If you are not already a subscriber to the AMERICAN SENTINEL, send to THE AMERICAN SENTINEL COMPANY $1.50, and you will receive both weeklies for one year. Old subscribers, who will pay their subscriptions to date and $1.50 additional can take advantage of the same offer.

Smoked glasses were brought into use on Sunday morning, and the eclipse of the sun observed by many of our citizens. The sky was cloudless in this vicinity. At the moment of greatest contact, many were able to view the unusual spectacle with the naked eye. According to the observations of astronomers at the United States Naval Observatory, Washington, the first contact occured at 35 minutes and 28 seconds after 9 o'clock, ten seconds ahead of predicted time; while the second contact occurred 49 minutes and 2 seconds past noon, 23 seconds ahead of the predicted time.

On Sunday evening about eight o'clock, Mr. James T. Trayer's residence on East Main street, this city, had a narrow escape from a serious fire. Mr. Trayer struck a match and lighted a lamp in an upstairs room. He blew out the flame of the match and threw it into a cup standing on a table in the room, and went down the stairs. As he returned a few minutes later, he heard a strange crackling noise, and hurriedly entering the room found the papers on the table in a blaze. In the cup into which the match was thrown were three penholders, one a gold fountain pen, another an ordinary holder, and the third with holder of celluloid. It is evident that the match had held a spark of fire which caused the celluloid holder to ignite. Mr. Trayer succeeded in extinguishing the flames after the top of the handsome oak table had been badly burned. Mr. Trayer is Master of Finance of Charity Lodge, K. of P., and had been using the table in making out his reports. Part of the report which he had written was destroyed, but fortunately the lodge books lying on the table were closed and escaped serious injury. Arthur M. Zile demoralized the AMERICAN SENTINEL force, on Tuesday afternoon. The editors dropped their pencils, the presses stopped running, the Simplex took a rest. the devil had a chance to cool off, and Manager Mitten ——. when Director Zile came into the office bearing a gallon freezer of ice cream, from his Winfield Creamery. Yes it was not merely ice cream, but ice CREAM, spelled with capitals and underscored. When he returned later in the afternoon, he was glad to get back even the empty freezer, and to the voluble expressions of thanks, could only respond "The pleasure is mine, don't mention it." But we do mention it, and mention it out loud, that he knows how to make ice cream and the SENTINEL boys know a good thing when they see it.

Phenomenal Wheat Yield.

On Wednesday morning, Mr. George E. Marker, residing near this city, delivered to Roberts, Roop & Co., this city, the first of the new crop of wheat. The second supply of wheat came a few minutes later to N. I. Gorsuch & Son. It was brought by Mr. R. Jacob Wantz from his farm near this city, and was a fine quality of Fultz wheat, that yielded 25 bushels to the acre. He received .80 per bushel.

Washington, Westminster and Gettysburg Railroad.

On Monday night last a special meeting of the Mayor and City Council was held, to hear Mr. T. B. Redmond, of Altanta, Georgia, who was present to make a statement preliminary to a request, which will be made at the regular meeting next Monday night, for a franchise for the Washington, Westminster and Gettysburg Railroad. Mr. Redmond stated in substance that the capital for the building of this road is ready; that promoters will ask of Westminster only that which they ask of communities through which it is proposed to build the road, namely, the franchise to cross its streets and the rights of way necessary. They will ask the city and citizens of Westminster to aid them in securing rights of way for four miles on each side of the town and through the corporate limits. A number of citizens spoke in advocacy of the proposition, which, if it can be carried out, will redound so largely to the development of the county and building up of the city.

The Mayor and City Council appointed Messrs. Oliver M. Crouse, A. Bailey Morelock and H. K. Oursler a committee to lay the matter before the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, at a meeting to be held this week, to secure the suggestions and cooperation of that influential organization.

The meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association will be held on Friday night, at 8 o'clock in the rooms of the Royal Arcanum, in the Wantz building, and all citizens are invited to be present.

The Taylorsville Aid Society.

The Ladies Aid Society of Taylorsville met at the home of Mrs. Geo. Wright, Thursday afternoon June 25th. After the exercises they were invited to the dining room to partake of refreshment. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wright, Rev. Taylor and wife, Rev. Nogle, Mesdames George Cecil, Emma Frizzell, Ella Barnes, Nannie Gunn, Lue Marion, Manda Shipley, Edna Barnes, Esena Franklin, Bell Gunn and Florence Magin; Misses Dena Byers, Ethel Barnes, Maggie Frizzell, Cora Franklin, Dorthene Gunn, Virginia Wright, Hilda Magin, Nellie Wright, Maggie Wright; Messrs. Harry Bounds, Fred. Magin, Thur Augustus and Clarence Wright.

