Masquerading in this city, during the holiday season, was indulged in and enjoyed by many persons, both of mature and youthful age. Unique costumes were more numerous than usual on former similar seasons.

When the Senate convened on Tuesday, Hon. Johnzie E. Beasman was elected president pro. tem. Mr. Geo. A. Shower, of Manchester, is sergeant-at-arms of the House of Delegates, and Mr. John R. Strevig, of Manchester, one of the engrossing clerks.

The SENTINEL has received from the W. H. Davis Co., this city, a very handsome calendar for 1908. It is set in a beautifully colored scene representing a field of corn in the shock, with a farmer gathering the golden pumpkins.

On Sunday morning, 19th inst., Rev. F. Carey will preach a temperance sermon at Ebenezer M. E. Church, West Falls Circuit. We are requested to say that "it is hoped all persons interested in temperance will be present."

The thanks of the SENTINEL are due to Mr. S. C. Stoner, agent of the Baltimore Life Insurance Company, for a very attractive calendar for 1908, on the background of which is pictured a scene in the mountains, with two Indians watching a wagon train passing along the valley road.

Co. M, Fifth Infantry, M. N. G., to which was awarded the bronze figure presented by the ladies of Baltimore for proficiency in small arms practice in 1907, is commanded by Capt. David W. Jenkins, who is the husband of a granddaughter of Mr. John H. Mitten, manager of the SENTINEL.

On Tuesday, the last day of his administration, Governor Warfield exercised his pardoning power in the cases of three men. One of those pardoned is John W. Esterline, who was convicted at the November Term 1906 of the Circuit Court for Carroll County of assault with intent to disable Adam Diehl and sentenced to the penitentiary for 15 months.

Mr. Wm. H. H. Zepp, of West Main street, this city, reached the age of 68 years on December 28th. All the members of his family were at home for the day. Those who were guests in the home were Mrs. Anna Bankard and daughter, Miss Clara, Messrs. Jos. D. and W. Scott Zepp, and Miss Mamie Cotton, of Baltimore, and Miss Pauline Long, of Lynchburg, Va.

The many friends of Mr. Wm. Grove Lawyer, in this county, will be glad to learn that his right hand, which was badly crushed and lacerated in a corn husker, at his home near Littlestown, Pa., some weeks ago, is gradually improving. While he has suffered the loss of his index and little fingers, it is now said the necessity for amputating the other two has been obviated and they will be saved.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown, near Union Mills, entertained at dinner, Tuesday, Dec. 31, the following guests: Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Yoder, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Lawyer, Mr. J. W. Frock and family, Mrs. William Frock and daughters—Mary and Emma—Misses Mollye and Gertrude Brown; Dr. G. L. Wetzel, of Union Mills; Mr. Bernard Lawyer, of Gettysburg, Pa., and Mr. William Dutterer, Jr., of Berryville, Va.

Schaeffer, S. C. Stoner, W. King, trustees. The Deputy Great Sachem gave the tribe a "long talk", which was very instructive and greatly appreciated by all the chiefs who were present. In his address he complimented Patapsco Tribe for the rapid advancement it has made since its institution.

Mr. J. Ezra Stem, assignee, sold the property of Reuben and Amanda Walker, on Centre street, this city, at public sale, on Monday, to the George W. Albaugh Real Estate and Brokerage Company, for $450. Mr. J. Thomas Roop was auctioneer, Messrs. Roberts & Crouse, solicitors.

At the meeting of the County Commissioners on Monday last, Burgess S. Miller was appointed constable for District, No. 1, for two years; the resignation of Wm. J. Galhart as constable for District, No. 5, was accepted; a special pension of $5 was granted to Kate Smith, of District, No. 7.

The meeting in the interest of the Westminster public library, which was to have been held last Tuesday night was prevented by the storm. It will be held next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the rooms of the Country Club, Wantz building. All ladies and gentlemen interested are earnestly invited to be present.

