Meeting of State Central Committe.

Chairman Thomas Parran, of the Republican State Central Committee, has sent out a call for a meeting of the State Central Committee at the Hotel Rennert, in Baltimore, on Wednesday, February 26th, at 11 o'clock, A. M., for the purpose of fixing upon a date for the State convention at which four delegates to the National convention and electors at large are to be selected. Mr. Parran expects a full attendance.

Ohio seems to be having a marked revival from the recent depression of her manufacturing industries. Between 5000 and 6000 men were returned to work on one plant in Cleveland on Monday. Another industry in the same city has between 7500 and 9000 men at work. The American Steel and Wire Company, at Salem, resumed double-turn operations ou Monday; the Stark Rolling Mills, at Canton, after 3 months of idleness, has resumed and a rubber manufacturing concern at Akron has added 250 men to the force employed. Manufacturers generally are confident of a revival of trade.

There is substantial agreement on the part of the several aspirants for the Republican Presidential nomination concerning the measures known as the anti-trust law, the Elkins law and the railway rate law passed by the last Congress, all of them approving this legislation. It has been estimated that Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, who is the choice of the Republicans of that State for the nomination, was not as emphatic in his approval as is desirable, but all doubts of his attitude on the subject were set at rest by an address delivered by him on railway legislation, before the Lincoln Club of Kalamazoo, Michigan, on Tuesday evening. Among other things he said these laws "include no attacks, enmity or injury to sound business interests, either corporate or private. They mean sounder, stronger and more widely diffused prosperity for the real corporate interests, namely, the owners of the railroad shares and securities." The Republican party is fortunate in having such men as Taft, Knox and Hughes as material for Presidential candidates and to have them in thorough accord on this most important subject.

Mr. Beasman and Local Option.

In last Saturday's issue of the Baltimore American appeared the picture of Mr. Beasman, Senator from this county, over the words "Who presented a report in the Senate from the Temperance Committee in favor of a local option vote in his county." The subscription was an error, which arose from the fact that Mr. Beasman did present a favorable report from the Temperance Committee on Senator Moore's bill providing for a local option election in Worcester county, March 21st. No local option bill has been presented in either house for this county. The SENTINEL is warranted in expressing the belief that if such a bill, properly framed, were presented, Mr. Beasman would unhesitatidly advocate a favorable report by the Temperance Committee. Mr. Beasman's record for clearness of thinking and positiveness in action in all matters pertaining to the best interests of all the people justifies that belief. He must, in common with all whose minds are unbiased by prejudice or self-interest, realize the fact that there is a crying need for legislation "in his own county" for the restriction of and better regulation of the liquor traffic. This is not to say that Mr. Beasman is personally in favor or personally antagonistic to local option, for on that subject the SENTINEL has no knowledge. But it does know that so far as lies within his power he is willing to allow the people of his county to say what they want, either high license or the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

Ohio Answers Foraker.

Senator Foraker, of Ohio, having accused President Roosevelt of employing federal patronage in that State to promote the Taft boom for the Presidency, the President promptly repelled the accusation. Thereupon the Senator, in a lengthy speech on the floor of the Senate, on Monday, submitted what he called proofs of the charge. He stated that there were 100 cases in which federal patronage had been employed or Presidential menaces made for the purpose of aiding Taft to carry the Ohio delegation. He cited but one, however, and that was the case of Bryson, the postmaster of Athens. The appointment of Mr. Bryson was determined upon by the President, upon the recommendation of Congressman Douglass. Afterwards the President notified Mr. Douglass that charges of corruption had been preferred against Mr. Bryson and, that, pending their investigation, the appointment would not be made. It had became known that Mr. Bryson was a pronounced anti-Taft man, and to this cause Senator Foraker attributed the holdup in his appointment. But, after all, Bryson was appointed, and the Postmaster General explains that this was done after the charges against him had been thoroughly investigated and found groundless. His hostility to Judge Taft was not regarded as a reason for withholding the appointment. Senator Foraker, however, has been so ambitious to secure a portion of the Ohio delegation to the Republican National Convention in his own favor that he clung to his original charge and made the one case a test of its truth. Few unbiassed men will believe in his view of the matter.

At any rate, Ohio answers him with a solid delegation to the National Convention for Taft. Every county in the State, with a single exception, has elected Taft delegates to the State convention of Ohio, and that one county has not yet chosen its delegation.

Senator Foraker's ambition has outstripped his discretion and warped his judgment. It has long been patent to intelligent observers that Taft is the choice of a large majority of the Republicans of Ohio for the Presidential nomination and that the Senator's efforts to prevent an expression of their preference would be futile. He will be fortunate if his persistency in endeavoring to thwart the wishes of the people of the State shall not result in his being supplanted in the Senate. His bitterness towards the administration and Taft has not had a similar response, at least from the latter.