Serious Driving Accident.

Four persons were injured, one of them very seriously, on Sunday last, in a runaway, at the bridge over the Monocacy river, about half a mile west of Harney. The approach to the river is down a steep hill and as Mr. Albert Slagenhaupt and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Emma Mann, wife of Rev. Mr. Mann, and Mrs. Biovkley, all of Littlestown, Pa., who were on their way to Emmitsburg, were descending it in a two seated vehicle the horse suddenly began to kick and then ran violently to the foot of the declivity. At that point the vehicle was overturned and wrecked and all its occupants thrown against the wall of the bridge abutment. Those who witnessed the accident expressed surprise that any of the party escaped with life. As it was, all were rendered unconscious and more or less injured. Mr. Slagenhaupt's face and hands were badly skinned, Mrs. Mann's hand was hurt and her shoulder and ankle sprained, Mrs. Biovkley received a four-inch gash in her forehead, and Mrs. Slagenhaupt had her face and body badly bruised and was also injured internally. All four were taken to their homes in Littlestown, Mrs. Slagenhaupt in a critical condition. The accident occured about 7 o'clock in the morning.

Fire Alarm System.

At the regular meeting of the Fire Deparment, on Wednesday night, M. V. Shriver, special representative of the International Fire Alarm System was present and in person renewed the offer made to a committee from the department some months ago to instal this system of fire alarm in this city, at about the actual cost of installation. A number of methods were suggested, and for each a price named. That which the department desires contemplates a large gong at the building and small gongs in the residences of the members. All these gongs would be operated from the telephone exchange. Any telephone can be used in turning in the alarm to central. It is however suggested that there should be about ten alarm signal boxes on the street in various parts of the city to make the system perfect.

The gentlemen named below were appointed a committee to call upon the County Commissioners, the Mayor and City Council, and the representatives of the insurance companies doing business here and ask their help in installing the system. The same committee is authorized to wait upon the citizens generally and solicit personal contributions to make up the sum that may be needed after the bodies above named have contributed. It is thought that without any doubt the Board of County Commissioners will make a liberal appropriation in view of the increased protection to the county property and that the City Fathers and insurance companies will follow the same course for the sake of increased protection to all property. The committee is composed of Chas. V. Wantz, chairman; W. F. Thomas, J. M. Reifsnider, F. T. Shaeffer, John E. Eckenrode, J. Pearre Wantz, J. M. Roberts, M. E. Walsh, O. D. Gilbert and J. H. Cunningham.

An Important Advertisement.

The attention of all subscribers of the SENTINEL is respectfully called to the advertisement of E. Oliver Grimes, Jr., Esq., attorney for the receivers in Cause No. 4201 Equity, in another column.

He is correct in his statement that the American Sentinel Company can no longer continue the courtesy hertofore extended to these receivers.

The American Sentinel Company has no relation whatever to the receivership. It has permitted its editors to receive money due the receivers purely as a matter of courtesy.

No matter what is the date on your paper, you owe the American Sentinel nothing prior to September 14th, 1907. Every subscriber, therefore who is in arrears is requested to send to the American Sentinel Company the sum of One Dollar which will pay his subscription to September 14th, 1908.

This request is made in view of the ruling of the Postoffice department that makes it impossible for any newspaper in the country to send copies to subscribers who owe a year or more on subscription, without putting a one cent stamp on each copy. There are a number of subscribers who will be in arrears to the American Sentinel Company for one year's subscription on September 14th, next. We do not wish to lose them as subscribers, nor do they wish to part with the Sentinel. This early notice is therefore given, so that they and we may comply with the ruling of the P. O. department. It is true that September 14th, is ten weeks distant but the weeks pass rapidly and it will not do to delay in a matter of such importance as this. As an inducement to promptness, we will extend the subscription of every subscriber, sending us one dollar within the next thirty days and mentioning this notice, one month beyond the date to which his remittance would entitle him; for example—any subscriber whose date is prior to September 14th, 1907, by sending one dollar can have his subscription extended to October 14th 1908.