After the conferring of the third degree, on last Friday night, the members of Charity Lodge No. 58, K. of P., of this city, enjoyed one of the most attractive suppers ever spread in the hall. The menu included ham, cheese, buns, pickles, coffee and ice cream. The feast was followed by a smoker and a general good time. The lodge has a membership of over 200, and is one of the most flourishing lodges of the order in the State.

David O. Green, who was recently arrested at Union Bridge and committed to the jail of Frederick county, charged with assaulting and wronging Miss Maud Eyler, daughter of Edward Eyler, of Walkersville, was released from custody on the first inst., after marrying the young woman. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. C. F. Steck, at the parsonage of the Lutheran Church in Frederick. Green is a son of William Green, of Johnsville, Frederick county.

The total amount of insurance Mr. Wm. H. Yingling, near Pleasant Valley, had on his barn and contents, destroyed by fire recently, was $1400—$550 on building, $180 on six of the twelve cattle burned, $70 on the horse and $600 on produce, &c. The property destroyed was easily worth between $2,000 and $2,500, to say nothing of the great inconvenience to which Mr. Yingling is being subjected at this inclement season of the year and in having to wait for better weather in which to rebuild.

Mr. Francis J. Yingling, of Dallas, Texas, in remitting subscription for the SENTINEL for a couple of years in advance, writes that winter has not yet made its appearance at that place and the weather there is delightful. Dallas he says has been built up wonderfully since he went there in 1882. The effect of the recent financial panic has been felt slightly, but the farmers in that section have plenty of cotton and other products to sell that will take money there. The reunion of the Order of Elks in the United States is to be held at Dallas sometime during next summer. Mr. Yingling is a son of the late Jesse Yingling, and grew to manhood in this city.

It seems to be generally supposed that the average temperature of the month of December, 1907, was much higher than has been usual for the corresponding period of recent years, but a comparison of the weather reports of Mr. John M. Myers for that month in 1905, 1906 and 1907 shows only a slight variation. By these reports the mean maximum temperature of December, 1905, was 45.7; 1906, 44.8; 1907, 42.1. The mean minimum temperature was—1905, 25.13; 1906, 24.7; 1907, 26. In December, 1905, there were three days when the temperature did not rise above the freezing point; in 1906, three days, and in 1907, four days. In December, 1905, there were five days when the temperature was above the freezing point all day; in 1906, eight days and in 1907, four days.

At their pleasant home, on East Main street, Postmaster and Mrs. S. K. Herr, of this city, entertained the subordinate officials of the postoffice in a very handsome manner on Friday evening last. An elegant and tempting luncheon was served and host, hostess and guests enjoyed the occasion greatly. The officials present, other than Col. Herr, were, Chief Clerk Dohnea Nygren, Assistant Clerks Jos S. Witter, Milton A. Bachman, Philip J. Flater, Letter Carriers Chas. H. Mackley, A. L. Williams, Charles A. Gernand, Joseph S. Stoner and Special Delivery Messenger Guy Williams. Mr. Harry M. Kimmey, of Philadelphia, a former clerk, was also present. Assistant Postmaster Theodore Kauffman was suffering with an attack of grip and was thus unavoidably absent.

Those, who were present last night at Odd Fellows' Hall, at the "Musicale" given under the auspices of the Edgar Allan Poe Memorial Association, are indebted to that organization for an evening of pleasure and profit. Rev. Dr. F. M. Gibson's address was not only a study of the life and work of the poet, but also an appreciation of the man, "whose life was pure and whose pen was clean," and a defence of his memory. The beautiful address was full worthy of its theme. Of the other numbers on the program it is sufficient to say that the musicians were Miss Slagle, Miss Buckingham, Miss Landsinger, Mr. Benson and Mr. Simpson; and the elocutionist, Miss Geiman, and that they were at their best. The fine piano used was a Blasius, furnished by the courtesy of Prof. J. T. Royer. The beautiful and artistic decoration of the stage in the colors of Nation and State was the work of Mr. Edwin W. Shriver.

