1860 May

to set me out. I took another sheet and wrote a letter to Mrs Tyson. She at last begged to know if I could tell her where to find a gardener — what I could ask. And then bade me good night. I am afraid what one old friend Mr Wills and Willie stopped after church to make some enquiries about Mr. McCrea. She sent her love to you and how we are quite worried I will add the tender expression of mine for you and the dear children and friend Chalmers.

May God bless you all

Your loving husband

Alpha Morris

Monday Morn

Quite well. Been a little annoyed yesterday by finding my room occupied but it is all over. Mrs M is going to Eastern shore. There is Evidently something all crowded away. The I suppose she had something she wished to say to me and lost here to catch an opportunity

Anna Pecot appears better in every respect and more inclined to make the effort to go the last of the week. So that I think you had better hold yourself in readiness to receive her on Saturday next. Gallaway will go with them. How can you get them all from the Landing the two ladies & Gallaway? You cannot well only receive four persons in all so that neither Mary nor yourself can meet them. Should they come, do not let her know there is no medical treatment required. Feel as without fatigue. Nothing but quiet strolls about the garden and lawn and a occasional drive through woods & pastures at the farthest. Nothing will impede the progress of the destroyer. Everyone just returned from Hatteras. Mrs A Bowen had an attack of Cholera Morbus and finding Miss Amelia has no other place to set, entering chamber left my seat at the table and apologized for my in civility and retired to my room. It is a great nuisance but I do not allow it to annoy me. Yesterday afternoon Sally came home to say Dennis took charge of the cottage as neither of his sisters could be there & she had an engagement. Miss A. turned out herself just as we left again. There is many neither