NOTE.—Guy W. Steele, Esq., received 2 votes for Surveyor in Hampstead district.

A Principle Triumphant.

Naturally Republicans rejoice at the election of Mr. Jeremiah Belt Townshend as sheriff, but the real ground for rejoicing is not merely the election of an individual. Mr. Townshend won and Mr. Gettier lost not as individuals alone. Mr. Gettier's defeat is not entirely a personal defeat, nor Mr. Townshend's victory entirely a personal victory. Mr. Townshend wins not alone as a Republican. Mr. Gettier loses not alone as a Democrat. It was recognized that each represented a principle. The one was the representative not alone of the Democratic party but also of the liquor power in Maryland. The Liquor Dealers' Association of the State was interested in his candidacy, and through its members in this county did what it could to secure his election. Mr. Townshend was the representative of that sentiment which is increasing from day to day all over our land, which stands for the home against the saloon, for the restriction of the liquor traffic and, wherever public sentiment is sufficiently strong for their enforcement, for the passage of prohibitive laws.

CAMPAIGN ECHOES.

Franklin district did nobly. What became of that majority for Beasman so confidently expected? And that organized opposition to Townshend, where did it go glimmering? Did Jeff Hooper and Alexander go fox hunting this time?

Chairman R. Wesley Barnes is to be congratulated on his efficient management of the campaign and especially for the work done in his own district.

Did you hear from Taneytown? Mr. Reindollar's majority was a reminder of the days of old. The demonstration of such confidence on the part of his neighbors and those who best know his worth must be a source of greater gratification than would be the election to any office by the vote of partisans.

Mr. Jacob P. Beam's vote in the old fourth and all over the county was a well deserved compliment to a worthy man.

Just as Mr. Leatherwood's defeat is a tribute to his worth, so the organized and persistent effort to cut Mr. Bushey demonstrated his strength and the opposing party's fear of his election.

Mr. Jacob B. Lynerd was a great campaigner. He made friends wherever he traveled. He is only 16 votes behind Mr. Snader, has 16 more votes than Mr. Norris, and had he received 25 more Democratic votes would have defeated Mr. Frederick.

Mr. R. Smith Snader proved to be one of the best campaigners on the ticket. He was on the go all the time and deserves the victory which he won.

Mr. Joseph Englar has no cause for regret. His neighbors and friends showed their confidence in him and their approval of his nomination by giving him their loyal support.

Mr. Unger made a host of friends wherever he went, and he went everywhere and was going all the time. A quiet, unassuming gentleman, his sterling worth was recognized by political enemies as well as by his friends.

Mr. Stocksdale worked like a veteran, increased the esteem in which he is held by those who know him best and added to the number of his friends. He is not ready to say with David that all men are liars, but has learned that a promise does not always mean a vote.

Mr. Townshend won and deserved to win for three reasons: on the ground of personal merit, because he represented not himself alone but also a principle, and for his loyal and whole hearted support of the whole Republican ticket.

Mr. Ira G. Lawyer led his ticket in his home district, ran well all over the county, and would have been elected if he had received 27 more Democratic votes in the county.

Only ten votes short. Just a little more effort and Mr. J. N. O. Smith would be one of the Judges of the Orphans' Court.

No Democratic county in Maryland made such a good showing for the Republican ticket as did Carroll. Every candidate contributed to this result. Though nominated for a minor office Mr. Roop did some effective campaigning.

The county and State and every right thinking citizen is to be congratulated upon the fidelity with which all who entered into the anti-bribery agreement stood by the compact.

Thanks are due from the SENTINEL to many friends; to its correspondents for their patience in seeing their letters crowded out by political matter; to its friends all over the county, who on election night sent in the returns so promptly and efficiently; to those who spent the night in our editorial rooms and assisted in tabulating the vote, and to many others.

Between 1500 and 1600 hundred copies of the SENTINEL have been sent out during the campaign to non-subscribers, with the compliments of the Republican County Central Committee. To each one who has received it THE AMERICAN SENTINEL COMPANY has addressed a letter asking him to become a regular subscriber.