The 37th annual statement of The Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Carroll county, to December 9, 1907, shows the company to be in a sound and flourishing condition. The receipts during the year, including $302.74 in hand at its beginning, were $18,435.03, of which $14,469.19 was from interest on premium notes, $1,663 10 from investments and $2,000 proceeds from bonds redeemed. The disbursments, including $7,952.55 for losses by fire and $4,902.10 for new securities purchased, were $16,140.10, leaving a balance of $2,294.93 in bank. The number of policies in force was 2,945, insuring property to the amount of $4,156,307; premium notes held, $378,768; invested funds, $37,248; dwelling house and office building, $2,635. The directors of the company are: Dr. J. W. Hering, Frank L. Hering, E. E. Reindollar, Dr. J. J. Weaver, Jr., Louis E. Shriver, J. Oliver Wadlow, Samuel Roop, Elias O. Grimes, Dr. Charles Billingslea, John N. Weaver; president, Dr. J. W. Hering; secretary and treasurer, C. Gloyd Lynch; counsel, E. Oliver Grimes, Jr.

The case of the State vs. Raymond P. Bankert, charging the defendant with wilful cruelty to a horse, was tried before Justice Shriver, on Wednesday. The testimony brought out the following facts:—On January 1st, Deputy Sheriff Shunk went to Mr. Bankert's home to serve a writ of summons in a civil suit. In Mr. Bankert's stable he saw Mr. Bankert's horse, emaciated and apparently suffering from insufficient food. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals was communicated with, and its agent came to this city on Monday, January 6th. He visited Mr. Bankert's stable and about 5.30 in the evening, by the light of a match, shot the horse. He at once returned to Baltimore. About ten o'clock that night, Mr. Bankert heard the horse struggling in the stable, and investigation revealed the fact that the "humane" officer had been mistaken in his supposition that the animal had been killed. Mr. Bankert at once communicated the facts to the local officers of the law, and in an hour the horse was put out of its misery. It was proven that from November 1st until January 1st, Mr. Bankert was out of the city, that he left instructions as to the care of the horse, that during the month of December alone about 400 pounds of hay was furnished by Mr. M. A. Sullivan. That the animal was in wretched plight, and that the deputy sheriff could have taken no other course than that pursued by him was clearly demonstrated, but on the other hand the facts did not warrant the conviction of the defendant, and Mr. Reifsnider, State's Attorney, Justly declined to ask for a judgment of guilty. David N. Henning, Esq., was defendant's counsel.

Dance at Mt. Airy.

Special Sessions.

In accordance with the action of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Maryland, a special session of the Grand Lodge will be held at New Windsor, March 4th, 1908, for the purpose of conferring the Grand Lodge degree upon all past grands entitled to receive the same and to confer the three degrees upon a number of candidates. M., and the subordinate degrees at 8 o'clock P. M.

Mammoth Porkers.

It is extremely probable that Mr. John T. Zahn, of this city, had the champion porker in this county the recent butchering season. On the 10th of November he slaughtered two fine hogs, one of which weighed 385 and the other 417. These were not extraordinary, but on Saturday last he killed two which, at the age of 17 months weighed, respectively, 517½ and 650½. The lighter of these two, therefore, weighed a pound for every day of its life, and the heavier a little more than a pound and a seventh. It is not surprising that Mr. Zahn says: "Let us hear from anyone in the county who can beat them."

Election of Directors.

The Stockholders of the Westminster Fertilizer Co., at the annual meeting held on Saturday the 4th inst. elected the following named persons as directors to serve during the ensuing year: Elder Ezra C. Brown, Geo. H. Hunt, W. U. Marker, John D. Schaeffer of J., Milton Chew, H. S. Roop, James W. Lemmon, Geo. E. Marker, and A. H. Huber. After the adjournment of the stockholders' meeting the board reelected. Elder E. C. Brown, Prest.; Geo. H. Hunt, V. P.; A. H. Huber, Sec. & Treas. The board declared its regular annual dividend of six per cent.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Carroll County Electric Light and Power Company, on the 1st inst., Messrs. George W. Parke. Theodore F. Englar, Charles C. Gorsuch, Fred. D. Miller, Joseph W. Smith, George W. Albaugh and B. F. Crouse were reelected directors for the ensuing year. The board organized by electing George M. Parke president; Charles C. Gorsuch, vice president; A. H. Huber, secretary and treasurer; Theo. F. Englar and Fred. D. Miller, executive committee.

