Mr. Wm. Ellison, an employee of Mr. J. C. Hull, near Krider's (St. Benjamin's) Church, near this city, while carrying milk to the dairy on Wednesday accidentally fell and fractured both bones of his right leg an inch above the ankle joint. The fracture was adjusted by Dr. M. L. Bott, of this city. Its close proximity to the ankle may cause some stiffness of the joint.

On Monday evening a bundle of sheet iron, which weighed 1800 pounds, tumbled from a pile at the store of the Westminster Hardware Company, and striking the manager, Mr. Nathan Albert, knocked him down and fell on his legs, inflicting painful bruises. It took five men to lift the bundle from the prostrate manager. Dr. S. Luther Bare is giving Mr. Albert's injuries the necessary treatment.

In the advertising columns of the SENTINEL, Mr. Chas. V. Wantz, offers a reward of fifty dollars for information, leading to the arrest and conviction of the parties who robbed his slot machines, on Thursday night. On Wednesday night an outrageous act of vandalism was committed at Mr. Joseph L. Mathias' marble yard, this city. An urn was thrown from the top of one of the monuments and broken into fragments. The perpetrators of the outrage were seen by a lady, who while failing to recognize them individually, saw that they were three young negro girls. She says that they pushed over the urn and ran away so quickly that there was not time to give the alarm. The loss to Mr. Mathias is at least $10.

Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The Thanksgiving Day parade of the Westminster Fire Department, Co. H, First Regiment M. N. G., and the First Regiment Band was in every way a success and was much appreciated by our citizens, with whom all these organizations are very popular. The Fire Department, Mr. John H. Mitten marshal, with 25 men, occupied the right of the line, drawing their four wheeled hose carriage, and accompanied by the Junior Department with its miniature truck. Company H, Captain Weigle, with 29 men, headed by the Band with full ranks, acted as the military escort. Both firemen and soldiers have received many compliments, and, as always, the Band delighted all along the line of march, which covered the entire city.

Improved Order Of Heptasophs.

Western Maryland Conclave of this order opened its campaign for this season's work by holding a rousing big meeting in Mechanics' Hall, on Main street, on Tuesday, 26th inst., when more than half the members were present and partook of the good things prepared for them.

They organized their advancement committee and the first thing they did was to propose that the conclave hold an open meeting the last week in January, when they will invite their lady friends to attend with them and hear Bro. W. L. Loser lecture on the subject that has made him famous, "The Dark Side Of New York," with illustrations. Bro. Loser has been lecturing in Pennsylvania for some time and they never seem to tire of this subject.

Bro. L. T. Robinson, the deputy, was present and spoke to the members and they promised that they would get to work and see that this conclave did some fine work during the winter.

After the meeting refreshments were served, consisting of oysters and coffee, with plenty of good cigars.

Sykesville's Coming Carnival.

The merchants of Sykesville and the farmers of the adjacent counties of Carroll and Howard will hold their second annual carnival at Sykesville on December 10, 11 and 12. It will consist of a trades display, farm and household exhibits and a poultry show.

For years Sykesville has had a corn and pumpkin show each fall, but last year it outgrew its former limits and was given the more pretentious name carnival. Regardless of name, it is looked forward to as the event of the season, and will no doubt attract visitors for miles around.

The size of the pumpkins and the length of the corn have increased each year. This section of Maryland is noted for its yellow ear corn, and these shows have done much to bring it up to the present high standard. Besides the exhibits, there will be two lectures daily by prominent agriculturists.

Over $500 will be distributed in awards. Besides, several loving cups and numerous special premiums will be given as incentives for good exhibits. The prettiest girl and the best baby also figure in the awards. The show is under the auspices of the Merchants and Farmers' Carnival Association, of which the officers are: President, Wade H. D. Warfield; secretary, Harry M. Phelps; treasurer, George Schrade.

District Lodge No. 4 met in the Hall of Enterprise Lodge, I. O. G. T., on Saturday, 23rd inst., with District Templar Rev. C. P. Nowlin presiding. The afternoon session was very largely attended and was very interesting. Mr. C. C. Lawson, of Browingsville, the Grand C. T., was present and gave us the pleasure of listening to his fine musical voice by singing a solo. His daughter also gave a very pleasing recitation. The next meeting will be held at Long Corner in February.

