MARYLAND NEWS.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the factory of the Baltimore Badge and Novelty Company, Woodberry, with all its contents. The loss is $40,000.

Grip is epidemic in Baltimore. Doctors and druggists are overworked. Health Commissioner Bosley said that there were not less than 75,000 cases in the city up to last Monday.

Mr. Christian Frederick Hetzel, past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Maryland, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, died at his home, Cumberland, on Sunday evening, aged 70 years.

The seismographs at Cheltenham and at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, recorded a heavy earthquake, that commenced at 32 minutes after midnight on Sunday and lasted for an hour.

An official list of alleged "habitual drunkards" of Cumberland has been distributed among the saloonkeepers of that city. It contains 25 names, and has been conspicuously posted in a number of saloons.

Conductor Charles H. Goddard, of the Western Maryland Railroad, Hagerstown, collected a fund and purchased toys and candy which were presented to the children of railroad men who were killed during 1907.

Sixty-eight thousand, four hundred and thirty-four immigrants reached the United States during 1907 through the port of Baltimore. More then half of them went to three States, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio. Only 5,537 stated their intention of making Maryland their home.

The Anti Saloon League has engaged a room on the main floor of Carvel Hall, Annapolis, and Mr. William H. Anderson, superintendent, will occupy it as headquarters during the session of the Legislature. A strong effort will be made to secure the passage of a local option law.

Over 100 tons of rock and earth fell on the tracks of the Cumberland extension of the Western Maryland railroad, between Hancock and Paw-Paw, last Friday morning. A west bound freight train ran into the obstruction about noon, and the locomotive and several cars were derailed. The track was blocked until 10 o'clock at night.

A special meeting of the Forest Hill Farmer's Club of Harford county was held at Belair. A resolution was adopted advocating the employment of an expert engineer to direct and supervise road building and repairing in that county. A committee was appointed to confer with committees from other county organizations to devise means for bringing about the proposed condition.

Mr. Harry Malcom, ex-deputy game warden, assisted by Messrs. R. H. Cox, W. M. Lyon and Sidney Barber made a notable capture on the Potomac river last week. They arrested seven men who were using a nine-barreled gun with a single trigger. A single pull of the trigger fires all the barrels, and one discharge is said to have killed 198 ducks. With the gun, they captured 4 sloops, 7 big guns, 100 decoys, 7 skiffs, 150 pounds of powder and 85 dead ducks,

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

GENERAL NEWS.

The second trial of Harry K. Thaw for the killing of Stanford White will begin next Monday in New York City.

The battleship fleet left Port of Spain, Trinidad, on Sunday afternoon and is scheduled to reach Rio de Janiero January 10.

The epidemic of typhoid fever in Trenton, N. J., continues unabated. Ninety-two cases were reported during the month of December.

An eclipse of the sun, partially visible in the Southern States, took place about sunset, this, Friday evening. The eclipse was total at Flint Island, in the Pacific ocean.

The Pottsville (Pa.,) Traction Company has entered upon a determined effort to break up profane swearing on its lines. Several arrests have been made, and fines of from $12 to $20 imposed.

Mrs. Letitia Tyler Semple, niece of President John Tyler, and mistress of the White House during his incumbency of the executive office, died at the Louise Home, Washington, D. C., on Saturday, aged 87 years.

As a result of the anti-liquor crusade in Iowa, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad has issued orders to dining car conductors prohibiting the sale of liquor on trains in the State. It is understood that other lines in the State will take similar action.

Hundreds of clergymen of many denominations have formed an organization for systematic and constant revivalistic effort in the State of Kansas during the whole year 1908. They will be assisted by a number of evangalists. Fifteen denominations are represented in the organization.

A permit has been granted for the erection in Chicago, Ill., of the La Salle Hotel, which will be the largest hotel in the world. It will be 22 stories high, with 2 basements, and will contain 1172 rooms. The cost of erection and furnishing will be $3,500,000. It will be built on land leased on the basis of a value of $2,500,000, making the total cost $6,000,000.

At an election held in Raleigh, N. C., last week the liquor dispensary was voted out by an overwhelming majority. Nine hundred and thirty-eight votes were cast for prohibition, 381 for the dispensary, and but 2 for licensed saloons. The dispensary system had been in operation for 4 years and sales amounted annually to about $250,000, with about $75,000 profit, which went to swell the school and road funds.

On Christmas day, Dr. William P. McKeown, a dentist of East Newmarket, Md., was arrested on a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, in Delaware, by train officials, for emptying his flask down his throat in full public view of passengers, in violation of the new law prohibiting public drinking on trains. He refused to pay the fine of $7.75 imposed by Magistrate Ward, of Seaford, Del., and spent the night in jail. In the morning he paid his fine.