Exciting Runaway.

On Monday afternoon an exciting runaway occurred in this city. Mr. Albert Spencer, near Smallwood, was in town with his fine young colt hitched to a road cart. He had stopped at Herr & Babylon's to attend to some business, when a passing automobile frightened his horse and caused it to run away. Within one hundred yards the animal broke loose from the cart, and near the railway ran into a buggy, without doing any damage. Continuing down the street it struck the buggy of Mrs. Chas. Tompkins, of Dennings, in front of the Union National Bank, just as she was untying her horse, which became frightened and ran away. Near Court street the Spencer horse ran into the buggy of Mr. Lewis Green, one of the oldest and best known citizens of the county, and his horse was also frightened and ran westward. Mr. Green, who was driving, was thrown out and considerably bruised. Mr. Woolery, who was with him, stuck to the buggy until near the Union National Bank, when he also was thrown out. Within a few yards the horse was stopped, but not until the shafts and a wheel of the buggy had been smashed. The shafts and top of Mrs. Tompkins' buggy were badly broken. Mr. Spencer's colt was caught on East Main street, but Mrs. Tompkins' horse continued on out of town. Both the Spencer and Green horses were cut about the heels.

For the Sentinel.

An Elegant Reception.

On Thursday, 2nd inst., Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bowman gave an elegant reception, at their home, "White Crest Stock Farm," near Arcadia, in honor of the marriage of their son, Mr. Harry C. Bowman, and Miss Mary C. Shipley. The newly married couple were showered with congratulations throughout the day and received many handsome presents from relatives and friends. Everybody present joined in making the time pass pleasantly and a happy day was spent by all. The last of the guests did not retire to their homes until a late hour. Among those present were: Rev. and Mrs. V. K. Betts, near Carrollton; Rev. and Mrs. Wm. E. Brown, of Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. Elias Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. David Green, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, Mr. and Mrs Marshall Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Shamer, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Green, Mr. and Mrs. Lee S. WEDDING BELLS.

For the Sentinel.

Hesson-Fuhrman.

An exceedingly pretty wedding was enacted at the Lutheran parsonage, Silver Run, Dec. 20, when Miss Edith Fuhrman, of Silver Run and Mr. Oliver Hesson, of Stonersville, were joined in holy matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. O. Yoder, pastor of St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run, of which the bride is a member. The wedding was a quiet affair, as has been the family custom, both bride and groom being unattended. The bride was daintily attired in white while the groom wore the conventional black. The bride is an estimable young lady and is the eldest daughter of Mr. John Fuhrman, a worthy and efficient rural letter carrier. The groom is a young man of sterling qualities of character and is a younger son of Mr. John Hesson, a well known citizen and prominent farmer. Both bride and groom are well known and have many friends in this city and county.

Gamber Items.

On Tuesday night, 14th, inst., at 7.30 o'clock, Providence Sunday School will give an entertainment at Mechanics Hall, in this place, and the scholars and those connected with the school will be given their Christmas treat. Should the weather be unfavorable it will take place the next fair night. All are cordially invited.

On Sunday, January 19th, the new Providence M. P. Church will be dedicated if the weather permits. The church is now about completed, with the exception of some painting, which will be finished later on.

The grip is very prevalent in this section.

Mr. Lloyd Barnes, at Louisville, cut his foot very badly with an axe while cutting wood a few days ago, and had to summon Dr. Wright to dress the wound.

Dr. Wright is kept busy attending to his many calls day and night.

The roads are very icy and traveling difficult.

Melrose Items.

