My Mining
I have searched your Office but cannot find your Keys, I searched
the different places
you mentioned
but not Mother Pocket Book
nor find them

My dear Fanny
I received your letter this evening & am glad to hear of your safe arrival, though your home is an uncomfortable one just at present. I do hope I may find your missing keys, I will search every place that your room early tomorrow morning & should I find them will send them by express at once. The loss of them as Father too, the change would cheer them up & do them good. Please give my love to Fanny

it seems quite too bad that she should leave Aunt Rosina just as you settle down, & Anna too you must come back to Boston, to return on Sat-urday, leaving Effie with her Mother - Chester has come in, & desires his love, says there is nothing new respecting patients.
He will be glad to see you whenever you feel as though you could come on again. With love to Father if not you when this reaches
