Too Many Notions.

While Mr. Gompers is endeavoring to corral the workingmen of this country in the cause of Mr. Bryan, that element of the voters is doing some thinking on its own account and is not owned by Mr. Gompers or any other labor organization official. A Democratic citizen of Westminster, who makes his living by unskilled labor, in a talk with the writer, recently, playfully remarked:

"I guess we'll beat you this time."

The reply to that was: "Probably not. The people of this country are not likely to trust Mr. Bryan. They know he is not a safe man."

Then came an unexpected rejoinder. Said the man: "Well, I am not old enough to have voted many times, though I have always voted the full Democratic ticket. But this time I intend to vote for Taft. Bryan has too many notions."

This man, who is only an unskilled laborer, expressed in a few sensible words, a characteristic of Mr. Bryan that must be apparent to people who think for themselves. He has too many "notions" to be safely entrusted with the reins of government.

Special Campaign Offer.

Here is an excellent offer and opportunity to keep in touch with the Presidential campaign and what the world is doing. STONER.—In loving remembrance of George E. Stoner, who died Sept. 8th, 1904.

And though at times he smiled,
A smile of heavenly birth,
And when the angels said "Come home,"
He smiled farewell to earth.

To live for Christ it was his pleasure,
To die for Him it was his gain;
For on the cross the Saviour suffered
That he and all might live again.

When his voice grew weak and feeble,
And he no more on earth could sing,
Then he whispered:
"Soon with the angels I will sing."

By his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Stoner, and his brothers and sisters.

POOL.—In loving remembrance of our dear son, Herbert, who was killed one year ago, September 14th, 1907.

One weary year has passed, dear Herbert,
Yet it seems but yesterday
Since we saw them place your form
Beneath the cold and silent clay.

We will never forget your dear, sweet face,
Nor the brightness of your eyes,
The time that you were called away
As we did not bid you good-bye.

Nobly at his post he stood,
Our brother, fond and true,
Loved by all his friends so well
And kind to all he knew.

Before the night had arrived
Oh, how sore our hearts had bled;
For he who left us full of life
Was brought home to us dead.

By his sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Estey Osborn.

Oh, darling Herbert, we loved you so,
How sad it was to part;
One dear thought of your sweet face
Will cause the tears to start.

By his Parents.

Mid-Summer sale of BLANKETS

Buy Now and Pay Less

We did not intend to have our usual Summer Blanket Sale this year, as at the time we usually buy our blankets, the mills prices were too high, and we did not buy them then, those merchants who DID buy early paid at least 25 per cent. more than we. The mills could not hold their prices and the market broke, and there was the biggest auction sale of blankets in New York last week ever in the history of the trade. This was just what we were waiting for, so we could UNDER-SELL all competitors. Always on the watch for bargains we bought some blankets at this sale, and we offer them to you while they last, for less than they have ever been offered in our twenty one years in business.

Buy your blankets NOW for winter, and save money, as there are no more to be had at these prices.

Special for the Auction

100 pairs of extra size 11-4 white blankets, extra heavy and actually worth $3.00 a pair, if bought in the regular way. We offer them while they last for $1.98 per pair.

Full size 10-4 White and Gray Cotton Blankets - -	worth	75c,	this sale		49c	pair.

MANY OTHEB SPECIAL LOTS IMPOSSIBLE TO ADVERTISE.

And as a special inducement for you to buy NOW, we offer an additional discount of 10 per cent. on all the above blankets, including the famous Muncy Mills Blankets, (except the $1,98 white blankets and the 49c white and gray blankets.) This sale will end

Saturday, September 19th.

You will make a great mistake if you do not purchase your blankets during this sale.