Election Supervisors Appointed.

Governor Crothers has appointed as election supervisors for this county:

Democratic—
Harry S. Musselman, Manchester.
John M. Roberts, Westminster.

Republican—
Louis E. Shriver, Union Mills.

The Anti-Saloon League's general Local option bill has been introduced in the Senate by Hon. Wm. B. Baker, of Harford county, and in the House of Delegates by Mr. Jones, of Wicomico county. Next Tuesday has been set for the hearing of the advocates of the bill, and a great host of its friends from all over the State will be in Annapolis on that day. The hearing will be at 3 o'clock P. M. It is announced that the Pennsylvania R. R. will run a special train to Annapolis, leaving Union Station at 12 48 P. M., returning leaving Annapolis thirty minutes after the conclusion of the hearing, and that the fare will be 75 cents for the round trip. It is understood that the opponents of the measure will be given an opportunity to be heard in the same manner, in the near future.

A Pleasant Occasion.

Monday last was the 38th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lippy, of Snydersburg, but it was not formally celebrated. Incidentally, however, the evening of the day proved an interesting one, not only to Mr. and Mrs. Lippy, but to a number of their neighbors, who dropped in to see them casually, and to the force of clerks, salesmen and saleswomen of the Babylon & Lippy Co., of this city, who, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Lippy, went sled-riding to the home in Snydersburg, where they received a cordial welcome and were entertained with generous hospitality. During the evening refreshments were served and a happy time was spent by all present. The sled ride to and from Snydersburg was also heartily enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lippy are the parents of Mr. Chas E. Lippy, of the Babylon & Lippy Company.

A Flinch Party.

On February 12th Mr. and Mrs. John Leese, near this city, gave a very pleasant Flinch party to a few of the young people of this vicinity. About seven o'clock the guests began to arrive and it was not long until the house was thrown open to the Flinch players. The guests played all the games that could be played with Flinch. After these games and instrumental music, they were invited to the dining room to partake of ice cream, lemonade, cake, apples, &c., to which all did ample justice. About midnight all departed for their homes, having spent a very pleasant evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Leese, Misses Annie and Sadie Leese, Ida Petry, Mamie, Mertie and Elsie Ecker, Nettie Wantz, Mabel Myers, Jottie Houck and May Currens, Messrs. DIED.

IN MEMORIAM,

Frederick A. Wagoner, died February 10th, 1906.

The last farewell was spoken,
Two years ago to-day,
Our family circle broken,
When our father passed away.

By his Family.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, Owen P. McGrain, who was killed 3 years ago, to-day, February 14th, 1905.

In the graveyard oft I wander;
Where the flowers so gently wave
Lies the one I loved so dearly,
In his lonely, silent grave.

Three years have passed away but yet
It seems like a dream at night to me,
Oh! that sad, sad morning
When you left me,

Day after day my hopes grow brighter,
As I near the shining shore,
For I know across the river
Waits the loved one gone before.

Annie V. McGrain.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of Burns Post No. 13, G. A. R., of Westminster, held on Saturday, Feb. 8th, 1908, the undersigned were appointed to prepare a tribute of respect to the memory of our late Comrade, THOS. J. HUNT, who died in Baltimore, on Jan. 22nd, 1908, and in pursuance of that duty submit the following as truthfully expressive of the high estimation in which Comrade Hunt was held by the members of this Post, and by all who knew his character and worth: Comrade Hunt was a citizen who recognized the duty of patriotism and when the country's life was imperilled did not hesitate to enter the ranks of her defenders and endure all the hardships, toils, dangers and sacrifices incident to the obligations of an American soldier in time of war. Quiet and unassuming in demeanor and gentle in manner, he was yet, in battle, a brave and sturdy soldier, who did not flinch from the fiery hail of bullets or the shrieking of murderous shells. It can be truly said of him, both in military and civil life, that he knew his duty and performed it faithfully and manfully. When the war was over and its dangers past he returned to the quiet pursuits of private life and took up its duties with a free and willing hand. He lived among his neighbors an upright, manly and worthy life and, dying, has left to his family the heritage of a good name and his comrades a noble and worthy example. We venerate his virtues and will cherish his memory until for us, too, taps shall be sounded and we shall have answered our last roll call.

And now, we, the members of Burns Post No. 13, G. A. R., desire to express to his widow and children in this their hour of sorest affliction, our sincere and heartfelt sorrow and mourning and to offer our most sincere condolence, commending them to Him, who alone can help and comfort in this, their hour of trial, and assuring them of our assistance and support in the future, wherever they so desire or command.

RESOLVED, That this Tribute of Respect be published in the AMERICAN SENTINEL, and a copy sent to the family of the deceased.

Respectfully,

GEORGE C. CRASS,
JOHN M. REESE,