Miss M. E. Gillis, who recently returned from a visit to Hagerstown, is visiting relatives in this place.

Patapsco Items.

We had a light skiff of snow here on Sunday and on account of the wet weather our farmers have been delayed with their farm work, and there is still some corn husking to be done.

The butchering season is at hand, and, though some of it was done last week, we have not as yet heard of any big weights. We expect to hear of some good ones in the near future.

Mr. Harold Spencer has moved on his farm, known as the Rausch property, and Mr. Sa[illegible] Beam has moved to the farm [illegible] by Mr. Spencer, purchased from him by Mr. Beam some time ago.

Prizes Won.

The Miller Bros. Co. is in receipt of letters from the Curtis Publishing Company, announcing the fact that they have captured two prizes offered by the Ladies' Home Journal. That publication offers each month, a prize for the best advertisement and also for the best window display. Both these prizes were won by the Miller Bros. Co. last month, $10 for the advertisement and $5 for the window display. The advertisement was written by Mr. Fred D. Miller, president of the company, and appeared in the SENTINEL of October 25, announcing their sale of the Ladies' Home Journal and the Ladies' Home Journal patterns. The window display, a photograph of which was taken and sent to the Ladies' Home Journal, winning the $5 prize, was made by their young trimmer, Mr. Vernon Crouse, who is only sixteen years old.

This is very creditable for our Westminster firm as they came into competition with all the large retail stores throughout the United States, who handle the Ladies' Home Journal patterns.

Rip Van Winkle.

The portrayal of the joys and sorrows of old Rip and the presentation of the life of the villagers of Falling Water by Mr. John E. L. Hanna and his amateur company, delighted the large audience assembled in Odd Fellows Hall, on Thursday night of last week. In the first scene at Rory Van Clump's (Mr. D. Snider Babylon) tavern, in the village, Rip's drinking bout with his friends, Diederich Van Slaus (Dr. J. E. Shreeve,) Peter Clausen (T. W. Mather, Jr.,) and Derrick Von Beekman (F. W. Mather,) the entry of Dame Van Winkle (Miss Eugenia Geiman,) who comes seeking her recreant husband, his hiding behind the table, with his arms round his little daughter Lowena (Marie Shaw,) and the triumphant exit of the termagent wife with her vagabond husband were vividly realistic. The plotting of Diederich and his son Herman (G. H. Armacost) to secure the fortune in prospect for Lowena introduced the necessary villain and prepared the way for the proper finale. The tribulations of the lovers, Alice Van Winkle, Rip's sister, (Miss Evelyn Rinker) and Knickerbocker, the schoolmaster (S. S. Wilson) the tenderness of Rip toward his little daughter and her playmate Gustave Van Clump (Richard Roop,) the laying of the foundation for the defeat of the villainy of Herman Van Slaus, the giving way of the patience of Dame Van Winkle and her casting out of her husband into the storm gave abundant opportunity for the display of the histrionic talent of Mr. Hanna and Miss Geiman, and won for the children Marie and Richard the hearts of the spectator[illegible]ne in the Catskill Mountains wh[illegible] Rip meets the Brownies, his giving way to his appetite for schnapps, his falling asleep and reawakening after twenty years, showed Mr. Hanna at his very best, and the audience testified its approval and appreciation by both generous applause, when applause was the natural order, and intense silence when the old man, with hair unkempt and garments falling from him in tattered rags, aroused their symathies by the pathos of his sorrows. The finale in which Rip comes again to his own, the overthrow of the machinations of the villain, the triumph of the lovers Gustave (D. Snider Babylon) and Lowena (Miss Azalea Shipley) was a strong presentation of a striking climax. All the parts were well taken. Mr. Hanna pictured the vagabond of the Catskills in such manner as to cause the audience to wish that it might see him in the character on a larger stage and with a better setting. His support was excellent throughout, and Miss Geiman, first as Rip's shrewish wife, and then as the subdued and gentle spouse of Van Slaus, sustaining two characters so dissimilar, shared with the star the honors of the evening.

Beautiful Window Display.

