So much space was taken up by the official ballot, published during the two weeks immediately preceding the election, that most of our county correspondence and other news matter was, of necessity, excluded. Our correspondents may have considered this discourteous, but it was impossible to find space for their letters. Every effort will be made to avoid such a condition in the future.

The home of Dr. and Mrs. James H. Frazer, 1412 Eutaw Place, Baltimore, was the scene of a very interesting reunion on Tuesday, when Mrs. Frazer and her four brothers—Capt. The shops at Hagerstown, if newspaper correspondents have not exaggerated the story, cover an area of 25 acres, all the buildings are of brick, with concrete foundations and 63 arc lights have been introduced to light them at night.

The venerable Elder Wm. Cassell, of Arcanum, Ohio, a minister of the German Baptist Brethren's Church, is still suffering from the effects of a serious accident sustained September 25. He is reported as now doing fairly well. He is in his 82nd year. He formerly resided in this county and grew to manhood in the family of the late John Myers.

A full account of the execution of Royal Fowler, in the Penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio, on Friday morning last, for the murder of Mamie Hagerty, at Dayton, Ohio, will be found on the first page of the SENTINEL this week. The young man left here when he was a lad and went with his mother to Dayton, Ohio, where she still lives and is known as Mrs. Arnold. He returned to Maryland for a short time some years ago and went from here to Chambersburg, Pa., where he married. Mr. Wantz Leads.

Mr. C. Fisher Wantz, of this city, son of Mr. Chas. V. Wantz, took a strong lead in the amateur billiard tournament, now in progress at Klein's Parlors. Baltimore, by winning two straight games last night. The Sun of this morning says that Mr. Wantz surprised everyone by his consistent and strong open table play. Mr. Wantz has won four games and lost none. His nearest competitor has won two and lost none. There are ten contestants, and consequently the tournament will not end for some time. Rip Van Winkle.

"May you all live long and prosper." Those who had the pleasure of witnessing Mr. John E. L. Hanna's rendering of Rip Van Winkle at his former appearance at Odd Fellows' Hall, this city, will be glad to learn that he will again be on the boards on Thursday evening, November 21st., and those who failed to see and hear him then, that they will now have the opportunity of witnessing his interpretation of the play made famous by Joe Jefferson. Mr. Hanna has unusual dramatic power for an amateur and his former appearance won him many laurels. The performance will be for the benefit of the primary department of the Methodist Protestant Sunday School, and the character of the entertainment and the worthy cause for which it is given insure a large audience. Mr. Hanna will be supported by some of the best local talent.

Visits Old Home.

The Republican News, Hamilton, Ohio, of the 22d inst., published a long and interesting letter from Maryland, written by Mr. Joseph Ditman, of Oxford, Ohio. Mr. Ditman is a former resident of this county, and came east October 1st, to visit his old home. In his letter to the News, after describing his trip and his arrival at the home of his brother, "Mr. Louis Ditman, a veteran of the civil war, who entered the Federal service in the beginning of the war and saw and felt the brunt of many battles," he briefly narrates the history of Carroll county, and describes its many advantages.

Among other interesting things to which his attention was attracted is a cherry tree, owned by Mr. John Polster, of Shipley, which is valued at more than $100. He says that in 1906 it bore a crop of more than 25 bushels of fine wax cherries. Another tree attracting his attention was a chestnut tree at Salem. Mr. Ditman measured it, and found it, at three feet from the ground, eighteen feet and seven inches in circumference. Mr. Ditman says: "When we arrived farmers were busy hauling sweet corn to the factories in Westminster. Farmers here all drive from four to six horses to their big wagons. This looks strange to us, who are used to only two-horse teams."

For the Sentinel.

A Pleasant Day In Westminster.

In answer to the cordial invitation of Mrs. Samuel Herr the members of Stone Chapel Mite Society enjoyed a rare treat at her hospitable home in Westminster on Saturday, the 26th ult. The weather was beautiful, nature lending her help also to make the day a memorable one to the ladies of Stone Chapel.

Our kind hostess greeted us in her usual cordial manner, and after removing our wraps we were conducted to one of the parlors where amid works of art and everything beautiful we enjoyed the rendition of a program the excellence of which can only be known by one who had the pleasure of being present.

The following program was rendered: Instrumental solo, Louise Matthews; vocal solo, Rock me to sleep, Mildred Buckingham; reading, Azalea Shipley; vocal solo, Miss Marianna Gehr; The Sniggles Family.—Mrs. Sniggles, Florence Morgan; the Coquette, Anna Robertson; the Giggler, Lillian Shipley; the Hay Fever Patient, Agnes Gorsuch; the Aesthete, Marguerite Stem; the Prima Donna, Anna Yingling; the Pathetic Soul, Alberta Anders; the Elocutor, Grace Steele; the Graceful Girl, Fannie Jones; vocal solo, Miss Addie Manahan; talks of climbing the high places of Europe, Mrs. Rider; piano accompanist, Miss Test Buckingham.

Everyone rendered their parts admirably and we were perfectly enchanted with the talks of Mrs. Rider. The beautiful description made us wish we had been there too.

Our enchantment was broken by our hostess inviting us to the dining room, where we were seated at a table where all enjoyed the delicacies of the season after which the late hour of the afternoon bade us say good bye to our hostess hoping that these tokens of love and friendship may never be forgotten and that "we will still be joined in heart," and hope to meet again.

Our hostess was assisted in receiving her guests by her daughter, Miss Test Buckingham, and relative, Miss Mary Buckingham, and also Mrs. Laura Sellman and others.