In the analysis of bullets found in buildings at Brownsville, Texas, antimony was found. This was regarded as strong evidence that the firing was not done by the negro soldiers, and their friends made the most of the discovery. An analysis of bullets manufactured for the use of the army, just completed, reveals the presence of antimony, the use of which is unauthorized by the War Department. Two manufacturers have been called on for an explanation.

Fourteen enlisted men and 23 civilians have qualified for appointment as second lieutenants in the regular army. Among the civilians are Jubal A. Early, a kinsman of the distinguished Confederate General of that name, and W. A. Capron, son of Major Allyn Capron, who died at Fort Myer, as the result of exposure in the Cuban campaign, and brother of Capt. Allyn K. Capron, of the Rough Riders, who was killed in battle with the Spaniards.

Airville, York county, Pa., had a lively time on Saturday. A cowboy turned loose in a field an unbroken pony. Tickets were then sold at 50c to all who wished to participate in an effort to capture the animal. There were 75 starters. The pony held his own for an hour and a number of his would be captors were injured. John Richardson, of Sunnyburn, finally effected the capture with a lasso. Richardson lost several teeth in the scuffle, but he got the pony for 50c.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS.

Isaac Haring, who served through the Civil War, the tallest man in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, died last Saturday. His height was eight feet.

Edward Shea, Montclair, N. J., has been in a trance-like state for more than a month. He frequently sings songs that he was never known to sing before falling into this condition. He has been a vocalist of some ability.

Orrin H. Perry, 65 years old, for 16 years the living skeleton with Barnum & Bailey's shows, died suddenly, in Providence, R. I., of fatty degeneration of the heart. He was six feet, one inch tall, and weighed 80 pounds.

Bruno Babeaki clung for seven miles to the door of a vestibuled Pennsylvania express on it way to Williamsport, Pa., and was then hurled down a 20 foot embankment into the Susquehanna river, escaping with a few bruises.

Ben Mogri, chief of the pastry department of a Chicago hotel, constructed a monument 15 feet high and 5 feet square, surmounted by a life-size bust of William McKinley, made entirely of sugar, as one of the holiday decorations of the hotel, Four barrels of sugar were used.

Great excitement prevails in the vicinity of Bristol, Va., at the well authenticated report that Noah Fulton, who was hanged at Abingdon, Dec. 13, and pronounced dead by the physicians, was resuscitated by his relatives. The section in which he is said to be living is far from the beaten track.

Four aces dealt to him in a poker game killed Thomas Sachs, at Cleveland, Ohio, and the jack pot was not a large one. The game was "a quarter limit" and the pot contained only $3.75. Sach's, who was a Hungarian laborer on the Belt Line railway, had heart trouble, and had been warned by his physician against undue excitement.

Gary, Ind., two years ago was not. It is now a model steel town. It makes a new bid for fame in that on Christmas day, while Fred Miller and his family were away from home, thieves hitched several horses to his one story furnished dwelling, and made away with it. The track was followed for some distance, but finally lost on the prarie.

Mrs. Mollie Desmond, New York, 18 months ago, swallowed a package of 144 needles with suicidal intent. Twenty-five operations have been performed from time to time and 132 needles removed. She has been in a hospital constantly and closely watched. On Sunday while the surgeons were trying to find a needle that was causing pain in the region of the heart, she died.

Booth Tarkington, author of "The Gentleman from Indiana" and other novels, got gay on Christmas night in Indianapolis, and made things interesting for the police arresting him. The Judge before whom his case was to be tried continued it indefinitely, saying that it was the custom to be thus lenient toward old soldiers and "celebrities."

Adam Stewart, clothier, Garrett, Ind., is a loyal Baptist. Rev. Dr. Shannon is conducting revivalistic services in the town. Stewart announced that he would give a suit of clothes to every man joining the church. His store was practically stormed last week by about 200 men who claimed suits of clothes for accepting the Baptist faith. Dr. Shannon and Mr. Stewart will decide who among them are actual converts and they will be given the clothing.

BY THESE SIGNS YOU MAY KNOW AND WILL FIND SINGER STORES EVERYWHERE

Sewing Machine Foresight

When you choose a sewing machine you want to get one that lasts a lifetime, and there's only one way to get it—through a Singer store, or salesman. Beware of nondescript machines sold in job lots. They last only as long as their weakest parts. The loss or break of a single part renders these machines utterly useless, as the part cannot be readily replaced. When you rent or buy a you know these machines will last a lifetime—the experience of your friends proves this. You know there will always be a Singer store near you to furnish parts, needles, instruction, etc., in case you ever require them.

SINGER SEWING MACHINE OR A WHEELER & WILSON

Bear in mind that you can get Singer Sewing Machines also Wheeler & Wilson at Singer stores only. They are absolutely never sold through dealers,—never sold under any other name. Look for the big "S."