Several of the merchants of this city have made their show windows very attractive this week, their decorations being in harmony with the Thanksgiving season. The most elaborately decorated window is that of the Miller Bros. Co., where a completely furnished dining room is shown, with tables set with fine linen and china. Seated at table is the handsomely gowned "lady of the house" with her little girl, while waiting upon them is the maid suitably costumed, all the figures being of life size. The decorations of the windows of the Babylon Lippy Co., while not so elaborate, are in keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit and very attractive. In one of the windows is a large basket of autumn fruits and vegetables, and one can almost expect to hear a gobble-gobble from the miniature turkey that looks as if he were going to step upon the life sized pumpkin pie in the foreground. A beautiful display of table linen and table wood completes the picture. While T. W. Mather & Sons' windows present no special Thanksgiving significance, one of them is particularly attractive with its display of swell blue fabrics, draped in pleasing folds, in various shades, blending in perfect harmony of coloring. The other window has been turned into a picture gallery, filled from top to bottom with copies of many noted paintings. The windows of Cassell, the jeweler, are specially attractive at night, when the electric lights, flashing from the facets of cut glass, fill them with sparkling radiance, and bring out all the beauties of the jeweled novelties set in pleasing array,

After this week the stores of the city will be kept open at night until after Christmas.

Distressing Suicide.

Mrs. Hannah Baker, widow of the late Joseph Baker, of Frederick county, committed suicide by hanging herself to a bedpost, at her home in New Windsor, on Tuesday afternoon. Her lifeless body was found between four and five o'clock by Miss Hannah Shunk, a public school teacher, who made her home with her. Mrs. Baker, whose age was 72 years, 8 months and 11 days, had been in ill health for several months and was very despondent and, probably, mentally affected by disease. She was an estimable woman, a member of the M. E. Church at New Windsor and a sincere Christian, respected and honored by all who knew her. She leaves an only son, Mr. John Baker, of Oak Orchard; one grandson, Mr. Edward Baker, of Baltimore, and one great granddaughter, Lillian Baker, child of the latter. An only brother, Mr. George W. Devilbiss, of New Windsor district, also survives her. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, her pastor, Rev. L. E. Bennett, officiating, and her remains were interred in the private family burial ground, on the old Baker homestead in Frederick county, near Oak Orchard. The pallbearers were her nephews, Messrs. Grant Devilbiss, Howard Devilbiss, John H. Roop, Clarence Ensor, Edward Stem and William Gorsuch. Mr. Harvey Bankard was funeral director.

At their recent meeting the stockholders reelected Mr. Griswold president and elected Mr. Mitten secretary and treasurer. He was also elected treasurer of the Lake Drummond Towing company. Mr. Mitten is now making a tour of inspection of the canal property through the Dismal Swamp and the waters of North Carolina.

Judge Thomas' Successor.

The Baltimore American says that when Governor Warfield was asked whether he had decided upon an appointment in the Fifth Judical Circuit, he replied there was no vacancy to fill.

"Judge Thomas is still officiating, and until he qualifies as chief judge there is no vacancy," said he. Continuing, the Governor said: "Perhaps this appointment, will be left to my successor," meaning, of course, that Judge Thomas will not qualify until the incoming governor is inaugurated."

Mr. John W. Wilson, proprietor of the Mt. Airy Hotel, died at his home in Mt. Airy, on Monday morning last, as the result of injuries received from the explosion of a boiler in the West Falls Creamery, which was owned and conducted by him in connection with the hotel business. The accident occurred on November 12th, when Mr. Wilson was badly scalded and burned. He was a son of the late William Wilson, near Linganore, Frederick county. He was a comparatively young man, only 39 years old, a progressive and useful citizen, esteemed by all who knew him, and deep sorrow is felt at his untimely demise. Dr. Samuel F. Thomas.

Dr. Samuel Franklin Thomas, 66 years old, formerly city health officer and one of the best known druggists of Frederick, died suddenly of paralysis of the heart last Friday night. He had been at his drug store in the evening and returned home apparently in good health. Shortly before he died he complained to his wife of feeling unwell and a few minutes later, as he was sitting in a chair expired.

He was a son of the late Col. John B. Thomas and was born near Adamstown, Frederick county. During the war he was a member of the famous White's Battalion, Confederate Cavalry. At the close of the war he studied medicine and was graduated from the University of Maryland. After practicing for a year he opened the first regular drug store in Rockville, Md., and later engaged in business in Poolesville and Sharpsburg. He came to Frederick about 38 years ago and had since resided there.

