MARYLAND NEWS.

William F. Cleaver, formerly editor of the Cumberland Alleganian has earned a reputation as a pedestrian. The confinement of his work injured his health and in August 1907 he began his walking trips. During the year he has covered 4000 miles in counties of Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia and has gained 13 pounds in weight.

The International Tuberculosis Congress will commence in Washington, D. C., September 21. Delegates will be present from all the states and many foreign countries. Maryland will have 400 delegates including many leading physicians. Dr. John S. Fulton, of Baltimore, is in charge and busy installing exhibits.

Walter J. Widmyer, a Western Maryland Railroad brakeman, living in Hagerstown, fell from an engine in the yards in that city, on Sunday, and was run over by the locomotive, which was running backward at the time. His right leg was broken above the knee, his head lacerated and his body is a mass of bruises. The injured man was removed to the hospital, where it was stated that he will probably recover.

The protracted drought in Western Maryland is causing a water famine and much alarm is felt. The Potomac river and creeks are lower than they have been for years. In Hagerstown notice was given on Saturday that the city water would be shut off every night from 9 P. M. to 5 A. M., in order to accumulate a supply for next day's consumption.

Baltimore and Ohio Officer Thomas Phalin is making a raid on thieves who steal doors from cars. He arrested 12 men in one batch at Outcrop. The accused had built porches, chicken coops, coal sheds and other small structures out of car doors. He located 22 doors thus used, and believes that 50 doors were taken, many of them having been cut up for firewood. Eleven men were fined $4.09 each.

The most destructive fire that has occurred in Williamsport in many years visited that place on Friday afternoon. Seven stables and five small buildings were burned and the parsonage of St. Augustine's Catholic Church was wrecked before the flames were checked. A call for assistance was sent to Hagerstown and the Junior Fire Company went to Williamsport on a Western Maryland special, but the local company had checked the fire before their arrival. Loss about $5,000.

At Mount St. Mary's College, near Emmitsburg, Frederick county, preparations are being made for the celebration, next month, of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the institution. The actual date of the anniversary is October 6, but the celebration will be held on October 14 and 15, having been deferred, at the suggestion of Cardinal Gibbons, until after the expected time of his return from Europe, in order that he may be present at the ceremonies. Cardinal Gibbons is president of the board of trustees of the college.

George B. Dorsey, died at his home in Waynesboro, Pa., on Wednesday of last week, of stomach trouble, after an illness extending through a period of 18 months. He had been bedfast four weeks. He was born in Thurmont, Md., September 15, 1850. His parents were Michael and Margaret Dorsey. In 1876 he married Miss Laura E. Roop, Thurmont, and then moved to Keysville, Md., in 1883, where he conducted an undertaking establishment. In 1885 he moved to Emmitsburg, Md., and, in 1891, went to Waynesboro and resided there since. He was employed by the Geiser Mfg. Co. in its separator department.

Sheriff Townsend, of Snow Hill, on Sunday arrested 34 of the alleged violators of the oyster law. They are now under bond. Sheriff Townsend and Deputy Bowen had a busy time Saturday night and all day Sunday running up those for whom warrants had been issued. In most cases they found the accused at their homes and met with no resistance. None had any difficulty in furnishing bond. Captain Howard was in Snow Hill a short time Monday afternoon and reported everything peaceful on the bay. He thinks the solution of the difficulty now is the placing of patrol boats permanently on Sinepuxent bay. He is impressed with the benefits that will accrue from the successful opening of the inlet below Ocean City, and thinks the work is being done in a practical way.

GENERAL NEWS.

Fifty-five men have been killed in building the new Blackwell's Island bridge, over the East river, New York, according to the report of a committee of the Central Federated Union appointed to ascertain the fatalities in that work.

Louis A. Gregori, who fired two shots at Major Dreyfus, last June, during the ceremonies at the Pantheon, Paris, in connection with the canonization of Zola, has been acquitted by the jury before which he was tried. One of his shots struck Dreyfus in the wrist.