We wish to congratulate Mr. Wm. Zepp and bride who were recently married, and wish them much happiness and prosperity. Your correspondent has been congratulating couples for nearly a quarter of a century, and we expect to have a few more in the near future.

Mr. J. J. T. Baumgardner will shortly build a wagon shed 16x24 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Warehime, near Mexico, were the guests of relatives in Melrose last Sunday.

Mr. John Baumgardner, butcher, slaughtered two hogs for Mr. Ed. Toumey, weighing 270 and 250 pounds.

For more than three days recently we were without telephone communication. Our line was severed in some way from exchange, causing much inconvenience.

Responding to President Lincoln's first call for volunteers in 1861, he enlisted for three months in Co. H, 11th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. At the expiration of this enlistment, he reenlisted in the 54th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, Company G, and served until the close of the war. During his military career he was captured twice. The first time he was confined on Belle Island and in Libby prison for six months, and was among those exchanged. Captain Miller rose from a private to a captaincy through his conspicuous bravery and daring on the battlefield. Sixteen years ago he married Miss Francis Wilhelm, daughter of the late John W. Christmas at County Home.

In response to the request made through the columns of the county papers for aid in making Christmas bright and happy to the inmates of the Carroll County Home for the poor and afflicted, contributions were received from all parts of the county and from former citizens, now residing in distant parts of this and other States. The majority of these generous contributors, I have thanked in person, or by letter, but there were a number of contributions sent annonymously, and these I hope to reach, with the kind aid of the press. I am sure all will be pleased to know that, by their aid, Christmas of 1907 was made more than usually bright, and my only regret is, that all who had a share in providing the treat, could not have been present to enjoy the result. To the press, which so kindly published my request for assistance; to the Sunshine Society of Manchester, the teachers and scholars of the Warfieldsburg and Medford schools, and to the following business houses: Miller Bros. Co., Albaugh & Babylon, T. W. Mather & Sons, F. A. Dieffenbach, Herman Dinst and Jesse Smith; to the many personal contributors, and to all who so kindly assisted in the bright and pretty Christmas service, in the name of the inmates, I return sincere thanks, with wishes for a very bright, happy and prosperous New Year. Yours, "In His Name."

At the home of Mr. Wesley Harrison a grand Christmas reception and family reunion was given by his daughter, Mrs. Nettie Lindsay. When escorted to the dining room, the friends found that Mrs. Lindsay was entirely equal to the occasion. A sumptuous dinner was prepared with all that heart could wish to satisfy the appetite, and was enjoyed very much by all. Mr. Harrison had the pleasure of seeing some of his great-grandchildren there to enjoy Mrs. Lindsay's hospitality. Those present were: Mrs. Nettie V. Lindsay and daughter Virginia, Mr. Wesley Harrison, Thomas Gosnell and wife, Jesse Leatherwood and wife, John E. Naill and wife, Wm. Burall and wife, Jacob L. Naill, John C. Naill, Tyson Gosnell, Willard Gosnell, Claude Gosnell, Mrs. Virdie Brewer, Mrs. Etta Shipley, Misses Margaret Naill and Anna Leatherwood. At 3 o'clock, p. m., all were again invited to the dining room, to enjoy a loaded down table of cake, lemonade and confectionery. In this meeting there seemed to be unusual happiness and joy among all present, but not without a sad and keenly felt thought of the dear departed mother, Mrs. Wesley Harrison, and the beloved husband of Mrs. Nettie Lindsay, both of whom during this year departed this life, from this home, and, if allowed to judge by their daily walk, they are resting with the angels.

An Enjoyable Party.

On New Year's eve, 31st ult., a party was given at the home of Mrs. Mary Hood, near Mt. Airy, which proved to be one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The members of the Sunshine, a twig of the International Sunshine, celebrated their second anniversary at the home of their president, Miss Ella Tracy, on South Main street. The home was beautifully decorated with mottoes, banners and flowers appropriate to the occasion. A most delightful evening was spent by all. Mrs. T. Clayton Turner won the prize in the writing of the best telegram, using the letters in "Sunshine." Mrs. Wm. H. Shower won the prize in the distribution of bon bons. The most pleasing feature to all was the presentation of a solid gold Sunshine pin by the members to their president, who received it with much feeling. Abundant refreshments were served and enjoyed by all. This organization has many donations to its credit during the year.