For many years he had been commander of Alexander Young Camp of Confederate Veterans and was among the few remaining Confederate veterans in Frederick who served throughout the war. An Automobile Case.

An interesting automobile case was tried before Police Justice Edwin W. Shriver, of this city, on Friday last, involving the construction of the law requiring persons running automobiles to stop at the roadside when meeting horses or teams which show signs of fright at the machines. The case was that of the State against Wm. D. Arrison and Frank L. Carter, of the Carter Motor Car Corporation of Washington, D. C. On October 2nd the defendants were passing through Mt. Airy, each running an automobile, when the four-horse team of Mr. Wm. F. Cashour was met on the street. The testimony showed that the horses exhibited signs of restiveness and the defendants ran their machines to the side of the street and halted. That when the team, which was driven by Mr. Cashour, reached a point opposite the car occupied by Mr. Arrison the latter prepared to start and, in doing so, caused a noise to be made by the steam, which frightened the horses and they ran away. That both Mr. Arrison and Mr. Carter left their machines standing and ran as rapidly as possible to the assistance of Mr. Cashour, who suffered considerable physical injury, while two of his horses were so badly crippled that they are now said to be of no value.

Messrs. Arrison and Carter were arrested upon their arrival in this city and gave bail for their appearance for trial. Upon this statement of facts Justice Shriver held that the law had not been violated by the defendants, as they had stopped as required by the statute, and neither had started his machine before the runaway. The defendants were therefore discharged. State's Attorney Steele appeared for the prosecution and Messrs. Bond & Parke for the defendants.

A Birthday Surprise.

Last Saturday the ladies of Benjamin's Reformed Church and some friends assembled at the parsonage to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Stonesifer, wife of their pastor. Some 30 or more came with cake, ice cream, candies, apples, &c., and individual presents. But best of all they brought a very pretty dress pattern of panama cloth for Mrs. Stonesifer, as her birthday gift. After a few appropriate remarks and proper prayer by their pastor, they all sat down to the table in the dining room to enjoy the good things. It was a most pleasant and delightful occasion and was much appreciated by Mrs. Stonesifer. She would like, in this public way, to thank the kind friends for their good wishes.

Miss Gertrude Hunter, youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth E. and the late Robert F. Hunter, and Mr. Harry C. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias N. Davis, all of this city, were married at the parsonage of Deer Park circuit, M. P. Church, on Wednesday evening, the pastor, Rev. E. O. Ewing, performing the marriage ceremony. The bride was simply, but becomingly attired in a white wedding gown. In consequence of the recent death of the bride's father the wedding was a quiet one and there were no attendants. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Davis returned to the home of the bride's mother on East Green street, where a reception attended only by their immediate relatives was held and a wedding luncheon served. Among those present were: Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Elias N. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hunter and family, Miss Nettie Davis.

Horning, became the bride of Mr. Jesse L. Baile. The bride was becomingly attired in a cloth gown of cream color, trimmed in silk braid, and she carried white carnations. Creecy-Reifsnider.

At Ascension Episcopal Church, at 12 M., on Wednesday last, was consummated one of the most beautiful nuptial events that has ever taken place in this city, when Miss Maria Louise Reifsnider, daughter of Mrs. John Lawrence Leifsnider, of "Terrace Hill", and Lieutenant Richard Bennett Creecy, of the United States Marine Corps, were united in marriage with the impressive ritual of the Church, by Rev. Father Sargeant, of the Order of the Holy Cross, West Park, N. Y., assisted by Rev. Dr. Frank M. Gibson, the rector of Ascension Church. Never was the quaint little, rock-built, ivy-covered church more beautiful than on this occasion. The interior of the church, decorated with smilax and potted plants, the flowers being white chrysanthemums, was a veritable garden of beauty and of bloom. The beautiful scene was made the more beautiful and brilliant by handsomely gowned, fair women and the rich uniforms of the men of the bridal party. The bride, who is a pronounced brunette was never more beautiful than when gowned in a lovely creation of white satin, covered with old family point lace, with point lace veil and coronet of orange blossoms, wearing as her only and appropriate ornaments pearls, and carrying bride's roses and lilies of the valley, she stood before the altar. The maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Upshur Stirling, of Baltimore, cousin of the bride, wore white satin, embroidered with gold and carried white chrysanthemums. The house was beautifully decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and smilax. Mrs. Reifsnider, the mother of the bride, wore a gown of black chiffon cloth, trimmed with lace, and her jewels were diamonds. Mrs. J. W. Henry and Miss Dulin, of Baltimore, house guests of Mrs. Reifsnider, wore to the wedding, the former black lace and the latter gray velvet.