The last man who will ever be sentenced to be hanged in Virginia went to the gallows at Madison on Friday last. The condemned man was Lee Strother, a negro, convicted of attempted criminal assault. The last legislature of Virginia passed a law substituting electrocution for hanging. The electric chair has been installed in the penitentiary. Smith, a Portsmouth negro, convicted of criminal assault, will be the first to occupy it.

Over a game of crap at the annual protracted meeting of South Boston Church (colored), near Caddockville, in southern Accomac county, Va., Milton Drammond and Charles Parker were killed and two others seriously shot. All of the parties were negroes.

Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of Gen. Logan, has sued the Washington Railway and Electric Company for $3,500 damages, for personal injuries received when alighting from a car last May. Mrs. Logan was thrown to the ground and severely hurt. She has had to use a cane in walking since the accident.

The number of unemployed in London, England, was strikingly demonstrated last Friday. Three thousand men surrounded and attempted to force their way into a hospital which had advertised for a porter at a wage of $4.50 and meals. An extra detail of police had to be called out to preserve order.

Picturesque High Rock, the most interesting hill resort in Southern Pennsylvania, has been purchased by S. L. Johns, of McSherrystown. It is the highest point of the Pigeon Hills and was once owned by President James Buchanan. Sometimes called Pulpit Rock, this popular observatory is located four miles northeast of Hanover. Its elevation is nearly 1,000 feet above sea level.

William L. Royall, a leading Democratic lawyer of Richmond, Va., has announced that he would hold a public meeting Thursday night to urge his fellow Democrats not to vote for Bryan, saying that his election would be a terrible blunder. Mr. Royall has invited all Democrats to meet him in debate. He has challenged Bryan, Senator Bailey, of Texas, and local politicians to take up the other end of the argument.

Three months of delightful fall-like weather running up to within a fortnight of Christmas, is predicted by George W. Tichenor, the Burlington, N. J., weather prophet, whose prognostications for the last three years have been very successful. Tichenor says this section will experience a late fall, with but few storms, and that the weather will remain moderate until well into December.

Uncle Sam lost his largest postmaster and Adams County, Pa., its largest citizen in the death of Samuel L. Devine, 31 years old, a well-known merchant of Edge Grove, near Hanover. Mr. Devine was 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighed nearly 350 pounds. Although a Democrat, President Roosevelt appointed him postmaster two years ago. He also held the position of assessor of the Conewago Township.

Wilhelm Hagenbeck, of the famous animal training firm of that name, was probably fatally injured on Satuday by a huge bear that he was attempting to drive into its quarters. His stomach was ripped open by the enraged animal and his flesh torn and clawed in a dozen places. Attendants rushed to the rescue, but before they could drive off the bear Hagenback had fallen unconscious from his terrible injuries. He was rushed to a hospital, where it was said his injuries would likely prove fatal.

On Friday, a warrant was issued, at Reading, Pa., for the arrest of Mrs. Harriet E. Monroe, of Washington, D. C., owner of the "Scottish Reformation" entertainment which was being given in the Boyertown Opera House last January when 177 persons lost their lives in the fire which then occurred. The warrant charges criminal negligence in that Mrs. Monroe placed the operation of the calcium lights in the hands of an inexperienced operator. Mrs. Monroe was not in Boyertown at the time of the calamity. Her sister, who lost her life in the fire, was in charge of the entertainment.

After coining $43,000 in $20 gold pieces of the latest design, the San Francisco Mint, acting under orders of the Treasury Department, has stopped work on the coins and is awaiting the arrival of new dies which are expected to correct a fault discovered by bankers. With one ground of complaint eliminated by the restoration of the "In God We Trust" motto, the public has manifested no hesitation in accepting the new double eagles, but the bank tellers complain that the coins will not stack in any such manner as to be accurately counted when they are handling both old and new coins. After several bank balances had been reported seriously inaccurate, report of the matter was made to Washington and the order to stop coining was issued.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS.

