For Congress.
ROBERT GARRETT,
of Baltimore County.

Election—Tuesday, November 3rd. 1908.

The Citizens' Democratic League of Baltimore County was formed on Friday last, with T. Scott Offutt, of Towson, president; John W. Sparks, of the Twelfth district, vice-president; Charles E. Wheatley, of Phoenix, secretary. A leading purpose of the organization is the defeat of J. F. C. Talbott for Congress and the destruction of his political power in the county.

Formally Accepts.

Mr. Bryan was formally notified on Wednesday of his nomination for the Presidency. His speech of acceptance abounds in glittering generalities, in high sounding phrases, in sophomoric platitudes, and windy rodomontade. Unchangeable partisans will doubtless applaud its utterances upon first reading, but sober second thought, applying the test of pure reason, will convince them that the chief merit of the address is in the adroitness with which Mr. Bryan hedges upon the real issues of the campaign and puts in the background all the heresies he has advocated in the past, free-silver, government ownership of railroads, and others of Populistic breed, seeking at once to conciliate the conservative and at the same time hold to his support the radical element in his party. His speech of acceptance must cause intelligent men of all parties to think carefully, and thinking, they will hesitate to cast their votes for a man whose "political philosophy is as changeable as the winds and can be cut and turned in accordance with party exigencies."

The Baltimore Sun for Taft.

Readers of the Baltimore Sun must have been seeing for some time past, from its editorials on the political situation, that it prefers the election of Judge Taft to the Presidency over Mr. Bryan, the Democratic candidate. Up to yesterday it had not so declared in perfectly definite terms, but in a lengthy editorial of that date it clears away all pretext for doubt on the subject, distinctly and succinctly expresses its preference for Taft and assigns its reasons therefor. The article throughout is forcibly and ably written and its reasoning cogent and convincing. Following are some of its conclusions:

"If, as the Democratic nominee asserts, the paramount issue in this campaign is 'the rule of the people,' the use of their government 'for the protection of their rights and the promotion of their welfare,' the proposition submitted to the voter is not only a very practical one, but a very simple one. It is the judgment of the Sun that the material welfare of the people of the United States—industrial and financial—would be promoted to a greater degree by the election of Mr. Taft than by the election of Mr. Bryan; that their rights would be safeguarded as carefully by Mr. Taft as by Mr. Bryan."

"The Sun is convinced that the 'arm of the law,' personified by a President of balanced judgment, with a thorough knowledge of the law—a man of steady purpose, just and resolute—would prove a better defender of the rights of the people, would do more to promote their material welfare, than the Big Stick has done in the hands of Mr. Roosevelt or than the Big Club could do in the hands of Mr. Bryan. It is our deliberate judgment that for the next four years the material interests of the people of this country would be safer with Mr. Taft at the head of the national Government than with Mr. Bryan. We further believe that while lawbreakerss would be brought to account by Mr. Taft with as little fear or favor as Mr. Bryan could display, the methods employed by Mr. Taft would not curtail the workingman's opportunities for employment by disturbing the business of law-abiding men and corporations, as has been witnessed in the last few years. Mr. Taft's experience in important administrative posts, his judicial temperament, his patience and thoroughness in investigation, justify the belief that as President he would execute the law faithfully and well, but not spectacularly. And while this type of man ought to be in the White House all the time, he seems to be especially needed now, when the country is emerging from an industrial and financial depression which brought distress and suffering into many homes."

It is significant that such Democratic journals as the Sun, which is one of the best newspapers in the country, have been forced by sound conviction to take this stand against their own party. For the Sun is not alone among the leading papers, either with Democratic proclivities or independent of party ties, which have declared a preference for Mr. Taft. The independent press generally and many papers which, all other things being equal, would prefer a Democratic President are now arrayed against Mr. Bryan.

A recent issue of "Newspaperdom," a journal published in New York, especially for the benefit of the press, gives the following, which forcibly emphasizes this statement:

"I see that Bryan has not the support of the New York City press," said Mr. R. B. Dunn, of Detroit, at the Hotel Cadillac.

"I am a traveling man and I have been interested in watching the newspapers all over the country to see if Bryan was going to get the support of any newspapers which turned against him in 1896 and 1900. So far as I have been able to estimate up to date he will have fewer papers with him than ever before.

"In Philadelphia he has only one newspaper supporter. In Chicago there is no large Democratic paper. There are a few in New England, but of course they will be of little importance, since he does not expect any electoral votes from that section. In New York State I have counted only seven important dailies headed for the Bryan band wagon. And, as they say at Fairvew, 'none of them cut much alfalfa.' Ohio contains not more than four large Bryan sheets. In the South he has about a half-dozen, mostly weaklings, and they are only using cheapest sirens in his behalf.

"Emerson said that when the press was against him he knew he was right. Possibly, in an Emersonian way, Mr. Bryan and his followers are contented with the non-support of the daily press."

Learn to Play Piano or Organ in One Hour

If you can't play by note, we will teach you in one hour to play your favorite piece of music by the "Easy Form" method. You will then be ready to play at once and all music written in this new method, which is so simple that an eight year old child can learn to play the piano or organ in an hour without a teacher. Don't have a silent organ or piano in the house any longer. Try this method at our expense.

OUR OFFER: We will send you, express charges prepaid by us, a bound portfolio of 100 pieces of popular and sacred music in the "Easy Form" method, and our Guide to the keyboard and complete simple instructions, all you will need to begin playing your favorite pieces at once. Try the music seven days. If you want it send us $1.50 within the seven days, and $1.00 a month for five months thereafter. If you don't want it send it back to us in the seven days at our expense. Simply write us today and say "I accept your free trial offer in the AMERICAN SENTINEL, Westminster, Md. My piano or organ has ——— white keys."

(IMPORTANT: Be sure to say how many white keys your instrument has.)