Westminster Theological Seminary Silver Jubilee.

1882 1907

From the seed sown by a resolution, adopted by the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, in March 1881, has grown this splendid institution, bearing ever increasing and more abundant fruitage of blessing to the Church. By that resolution Rev. Dr. J. T. Murray, Rev. Peter Light Wilson and Dr. Charles Billingslea were appointed a committee to mature some plan by which Systematic Theology might be taught the graduates of Western Maryland College, who were preparing for the Christian ministry. The committee reported to the Conference in 1882, recommending that a department of Theology be established in the College, and a minister of the Conference be placed at its head, to be styled the Principal of the School of Theology. The recommendation was adopted and Rev. T. H. Lewis, D. D., elected Principal, with direction to organize the school and begin the course of instruction in September 1882. At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the College, held in May 1882, upon the recommendation of the Principal it was determined that it was impracticable to establish such a department in the College and that an independent Theological institution should be organized. The Board of Trustees donated a tract of land adjoining the College property, and the Principal entered at once upon a successful effort to raise the funds necessary for the erection of a building, organized the institution and began its work in September 1882. The Conference of 1883 confirmed his judgment and recommended incorporation under the name, The Westminster Theological Seminary, elected a Board of Governors and reelected Dr. Lewis to serve as Principal until the Board of Governors should be incorporated. Incorporation was effected by Act of the Maryland Legislature at the session of January, 1884, and Dr. Lewis was elected President of the Seminary. He served until 1886, when he became the President of Western Maryland College, and Rev. J. T. Ward, D. D., who for many years had been the honored President of that institution, was elected President of the Seminary. Since the death of Dr. Ward in 1897, Rev. H. L. Elderdice, D. D., has been the President.

The Seminary now owns seven acres of land, a new and splendidly equipped building, with chapel, public hall, library, recitation rooms, student rooms, and bath rooms, finely furnished and lighted by electricity, property worth $25,000, free from debt. The faculty has increased from a single professor to six regular members and a number of occasional instructors. The present members of the faculty are Rev. H. L. Elderdice, D. D., President and Professor of Hebrew and Practical Theology; Rev. H. C. Cushing, D. D., Professor of Systematic Theology; Rev. C. C. Douglas, B. D., Professor of Greek and Biblical Theology; Rev. Charles E Forlines, B. D., Professor of Theism and Historical Theology; Rev. T. H. Lewis, D. D., Professor of Christian Evidence; Hon. Joshua W. Hering, M. D., LL. D., lecturer on the Preservation of Health.

During the twenty five years of its existence 215 students have been registered and 104 graduated. Graduates of the institution are serving the Church in 15 States; 2 are missionaries in Japan, 2 college presidents, 4 college professors, and 2 theological seminary professors. At present, students are enrolled from Maryland, Georgia, Alabama, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and North Carolina.

The chief interest in the Silver Jubilee, commemorative of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Seminary, on Tuesday last, centered in the dedication of the new Chapel and the announcement of the higher curriculum, which will be established at once. Heretofore the course has been only two years for college graduates and three years for students not graduates of college. From this time, the former will be required to take a three year's course and the latter a course of four years.

The anniversary exercises on Tuesday last were full of interest to the whole Church. After devotional exercises conducted by Rev. J. M. Sheridan, president of the Maryland Annual Conference, and music by Messrs. Beauchamp, Bevans, Ackley and Brown, the Seminary Quartette, addresses were delivered as follows:—"Origin," Dr. Charles Billingslea, surviving member of original committee; "Foundation Stones," Rev. T. H. Lewis, D. D., the first president; "Dedicated to the Denomination," Rev. F. T. Tagg, D. D., President of the General Conference; "The Seminary and Home Missions," Rev. J. H. Lucas, D. D., Adrian, Mich.; "The Seminary and Ministerial Education," Rev. G. R. Brown, D. D., Pittsburg, Pa.; "The Seminary and Religious Literature," Rev. C. E. Wilbur, D. D., Bellevue, Pa.; Greetings, Rev. F. C. Klein, A. M., for the Baltimore Methodist Protestant Ministers; Rev. P. H. Miller, D. D., for the Lutheran Church, Westminster; Rev. C. S. Slagle, D. D., for the Reformed Church, Westminster; Rev. H. M. Rider, for the Methodist Episcopal Church, Westminster; Dedication of the new chapel, Rev. J. D. Kinzer, D. D., president of the Board of Governors.