Near Vineland, N. J., while painter Elmquist was plying the brush on Thomas Whittaker's barn a calf drank half a gallon of paint and died. Whittaker demanded pay for the calf and Elmquist asked reimbursement for his paint. Whittaker is a tenant and Elmquist claims he was not responsible for the animal while he was painting for the owner. A lawsuit is promised.

Mrs. John T. Windrim, wife of a Philadelphia architect, last week purchased from the Cedar Kennels, New York, probably the smallest dog in the world. The atom is five inches long and four inches high, and weighs 25 ounces. Mrs. Windrim paid $1,000 for the dog, $40 an ounce, more than twice its weight in gold. The dog is 18 months old and has stopped growing. Her sole diet consists of two spoonfuls of mince chicken twice a day, varied with an occasional sardine.

Sandford Liller, of Cross, W. Va., left his boots in the kitchen over night, and when he tried to pull on the boots in the morning he found something rolled up in one of them. He supposed that the canvas lining was rolled up, but when he reached in to pull it out a large copperhead snake fastened its fangs in his finger, lacerating the flesh from the second joint to the end. He quickly applied spirits of turpentine, which counteracted the effects of the poison, and then he dispatched the snake.

Allen Foley, of Arthur, was badly injured by the epxlosion of a whiskey barrel which he had taken home from Keyser W. Va., on Saturday. Foley lighted a match and stuck it in the bunghole to see if there was any dirt or whiskey in the barrel. The gas exploded, tearing out the end of the barrel and hurling Foley about 10 feet against a barbedwire fence. One side of his face was badly burned and his body was bruised. Persons standing by were scorched. The noise of the explosion was heard two miles.

Five farm hands in the employ of Bernard Wilensky, a farmer near Mt. Ephraim, Camden County N. J., were saved from fiery deaths early Saturday morning by the cooing of pigeons. A barn on the place, and in which the men were sleeping, was destroyed, together with valuable farming implements. The loss amounted to $3500. All five of the men were sleeping in the hay loft. When they were awakened by the pigeons which were cooing excitedly, the men leaped from their sleeping quarters only to find the structure a mass of flames. They succeeded in getting several cows, horses and other live stock out of the place, but it was impossible to save the farming implements.

Mrs. George W. Helme, widow of the millionaire founder of the little town of Helmetta, N. J., was a guest at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, last week. When she got into a bath tub she found the water too cold and rose to turn on the hot water. Slipping on a cake of soap she fell and struck her head against the bath tub. She was partially stunned and unable to turn off the hot water or unlock the bath room door. A bell-boy heard her groans and climbed into the room by the fire escape and shut off the hot water. Mrs. Helme was severely scalded and is ill at her home.

William H. Jefferys, editor and publisher of the Camden Argus, Camden, N. J., has forsworn kicking. Next time he kicks he says he will know what he is kicking against. He is laid up with one of his great toes broken and may be stuck to his Thirty-sixth-street house for two weeks. The editor attended a dinner Wednesday night. Later he dreamed that a fellow-newspaper man was kicking holes in his hat. He kicked back and was getting in some fine work on his opponent's headgear when he awoke with a pain that made him yell. He had kicked the wall of his bedroom. The doctor who fixed him up said it was the oddest dream he had heard of in many a day.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Westminster Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching,
With distressing urinary disorders,
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Westminster people endorse this claim:

Chas. H. Campbell, living on Main St., Westminster, Md., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills with highly satisfactory results for a case of kidney complaint that had bothered me at least ten years. My back was always weak and became tired easily, but my most annoying symptom was a dull, dragging pain through my kidneys. My general health was much run down and I was steadily growing worse when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and procured a box. They strengthened my back and gave me immediate relief. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and take pleasure in recommending them to anyone suffering from kidney complaint. I procured them at Chas. W. Moore's drug store." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

French Economy.