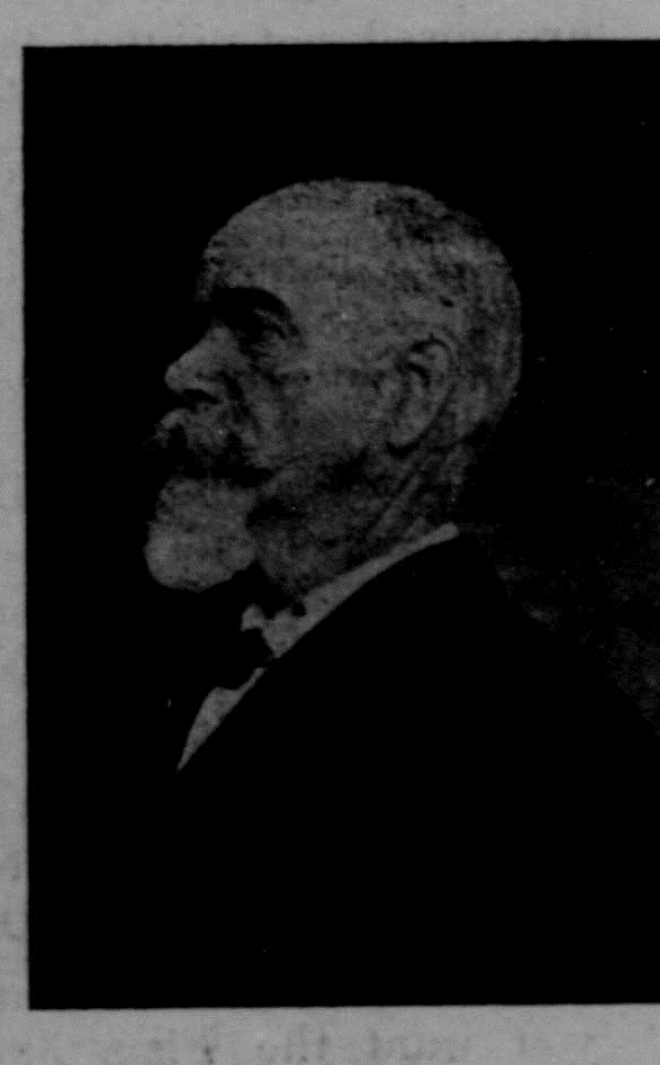
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Honored by Defeat.



Some strange tricks were played by the ballots on Tuesday, in Carroll county, and none more strange than that which gave Mr. Francis J. Leatherwood, Republican candidate for the Orphans' Court judgeship, the lowest place on his party's ticket. Mr. Leatherwood is one of the very best men named by either party as a candidate at this election, not only a man of purest character, but a man of sound intelligence and peculiarly qualified for the position for which his party nominated him.

There is a sense in which Mr. Leatherwood's defeat should be to him sweeter than victory, for it is a higher tribute to his worth than could have been paid by any ordinary majority, for his defeat is the recognition of his merit. It is well known by the Democrats that all was not harmony in their camp, that within the party there was a determined purpose on the part of some to prevent the election of Mr. W. L. Richards, one of its candidates for the Orphans' Court. By reason of the fact that Mr. Leatherwood is also a resident of the lower part of the county, it was thought that he would be Mr. Richards' most formidable antagonist, and he was therefore made the point of attack everywhere for the purpose of saving Mr. Richards.

So Passes Gov. Warfield.

In the senatorial primaries held by the Democrats on Tuesday Ex-Gov. John Walter Smith was easily a winner. The number of aspirants had been reduced to three—Mr. Smith, Gov. Warfield and Congressman Talbott. Gov. Warfield bid high for the support of the organization Democrats. During the campaign his eulogies of Mr. Crothers were almost fulsome and he well nigh exceeded the extremist organization leader in his praises of the Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Metaphorically speaking, he fell down and worshipped the nominee of the machine. At the heel of the hunt he gave the lie to all his protestations of a purpose to enforce a fair election by removing any supervisor guilty of trickery. Yet when a case involving the grossest wrong in Somerset county came before him upon a complaint against the supervisors, who were having a fake independent Republican ticket printed on the official ballot, he upheld the wrongd-oers against the opinion of Attorney General Bryan, based upon judicial decisions in similar cases. But his subserviency to the machine politicians at the last moment did not help his senatorial candidacy and he went down to the defeat which he so richly deserved on account of his recreancy to the high principles which he had professed and, in a large measure, exemplified during his administration until led astray by personal ambition. He carried a few counties, including Carroll, but in his own county, Howard, was beaten by Mr. Smith. It is a matter of sincere regret that his fair official record should have been so besmirched in its closing weeks, simply to gratify an overweening personal ambition to go up higher. Instead he may rest assured that he has fallen very much in the estimation of a large number of citizens who admired him personally and believed in the sincerity of his professions of abhorrence of political trickery.

