicans of each district at the place and time named in the call.

Jesse R. Grant, a son of the great Union general and former President, U. S. Grant, wants the Democrats to nominate him as their candidate for the Presidency in 1908. Unfortunately Mr. Grant has never done anything to give himself rank above the ordinary men of the country, a fact of which he seems to be personally cognizant as he says "there are 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 men in this country any one of whom could fill the Presidential chair." He evidently desires to trade on his father's name, and his nomination would be the veriest burlesque. He is not a son in whom his father, if alive, could feel much pride. Another son of General Grant, however, Frederick D. Grant, is a general in the U. S. Army, in which he has served with some distinction. He is said to greatly resemble his father. He has been spoken of as a possible Republican candidate for the Presidency and there would be nothing absurd in his nomination.

An editorial article in the Advocate of the 12th inst. stated that there are in Maryland "60,000 negro votes controlled solidly by the Republican party" and that the Democratic party is composed of "men who pay a large part of the taxes to support the State government." Both of these statements are open to just criticism. The first is manifestly inaccurate, the number of registered colored voters in the State last year having been less than 50,000, of whom probably 25 per cent failed either to vote, or cast their ballots against Republican candidates. There is no means of estimating with accuracy the amount of taxes paid by members of either party in the State, but the statement of the Advocate is fairly open to the inference that, in its opinion, the Republicans, generally, are a class of non-property holders. Readers of the SENTINEL know whether that is true of themselves and their Republican neighbors and friends. There are large property values in counties in this State, such as Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, Carroll and others, in which the white Republicans are about as numerous as the Democrats. There is also a large white membership of the Republican party in Baltimore. In 1904, with a registered colored vote of less than 18,000 in that city, the Republicans polled about half of the 95,000 votes cast by the two parties. With these facts in view will the Advocate insist upon the accuracy of its statement that a "large part" of the taxes are paid by Democrats?

IS THE PARTY REDUCED TO THIS?

Referring to the recent Democratic conference in Baltimore the Evening News of Wednesday says:

> "The Democratic conference has come and gone, and the result is that the situation which it was designed to clear up has only been accentuated. That situation can be summed up almost in a word. The party is in crying need of a strong man as its candidate for the Governorship, and there is in the field one man, and only one man, who fills the bill. The question before the party is: Will it put up that man for its candidate?"

While this is a high compliment to Mr. Joseph D. Baker, of Frederick, who is the gentleman referred to by the News, it is a severe indictment of other prominent members of the Democratic party. There are, however, many Democrats in the State who do not believe that Mr. Baker, because of his pronounced hostility to the sale of liquor, is the strongest man who can be nominated. The liquor sellers contingent is a mighty agent in promoting Democratic success in this State, and it isn't particularly a good man whom the Democratic leaders want as their candidate, but one who can win out in the gubernatorial contest.

THE UNWRITTEN LAW.

The "unwritten law" is a phrase which has recently been widely discussed in the newspapers, the pulpits and privately in this country, and it is a healthy sign that the preponderance of sentiment seems to be against its recognition by courts and juries called upon to sit upon the trial of parties charged with homicide upon such provocation as in many cases has been judicially held to justify the killing. Outside of a limited district in Virginia few persons could be found who did not condemn the acquittal of Judge Loving of the murder of young Estes. But that was a case in which there were grave doubts whether the victim of the homicide was guilty of the offence for which he suffered death. The slayer, in that case, gave the man whom he murdered no opportunity to deny the offence with which he was charged, much less to show proof of innocence.

A later case in Maryland was that of a mother, indicted in Charles county for murdering the betrayer of her daughter. There was no doubt in that case about the wrong perpetrated by the victim of the mother's vengeance. She slew him and was aided and abetted in the murder by her son. The unwritten law was strongly appealed to in their defence and both were acquitted. There is no manner of doubt that public sentiment, if it did not approve the verdict, was strongly in sympathy with the accused. They had made frantic appeals to the man whom they killed to save the honor of the daughter and sister, but were flouted by him and goaded to desperation. Technically, at least, they were guilty of manslaughter, if not a higher grade of homicide, but the jury must have held that the killing was justifiable. And that was the question for the jury to decide. There is no law on the statute books of Maryland to justify it. It is not justified by the common law of England, which governs in this State in cases not covered by statute. Hence such verdicts in this State, which have become startlingly numerous elsewhere if not here, are predicated upon what has come to be known as the unwritten law, a sort of American common law, if law it can in anywise be called.