The company of young folks from this place presented its play, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," in the Fireman's Hall, Hampstead, on New Year's evening and was greeted by a large audience. The members were nicely entertained at supper at the Hampstead Hotel, W. C. Stick proprietor.

Mrs. Ada, wife of Noah Babylon, near here, remembered her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. John Warehime, with an up-to-date masquerading social on New Year's night. Occasional visits there always afford her pleasure, it having been her home until her marriage. As a visible mark of her esteem and to carry cheer to the old homestead she planned the event with great success and it will be cherished long in the memories of both the participants and recipients. Mrs Babylon has a host of friends and with their aid she found little or no difficulty in executing her plan and organizing a band. They were some what delayed in starting, as much time and thought had been spent on the costumes, to make the appearance of each as odd as possible. The male Kris Kingles went afoot while the females were conveyed in a wagon. The night was clear and balmy, the air was crisp and the sky was decked with stars; the mud was locked and made easy travel. Hilarity was at a high pitch from start to finish. They arrived at their destination rather late, but were given a cordial reception. The aged host and hostess were much pleased with the event and willingly lent their influence to make it an enjoyable affair for all. The costumes were of modern make up and caused much laughter and comment. Indeed, some were so queer and ugly that they were unable to distinguish one from the other. This feature especially aroused the curiosity of the grand-father, who frequently remarked that it surpassed anything he had ever seen. After a period of fun, good things of the season made their rounds, and were greeted with ready hands and appetites keen as a brier. Very soon after, all returned home in a jolly mood, and none regretted the trip and experience. We think this was identically the same experience that "Old St. Nick" has, except we have nothing to indicate that any of this group went down the chimney.

Those comprising the party were: Noah Babylon and wife, Wm. Sullivan and wife, Arthur Stevenson and wife, Ada Myers, Etta Handley, Jennie, Charles, Robert and Trueman Dickensheets, Paul Warehime, Harry Welk, Chas. Strevig, George and Chas. Ecker, Clarence Myers, Chas. Miller, Daniel Warehime, Samuel Baust, Keener Dickensheets and Mrs. Babylon's grand parents.

That unwelcome visitor, the grip, is making its calls. Miss Emma Snader has been confined to her bed with it this week. At this writing she is mending.

Tuesday was the worst day of the winter here. Any ordinary school child could have counted the vehicles that passed through our village.

Work on John Haifley's dwelling house is progressing rapidly. The carpenters are ready to weatherboard.

Woodbine Lodge, I. O. G. T., celebrated its 17th anniversary, on Jan. 1st., in Pickett's Hall. Rev. H. Meyer, of Ohio, Rev. Mr. Harris and Dr. Hers made stirring addresses in advocacy of the temperance cause. The house was well filled and a nice program rendered.

The Ladies' Aid held its Christmas meeting at the parsonage in Taylorsville, taking with them a generous pounding. The society presented its president, Mrs. Harry Bushey, and its vice-president, Mrs. Chas. Wolbert, with little gifts, not specially as wedding presents, but as mere tokens of esteem for their faithfulness as untiring officers of our society since its organization.

Miss MacLeod, of Lansdowne, and Miss Manning, of Westminster, our energetic teachers, have returned from their holidays and resumed their school duties, much to the delight of their pupils, who are very fond of them. An Enjoyable Social.

On Tuesday evening, 31st ult., the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. N. Shauck, near Mechanicsville, was the scene of a very enjoyable social at which their friends gathered to watch the Old Year out and the new one in. The guests began to arrive at an early hour and the house was soon ringing with vocal and instrumental music, games, laughter and conversation. Some very fine stringed instrument music was rendered on violins and a banjo by Messrs. Thomas Jenkins, Ruben Gamber and Bradley Stocksdale.