The storm that was so general along the Atlantic coast on Sunday did not pass us by but snow fell all day and if it had not been so moderate would have lain 10 to 12 inches deep. With the thawing all day and night it measured 6 inches on Monday at places not on the ground; again on Tuesday morning there was a fall in the early morning. Persons who saw it say they never saw it snow so fast. Travel is most disagreeable.

The many friends of Mrs. John Fuhrman, of Hanover, were shocked when a phone message came on Monday morning that she had died on Sunday at 4 P. M., at the Bernard Sanitorium, Baltimore. On the 17th inst., in company with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Fuhrman, she visited their mother-in-law, Mrs. E. W. Fuhrman, on York street and spent the day with friends. She was looking the picture of health, robust and strong, yet was a victim of a tumor, which was a surprise to her friends when she informed them that she was going to the hospital on the 20th. She was operated on on Thursday. The operation was quite successful. She rallied with bright promise to get well. On Sunday noon a change set in, and surrounded by her husband and friends she peacefully paseed away. She was a lady of pleasant demeanor, cheerful disposition and always ready and willing to help in adversity or prosperity, and will be greatly missed in the home and among a large circle of friends. Her remains were laid away to rest on Wednesday. Mrs. D. L. Dubbs attended the funeral.

We had quite a sad death on Monday night in the person of Mrs. Margaret Barnhart, in her 34th year, who leaves four orphan children to mourn her loss. Her husband died about 6 years ago. She had been living in the Warner block until the 12th inst., when she moved into the home of Mrs. Berwager, on North Main street, so much complaining from a complication of diseases that she had to take her bed and continued to grow worse under the best treatment until death came. Her remains were taken to Sherman's Church on Wednesday and laid beside her husband and one child. She was a daughter of Mr. John Lawson, of this place, and two brothers, of Hanover, Pa., survive her. Mr. W. L. F. Bergman had charge of the funeral. Rev. H. H. Flick held a short service at the house.

Mr. E. J. Crumrine, although fast convalescing from pneumonia, is ill from heart trouble.

Mr. Charles H. Everhart spent several days with his brother, Mr. William Everhart, and sisters in Woodberry, this week.

A company of little folks enjoyed a pleasant social at the home of Miriam Bergman, on Oak Tree avenue, on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Granville G. Bixler has moved his family to Baltimore, for the winter, where Mr. Bixler is in the real estate business.

The stork brought to Mr. W. Frank Miller, of this place, a young Republican, on Friday morning of last week, and his name is Theodore Roosevelt Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bixler, and daughter Addye, and Mrs. James Yingling, of Greenmount, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fletcher Babylon, on Sunday last.

The night service of protracted meeting at the Brick M. P. Church closed on Sunday night. There were four conversions during the meeting.

Mr. Edwin Mitten, (known as Eddie) is lying in a critical condition at the home of his son in this place, with dropsy and heart trouble. Dr. Whitehill, of New Windsor, is attending him.

Protracted meeting begins at the Wakefield Bethel Church of God on Dec. 8th. Prayer meeting on next Sunday evening, beginning promptly at 7.30 o'clock.

The public road leading from Roop's mill to New Windsor is in such bad condition in several places that travelers are compelled to go into the woods to get around the mud holes, which are said to be between 3 and 4 feet deep. Several accidents have been reported. Two ladies driving from Westminster ran into one of these ugly holes, breaking the harness, and but for the great courage of the ladies, holding fast to the lines, the horse would have run away and serious injury might have resulted. With the assistance of a farmer the buggy was raised from the mud hole and the ladies continued on their journey. The road supervisor of this district should give it his attention and see that the hole is filled up at once, before a serious accident occurs.