That the frequent repetition of such cases as that referred to has made homicide for other reasons than in self defence justifiable must be generally accepted as a fact. True, it is unwritten law, but the common law of England is also unwritten law, established by judicial decisions and not by acts of parliament, through a long series of years. Why, then, may not America have a common law, issuing out of a long series of such judgments as that referred to?

But against this unwritten law it is urged that its tendency is to beget disrespect for all law, and there is force in this objection. Undoubtedly in some sections this has been the unfortunate effect of permitting wronged individuals to take the law into their own hands and avenge wrongs for which no adequate punishment is prescribed by statute. But such a result has not followed the recognition of the unwritten law by the courts and juries of this State. Possibly that may be because of the comparative infrequency of such cases, and persons who denounce the infliction of individual vengeance upon those who have brought shame and disgrace upon the hearthstones and homes of the avengers may be right in such conclusions. This reasoning, however, will never satisfy any man who reverences virtue, when his own loved ones may be wronged, as long as the law fails to inflict adequate punishment upon the perpetrators of such wrongs.

And to the non-existence of any law to protect the homes and families of the people against the acts of licentious and impure men, may be attributed the inception and development of this unwritten law. It is surprising that with the passion for enacting new laws that has marked legislatures generally, no penalty of consequence has ever been embodied in any law for one of the grossest, vilest crimes of which men can be guilty; but it is not, because of the absence of such penalty, surprising that wronged fathers, husbands, brothers and even mothers—as in the recent Charles county case—take the law into their own hands and avenge their wrongs in the only way open to them, by killing the wrongdoers.

This fact ought to suggest to legislators the remedy for the unwritten law—we might say for its repeal. Let us have a law placed upon the statute books of Maryland providing that any man convicted of wronging a woman shall serve a term in the Penitentiary, and not a short one at that, and we will then be in a position to condemn the unwritten law and to punish the individual who shall resort to it to avenge such a wrong as is now made the pretext for adopting it.

Republican Editors Meet in Baltimore.

The annual meeting of the Republican Editorial Association of Maryland was held Wednesday morning at the Union League Club, on West Fayette street, Baltimore. The following officers were chosen for the year:

President—James P. Curley, Laurel Leader.
First Vice-President—C. O. Melvin, Pocomoke Ledger-Enterprise.
Second Vice-President—Geo. A. Davis, Hagerstown Herald.
Secretary—J. Guest King, Annapolis.
Treasurer—W. W. Burton, Ellicott City.

The executive committee will be named at the fall meeting in September. After the meeting the editors were the guests at luncheon of Mr. Thos. Parran, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, at the Hotel Rennert. Mr. Parran and the editors discussed the political situation in the State and talked over the policy to be pursued by the county press.

Railroad and Marine Disasters.

An excursion train carrying 1000 employees of the Pere Marquette Railroad from Ionia, Mich., to Detroit, on Saturday last, collided with a freight train and 32 of the excursionists were killed and 70 wounded, many of them severely. The collision occurred in consequence of the freight train's crew neglecting to obey orders to take a siding until the excursion train had passed.

Near midnight on Saturday night the passenger steamer Columbia and a steam lumber schooner collided in Shelter Cove, on the coast of California, and the Columbia sank in five minutes. Of her crew of 60 and 189 passengers 80 to 90 were drowned. They were asleep in their cabins and bunks when the collision occurred and were carried down in the sinking ship. The Columbia was bound from San Francisco to Portland, Ore.

The Maryland Homecoming Association was organized in Baltimore yesterday, to promote the success of the homecoming week, October 14 to 19.

WHO WILL IT BE?

It was generally supposed that the conference of Democrats, called by Senator Whyte and Murray Vandiver, upon the suggestion of Hon. Joshua W. Miles, would have picked a candidate to be nominated by the State convention for the Governorship, but it was without result in indicating who shall be selected to head the Democratic ticket in the approaching gubernatorial campaign.

Senator Whyte presided at the conference and there was much speech-making, in which Gov. Warfield, Ex-Governor Carroll, (who was defeated by J. Morrison Harris but was counted into the gubernatorial chair by Eugene Higgins), Ex-Governor Jackson, John P. Poe, De Warren H. Reynolds, G. Semmes Hammil, William Grove, E. Van Clagett, J. Mitchell Digges, B. Harris Camalier, Randolph Barton, Thos. H. Robinson, Lewin Wickes, Gen. Joseph B. Seth, Senator Wm. F. Applegarth, Dr. J. W. Hering, Hon. Joshua W. Miles, Ex-Mayor Latrobe, Senator Rayner and others participated. Ex-Gov. Frank Brown, John J. Mahon and other ring Democrats were conspicuous by their absence and Mr. Brown was sharply criticised by Ex-Gov. Carroll for his failure to take part in the conference.

