028

1860 January 14th

SIDE ONE

or not I do not know. If we do sell them how much milk do you think we ought to take as a regular thing every day. The shirts look very nicely, I will cut off the collars tomorrow. I am so sorry to hear about Annie Perot if she should get well enough do urge her to come down and see us I should think strawberry time would be a good one. Ours are in full bloom now. I hope they are not much sick at Israel's. But now I must bid you good night, as I want to write a note to Miss B.

Wednesday

All well this morning so cloudy that we doubt there being any service at Owensville. And now good bye.
Much love to all around you

Your affec daughter
Mary H. Murray

Ivy Neck April 17th 1860

My dearest Mother

I am glad to be able to tell you that Margaret arrived here safely this morning, I rode down to meet her taking Deedie with me we had a pretty warm drive but still it made a little change of scene for us. The children get along with Margaret wonderfully Deedie ~~does~~ allows her to do everything for her except putting to bed, and as she had missed her nap to day I of course did not attempt to carry any point. Mary will play with her and went into the next room with her this afternoon and is altogether getting along as well as we could expect. It says that she got along very well