"Will Make Good Anywhere"

The many friends of Mr. William Buehler Seabrook, who is a Westminster boy, will, upon reading the below reproduced editorials from two leading Southern dailies, share the pleasure and excuse the pardonable pride of his father and grandfather, the junior and senior editors of the SENTINEL, which leads them to publish for the benefit of his young friends here, these words of highest praise from those who know him best.

The Chronicle, Augusta, Georgia, the oldest daily in the South, of which Mr. Seabrook is the city editor, says editorially:

"Mr. William B. Seabrook came to the Chronicle several years ago as the 'cub' reporter. He leaves the paper in a short while, about 30 days, as the city editor. He is today one of the best young newspaper writers and newsgathers in the South. He knows news, knows how to 'handle it', is accurate, straightforward and painstaking.

"His special articles—his 'skits'—are strong contributions to the journalisic lierature of the day. He knows how to interest the reader and how to hold his attention. He is a graceful writer and has a remarkable facility for grouping facts. In descriptive work he is at his best. He quickly grasps what is best of a subject and presents it entertainingly and in admirable manner.

"Personally, Mr. Seabrook is manly and frank—a splendid gentleman in every way. He is fair and just to others and true to himself. He comes from a family of newspaper men. His father and grandfather are journalists. In the Chronicle office every person admires him and is his friend.

"Mr. Seabrook leaves The Chronicle to tour, on foot, France and other continental countries for a syndicate of papers. He will be abroad about a year. To the work in which he is to engage, he is well adapted. The Chronicle, of course, will be included in the syndicate of journals that are to handle the letters."

Another Augusta daily, The Herald says:

"The travel bee has gotten into Will Seabrook's bonnet and he is getting ready to shake the dust of local service from his feet and to tread in pastures new. He is a newspaper man born and bred and will "make good" anywhere, whether it be up in a balloon or among the prospective emigrants of Southern Europe. His is an interesting experiment, and if pluck and hard work and the ability to observe with open eyes count for anything it will be but another stepping stone to success that surely awaits him in the journalistic field.

"The newspapermen of Augusta wish this 'departing brother' health and prosperity and happiness, and may Europe learn to appreciate Will Seabrook as do we his fellows here in Augusta."

Mr. Seabrook has spent several years in the study of foreign languages and other preparation for this journalistic venture, and, after a brief visit to Westminster during the early part of August, will sail for Europe about the first of September as the representative of a number of leading dailies.

Taylorsville Base-Ball Tenm.

The Taylorsville base ball team will open up again on Saturday, July 4th. We will play Day Star team. The Day Star team say they haven't lost any games yet this season. The Taylorsville team has played six games and lost one. The Day Star is very anxious to play the Taylorsville boys so we will accomodate them on July 4, at Winfield. There will be a festival at that place. The Taylorsville base ball team has been trying to get a game with the Smallwood team for sometime. They promised to play us on July 4th, but have told the manager lately that they wouldn't be able to play us on that date. We just claim that they are afraid to play us. I think they are a little sore over the game that we won from the New Windsor base ball team. Sandyville boys beat the Smallwood team every game they play. New Windsor beat Sandville and we beat New Windsor, so we hold the championship. We would be glad to hear from any amateur teams in the State. The Taylorsvlle base ball team will hold their festival on July 4th at Taylorsville. Everybody is invited. We will play the New Windsor that evening at Taylorsville. The Taylorsville line up: F. Moore, catch; E. Barnes, pitch; W. Barnes, first base; F. Barnes, second base; H. Moore, third base; R. Gunn, left field; F. Wright, center field; C. Pickett, right field; W. Ingeld, short stop. Mr. Henry Reck, formerly of Mt. Union, this county, died in Baltimore county, Monday, June 29th, 1908, aged 85 years, 6 months and 12 days. Mr. Reck was one of the old residents of the Mt. Union neighborhood, where he was known and respected by all. Kind and charitable, his ministrations to the sick are remembered by many with gratitude and appreciation. Two sons (James Reck, of Baltimore, and Frank Reck, of Union Bridge) and one brother, Jerry Reck, of Howard county, survive him. He was buried at Mt. Union, his pastor, Rev. G. W. Baughman officiating.

Mrs. Frances Guyon Buehler.

