and I did not succeed in getting her to sleep for a good while so now I will bid you good night. Wednesday Morning. The little shirt fits ~~to~~ very nicely and I should be very glad to have more as they shrink very soon I think it would be as well to make the ~~xxx~~ next rather larger as she is growing very fast and I shall not need any more until I come to you. Henry has just been in to ask me to let you know that he is coming and that he would like to know how much money he has in the saving fund he wants to know in case any thing happens to him how much he has to leave to his wife and children and now dear Mother. I must bid you goodbye as little Mary is waiting for me

As ever Your affec daughter