Among those whose names were considered in connection with the nomination are Ex-Gov. Brown, Jos. D. Baker and Henry Williams. Harford county suggested Murray Vandiver as its choice and one of the speakers named Senator Whyte.

Ex-Gov. Jackson spoke against the nomination of Ex-Gov. Brown and said that while not considering Mr. Baker a sure winner, he would prefer him to the Ex Governor. It was hinted that Mr. Jackson would not be averse to receiving the nomination himself.

Garrett, Prince George's, Charles and St. Mary's counties' representatives expressed a preference for Ex-Governor Brown, and it is said that he is the real choice of the organization in Baltimore. The result of the conference, however, leaves the Democrats of the State as much at sea as ever regarding a gubernatorial candidate, as it does not appear that Mr. Brown has such a lead as to insure his nomination.

Gov. Warfield stirred up some ill-feeling by suggesting that some of the old hunkers who have made a business of politics and have fattened at the public crib for 30 years should realize that they have had their day and stand aside for new men. He said of himself that he has had his day and will return to the ranks satisfied with the honors already conferred upon him by the people.

Just what effect the action of the conference may have upon the fortunes of the campaign can hardly be determined. Democrats generally affect gratification at its outcome, and that, probably, because it wisely refrained from expressing a choice among the various aspirants. But, in fact, it practically amounted to nothing and the resolutions adopted were made up of stale platitudes without real meaning. Read between the lines they may be taken as offering a way of escape from an embarrassing dilemma, as it was soon discovered that there was no unity of feeling or general trend of opinion toward any one of the gentlemen named as a possible nominee. It seemed almost farcical for the conference to resolve that what the party needs in its candidate "is a union of strong moral and intellectual qualities with a vote getting popularity founded upon a personal magnetism, which will commend him to all classes of the people," and then to have failed utterly to agree that any one of the men under consideration possesses those qualities. Apparently the conference, which was an extra-political body with no real excuse for its existence, did nothing to aid the State convention in making selection of a proper candidate, and nobody has any more knowledge as to who will be nominated than was possessed before the meeting on Tuesday.

VETERANS PLAN FOR ENCAMPMENT.

Commander Fred C. Tarr, of the Department of Maryland, Grand Army of the Republic, has issued "General Orders No. 6," relative to the participation of Maryland veterans in the forty-first national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held September 9 to 14 next at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. The are in full as follows:

First—In connection with Circular Letter, No. 2, dated July 1, 1907, from National Headquarters, G. A. R., the following is published in orders, as affecting directly the Department of Maryland, G. A. R., en route to and attending the Forty-first National Encampment, G. A. R., to be held at Saratoga, N. Y., September 9 to 14, 1907.

The railroad fare from Baltimore, Md., to Saratoga Springs, N. Y., is established at $8.85 for the round-trip; tickets will be good going, September 7 to 9, and returning, until September 17; tickets must be validated at Saratoga by special railroad agent.

If required, the original purchaser of the ticket can have it extended, good to return until September 25, by depositing same with special railroad agent at Saratoga before September 17, and paying a fee of $1.

Tickets are good to return by the day boats from Troy and Albany to New York city. Under special arrangement the boats will accept the railroad coupons for passage.

Second—This department will leave Baltimore on special train over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad (Camden Station) on Sunday morning, September 8, at 7.40 o'clock and proceed direct to Saratoga Springs, N. Y., without change of cars, arriving Sunday evening.

Third—The headquarters of the Department of Maryland, G. A. R., will be established at the Hotel Margaret, in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where there are accommodations for about 80 persons.

Fourth—This hotel's rates are, where two persons occupy a room, $2.50 per day each; where three or more persons are in one room, $2 per day each.

These rooms will be assigned on the principle of "first come, first served," after reserving those required for department headquarters, staff, delegates and Woman's Relief Corps.

TOUR OF THE A. A. A.