"A man doesn't have to go to Paris to learn something about the economy of French cooks," said a janitor. "All he has do is to get a job like mine in a house occupied mostly by French families, and he'll learn some astonishing lessons in the art of saving. Up to two months ago I was working in a building of that kind. So far as attending to the garbage was concerned, I had the easiest time of my life. There was practically no garbage. The people lived well enough, I guess. Anyhow they received packages from the butcher and grocer, but they never seemed to throw anything away. About the only thing they didn't eat was coffee grounds and potato skins and tomato cans, and there was precious little waste of even that.

"Where I am working now the families are all American. That is where the food goes to waste. The people in that house throw away enough provisions every day to feed all those French families a week."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Are Your Shears Good.

THE HOLY LAND.

Jerusalem, upon thy hill,
A golden charm is on thee still,
Tho', on thy streets, has swept in flood,
Mid strife of combat, hero's blood,
Thy walls which prophets' hands have blessed,
Thy streets the Master's feet have pressed,
Something must hold of purity,
Thro' all the years that follow thee,
And blessings in thy shadow dwell,
Nor war, nor conflict can expel.

Oh, village white, of Bethany,
The gentle Christ once bode in thee:
To humble dwellers of thine own
Was boundless might of mercy shown.
His hand was raised; His comfort said,
To hear whose word the shrouded dead
Awoke! And wails that griefs employ
Were turned by Thee to speechless joy.
As friends beheld returning breath
Where late was set the seal of death,
That blessed lowly ministry
Was in thy gates, oh Bethany—
Could flight of years or time's decay
Remove that loving touch away?

—Ruth Bryan Leavitt.

Ants as Weather Prophets.

Ants as weather prophets afford new testimony to the cleverness of these small animals. When you go out on a spring morning, says the Chicago Tribune, and find the ants busily engaged in clearing out their nests and dragging the sand and bits of earth to the surface you may be sure that no matter how cloudy it is, there will be no rain that day, and the probabilities are for several days of good weather.

If, however, you see the ants about the middle of a spring or summer afternoon hurrying back to the nest and a sentinel trotting out in every direction looking up stragglers and urging them to go home as soon as they can get there, you may figure on a rain that afternoon or night.

When the last of the wanderers is found the picket hurries in and the nest is securely sealed from the inside to keep out the water. It is seldom that ants are taken by surprise by the approach of a shower.

THE NAME ON THE STONE

may commence to show the effects of wind and weather. Show that you still remember by having us re-chisel it.

WE RESTORE AND REPAIR MONUMENTS

of any age, size or description. Our charges for such work are always very reasonable. We shall be glad to estimate on the cost of making the old or worn monument in your plot practically a new stone. The memorial that was worth erecting is surely worthy of occasional attention.

CALL ON ME AT ANY TIME

you require dental work and you will not regret it. I practice all kinds of dentistry except the poor kind. I make a specialty of Bridge Work, which is probably one of the most difficult operations in the profession. But I have reduced it to an exact science and can and do guarantee my work in each instance. Let me replace that missing tooth with a new one which will match perfectly the natural teeth in your mouth. It will hurt neither your person nor your purse. Full sets of teeth made while you wait. Painless extracting 25c. Free when plates are ordered. Teeth filled with gold, Silver and Amalgam. Broken plates repaired and made good as new. Charges always moderate.

Western Maryland College WESTMINSTER Md. 42nd Year Opens September 16th, 1908.

PERFECTLY SAFE,

where your sons and daughters are surrounded by the best moral and religious influences; where pure mountain air and water keeps them healthful and where new buildings equipped in modern fashion house them in comfort.

WISELY PLANNED

for both sexes, but reciting in separate classes; making EDUCATION its great business, and keeping athletic and social matters incidental; reducing the cost so as to reach the largest number, but tolerating no student who will not study.

THOROUGH,

offering three separate courses for the degree of A. B., one with Greek and two without; well equipped Scientific Building; Gymnasium and a Faculty of twenty-one specialists.

OF GOOD REPORT.

You will find our students everywhere, ask them. Without large endowments or splendid gifts from the rich we have slowly built up a College whose only claim is the good work it does, and this has kept it growing for forty years