Mrs. Frances Guyon Buehler, the mother of Mrs. W. L. Seabrook, wife of the junior editor of the SENTINEL, died at her home in Gettysburg, Pa., on Wednesday morning, July 1st, 1908, at 5 o'clock, in the 83rd year of her age. Mrs. Buehler was the widow of the late David A. Buehler, who died in 1887, and who was during his life a prominent attorney at law of Adams county, and proprietor and editor of the Star & Sentinel, Gettysburg. Her husband was for many years and until his death the Vice-President of the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association, of which the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania was the President. As vice-president, Mr. Buehler was the active head of the Association, and it was during his administration that most of the monuments were erected on the battlefield, many of its avenues laid out, and the great National Park projected. He was the postmaster of Gettysburg at the time of the Confederate invasion in 1863, and made his escape with the books of the office and other property of the Government, and his children. Mrs. Buehler remained in Gettysburg with a young child that was ill and could not be taken away. During the first day's battle, many wounded soldiers were taken to her house, every room of which was soon filled. Fortunately her cellars were well stored with provisions, and during the three days of the battle and many days afterwards, assisted by soldiers, who were only slightly wounded, she ministered to the suffering. During the battle, while the town was occupied by the Confederate forces, Major Harry Gilmore, of Maryland, with a squad of men, came to the house and searched it from garret to cellar, and though they found abundant stores of food, left it unmolested, and finding in the house no Federal soldiers except those who were wounded, took their parole, and placed round the house of this brave loving, tender hearted woman, who forgot her own sorrows and anxieties in ministering to others, a guard that was not only a guard of protection but also a guard of honor. Many a soldier owed his life to her gentle care, and in countless soldier's homes all over the land her name is revered.

Mrs. Buehler had been ill for many weeks, suffering from angina pectoris. It is a remarkable coincidence that she should fall asleep on the anniversary of that eventful day of her life, the first day of the battle of Gettysburg, and that in death as in life, her name will be inseparably connected with those who there suffered for the cause they loved.

Mrs. Buehler is survived by three daughters (Mrs. John A. Wirt, of Des Moines, Iowa, widow of the late Rev. John A. Wirt, D. D.; Mrs. Kate B. Stall, wife of Rev. S. Stall, D. D., of Philadephia; and Mrs. Myra B. Seabrook, wife of Rev. W. L. Seabrook, of this city; her three sons-in-law being ministers of the Lutheran Church) and three sons (Guyon H. Buehler, proprietor of the Star & Sentinel, Gettysburg, Pa.; Head-Master Huber G. Buehler, of the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn.; and Dr. David A. Buehler, of Harrisburg, Pa.)

Mrs. Buehler will be buried by the side of her husband, on Friday afternoon, July 3rd, in Evergreen Cemetery, which adjoins the National Cemetery, Gettysburg.

Musicale.

The most delightful musicale the writer has been privileged to attend in a long time was given by the Misses Shoemaker, at "Wayside," the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Shoemaker, on June 2. Nearly every one present possessed more or less musical talent, but all were keenly appreciative of the superb performance of Miss McCullen at the piano, Prof. E. R. Dunn with the violin, and Prof. R. J. Brandenburg as vocalist. Except the period of refreshments, which were very generously provided, the entire evening was devoted to music.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hewitt, Misses Marie McCullen, of Baltimore; Jane Yingling, of Westminster; Edna Zile, Addie Barnes, Marie Streaker, Annie Keefer, Mabel Dorsey, Florence Brandenburg, Mattye Shoemaker, Abbye Shoemaker, Profs. E. R. Dunn, of Alexandria, Va.; Geo. A. Steele, of New York; R. J. Brandenburg, Messrs. Jno. Keefer, Wm. Hughs, Wm. Beck, Theo. Streaker, W. W Jenkins. New Windsor Wins Again.

The New Windsor Base Ball Club defeated the National Athletic Club of Baltimore last Saturday in a very interesting game by the score of 8 to 1. The features of the game were the pitching of Loats and the batting of the home team. Loats fanned fourteen of the visitors and allowed them but six hits. Reimau, for the visitors was touched up for fifteen safeties including a home run and a three bagger by Spencer. Danner caught a good game for New Windsor. This makes four games Loats has pitched for New Windsor, allowing the opposing teams but five runs in the four games. Next Saturday July 4, promises to be a record breaker for baseball in New Windsor. The strong Seven A. C. of Baltimore will be the attraction in a double header. Morning game at 10 o'clock, afternoon game at 3 o'clock. A festival will be held at night, with plenty of fireworks and a band of music to help to cheer the weary.