The tour of the American Automobile Association from Cleveland, Ohio, to New York, via South Bend, Ind.; Chicago, Ills.; Indianapolis, Ind., Columbus, Ohio; Pittsburg and Bedford Springs, Pa.; Baltimore and Philadelphia, and New York, 1570 miles, ended on Wednesday. The machines which made the entire run, to the number of 47 or 48, passed through this city, widely scattered, on Tuesday morning. Ten or twelve additional autos, not on the run, accompanied the contestants for some distance during the day.

For the third consecutive year the Buffalo Auto Club team of five took possession of the Glidden trophy, scoring 981 4 5 points in the tour. The Pittsburg team of four was second.

For the Hower trophy for runabouts G. F. Smith and H. K. Sheridan were tied, both having perfect scores. The cars of these two men will meet in a run to decide the winner.

The final run was from Philadelphia to New York, the cars parading up Broadway, headed by Mrs. Cuneo, who made the complete journey. The motorists were greeted by a crowd and many enthusiastic automobilists accompanied them on the final day's run through New Jersey.

Mrs. Cuneo, who handled her own auto, was well up in points to the leaders until she broke a tire and bent an axle on the run from Bedford Springs to Baltimore. The damage was repaired and she reached Baltimore late Monday night. It is said that she is making or intends to make a nonstop run from New York to the Jamestown Exposition.

LONG LIVE THE KING!

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throat after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by all Druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Deer Park (M. P.) Sunday School will hold their annual picnic on Saturday, August 31. If weather is unfavorable it will be held following Monday. Pleasant Valley Band will furnish music.

DIED.

In Baltimore, July 22nd, 1907, Marie Lillian, only daughter of Richard and Heilinia Radcliffe, aged 6 years and 7 months.

In sad but loving remembrance of my wife, Mary C. Parrish, who departed this life July 18th, 1907, aged 57 years, 2 months, 21 days.

Why should we wish her back again,
When she suffered so long with pain?
And while she rests in peaceful sleep,
Her sacred memory we shall always keep.
Loved in life; in death remembered.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

In the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting as a Court of Equity.

NO. 4357 EQUITY.

Mary S. A. Beaver, Plaintiff, vs. William N. Beaver, Defendant.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree granting the plaintiff a divorce a vinculo matrimonii from the defendant.

The bill states that on December 26, 1894, the plaintiff was married to the defendant, at Westminster, Carroll County, in the State of Maryland, and that they lived together as husband and wife in Carroll County until the first day of September, 1901.

That the plaintiff was always kind, affectionate, faithful and chaste toward her husband, the defendant, and that without any just cause or reason the defendant abandoned and deserted her and has declared his intention to live with her no longer and that said abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than five years, and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

That before and since said abandonment of the plaintiff by the said defendant, he, the said defendant, committed the crime of adultery with women who were, and with women who were not, inmates of houses of prostitution in the City of Baltimore, in the State of Maryland, and the City of Philadelphia in the State of Pennsylvania.

That the plaintiff did not discover or learn of the said adulterous acts of the said defendant until after he had abandoned her.

That the plaintiff and defendant have no children.

That the said defendant fled the State of Maryland about five years ago and is now a non-resident of the same.

It is thereupon, this 18th day of July, A. D. 1907, ordered by the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting as a Court of Equity, that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Carroll county, in the State of Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 19th day of August, 1907, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 9th day of September next, to show cause, if any he have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

ONLY FOUR DAYS MORE OF OUR
JULY CLEARANCE SALE

ALL the items advertised for the past three weeks at reduced prices will be continued at those prices until sold out (except domestic cotton goods.) These we are compelled to advance soon to their value as the prices are going up; indications are that they will be higher than they have been since the Civil War. Looks as if Calicoes and Apron Ginghams will sell for 10c a yard, and if the trust so desires they can make Spool Cotton 10c a spool. Carpets will be higher, and there is hardly anything throughout the store, as well as in other lines of business but that will be higher, unless there is an EARLY REVISION OF THE TARIFF, and we are frank to say this should be done, as the only way to break up the trust evil is to lower the duties and let in foreign competition, especially in such cases where the trusts have made a MONOPOLY of their line. The people should demand for a tariff for revenue which shall be large enough to equal the difference in the cost of production, here and abroad, that will not injure American industries or IMPAIR THEIR POWER TO PAY GOOD WAGES, so that when these MONOPOLIES exact UNFAIR PRICES they should be confronted with foreign competition. This will break up the trust evil and the consumer is finding this out. The above is a business fact and not written for political purposes.
