1860 May

James's dies light, Cannes died last and is easy, both for those who ride and the beasts who draw. Jacob Pfister has one at least days of he were ordering another he would have the change to suggest. It will take if we cannot find a better wheel we are looking for. You can not do with none but the close housing, winter, which this is only suited for the summer and you can have that for winter use. Last evening following how did we receive Emily's letter which had neglected to deposit S. Mail on the morning. You will receive it with this the boys we will not tell Cousin of the forgetfulness. I have no idea of its contents but from the way took for some reply Another Chance we can send it. Sunday P.M.

As regards Mrs Marks turning Doggett Clifton Hall Dr knows private Establishment as preferring more advantageous perhaps than Dr Kirkbrides. But, if Cousin Sally will take her or he may finish later her to both please and thus give her an opportunity to form a more correct judgment than I am competent to form, as she will know all the circumstances.

will of God. It is surely a sore trial to see one fine strong healthy beautiful child taken after another, and none left but the most delicate of all. But God doeth all things well & giveth no account of his matters. May we learn more entire submission to the dispensations towards us. & long to be entirely conformed to the holy will & to wait on the Lord of the allotment without murmuring or disputing and yet I find myself prone to both evil dispositions. Israel and Elizabeth are as dear as ever they were at the laying of our corner stone and offered to bring me back their company as they very profoundly supposed I must be fatigued by the excitement and exertion. But the days of South Carolina are a blank again hoping to have an operation on his Eyes. Norris & Hayes and myself are to hold a consultation tomorrow which added to my other engagements will make it a hard day for me. Mr. B. David is quite sick and very nervous. I am sorry to say refuses to leave the city. I had hoped to get him away the first week in June and shall find it hard during alone to his cabin as during the warm weather. Finding Miss Ce on returning