Elections in other States.

New Jersey held an election for Governor and members of the Legislature on Tuesday. First returns indicated a Democratic victory, but later it was ascertained that Judge Fort, the Republican candidate for Governor, was elected by 7,000 majority and that the Republicans will have 14 members of the Senate, and the Democrats 7. To the lower branch the Republicans elected 40 and the Democrats 20.

New York elected several judges of the Court of Appeals who had the support of Republicans and Democrats against the Hearst party. Tammany Democrats carried New York City by 26,000 plurality for city officers, a meagre showing. This small Tammany plurality was caused by the Hearst party.

In Cleveland, O., Tom Johnson was re-elected Mayor over Burton, Republican by upward of 9,000. Apparently party politics had little to do with the election, purely local issues having dominated the campaign.

In Virginia the Republicans gained three or four members in the Legislature.

Pennsylvania elected Sheatz, Republican, State Treasurer, by 175,000 plurality.

Kentucky elected Augustus E. Willson, Republican, Governor by 14,000 plurality and Grimstead, Republican, was elected Mayor of Louisville, by nearly 5,000. The Legislature is close and in doubl, but is probably Democratic by a small majority.

The Democrats re-elected Higgins, Governor of Rhode Island, but the Legislature is Republican.

Massachusetts elected a Republican Governor and a Republican majority in the Legislature.

SENSELESS PANICS.

A colonel of a regiment, who was in the war from 1861 to 1865, says that the worst panic his command experienced in three years of service was when an old blind horse strayed into the bivouac one night and kicked over some stacked guns, and that the men had a good joke on themselves forever after. The recent financial fright was just as foolish, but not a joke. Because there was "something in the air," a few depositors in banks in New York became rattled and made a plunge to withdraw their money. Others caught the infection of fear and as a result a number of New York banking institutions were compelled to close their doors. The depositors did not want the money for current uses, but just to feel it in their pockets to be sure that it was safe. Safe, forsooth, is it as safe out of the bank as in it? If they keep it in the house or about the person fire may destroy it or thieves break through and steal, the pocket may be picked or it may be lost. If kept in an ordinary safe, burglars will profit. The St. Louis Globe Democrat sensibly remarks: "If a food famine were impending there would be ground for alarm. If employment were scarce wages poor and industries closing down a thoughtful concern for the future would be justified. Nothing of the kind is in sight, The American people are busy and doing well. Nature in its harvests rewards them amply, and there is not the slightest sign of a failure in this respect." A San Francisco paper says: "There is just as much money in the country as ever there was. There is just as much property as ever. The land and the mines are just as productive. Upon the whole there were never so many people before, who are free from debt." If San Francisco feels cheerful, the rest of the country should be calm and confident. The way to insure the continuance of the present prosperity is not by taking money out of the banks, but by putting it in.

MARYLAND ELECTION.

The election in this State, on Tuesday, resulted in a Democratic victory of about the usual extent in purely State contests. The Republicans made a gallant fight but were unable to bring votes enough to the polls to counterbalance the trick ballots and other devices by which so many voters in the State have been disfranchised. The following table gives the unofficial vote counted for State candidates. Many thousands of ballots were rejected, the number in Baltimore alone having been 16,000, of which two-thirds, it is said, were intended to be voted for the Republican candidates.

These figures may be changed by the official count which, however, will probably not vary materially therefrom, so that a plurality approximating 9,000 may be set down to the credit of the Democratic State ticket.

Of course this carries with it a large majority of Democrats in both branches of the Legislature. It is probable that at least two-thirds of each House will be of that political complexion.

Carroll county elects three Democrats and one Republican to the House of Delegates, the successful Republican being Mr. R. Smith Snader, of New Windsor district. The defeated Democratic candidate is Dr. Norris, of Freedom district.

The Republicans were also successful in electing their candidate for another important office—sheriff of the county—Mr. J. Belt Townshend having defeated Mr. William H. Gettier, the Democratic candidate, by 302 majority.

The official return, showing the full vote for each candidate, in all the precincts, will be found in the table elsewhere published in the SENTINEL.
