The most disastrous drought in many years has prevailed from Mason and Dixon line to Canada, and as far to the West as Minnesota, for seven weeks. The Susquehanna river at Harrisburg, Pa., is lower than it has been for 100 years.

John M. Wolf, the veteran pedagogue of York county, Pa., has just begun his sixtieth year as a schoolteacher at Mount Pleasant School, near Hanover. Although 76 years old, he continues in the harness and walks a distance of five miles daily to and from school with as much buoyancy as a young man. He is the oldest schoolteacher in Pennsylvania, both in age and service

The first baseball game between the Waslas University team of Japanese students and the State University team of Washington, which is in Japan advertising the Yukon exposition, to be held in Seattle, was played last week. Postmaster-General Meyer has announced the resignation on Sep. 10 of Second Assistant Postmaster-General James T. McCleary, of Minnesota, which was accepted by the President, effective September 15. On that date Mr. McCleary received the Republican nomination for representative in Congress from the Second Minnesota Congressional district, which district he formerly served in Congress. The suggestion of a great "Lincoln Way," from Washington to Gettysburg, as a memorial to Abraham Lincoln, came from Mr. McCleary.

A magnificent monument was unveiled in the National Cemetery in Winchester, Va., on Saturday to the memory of more than 800 Pennsylvanians who fell in the battles around Winchester during the Civil War, and whose remains are interred there. The occasion, which was honored by the presence of Governor Stewart and staff, the Monument Committee, composed of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, of Pittsburg; Gen. John W. Schall, of Allentown, and Col. Lewis W. Moore, of Philadelphia, and a large party of Union veterans. It was marked by a spirit of fraternity between the veterans of the North and South. General Turner Ashby Camp, Confederate Veterans of Winchester, took a prominent part in the exercises, heading the parade through the city, the Stars and Stripes and the Stars and Bars flying together. Mayor Baker and other city officers participated.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS.

William H. Ropp, 70 years old, of 101 Rouse avenue, York, Pa., died last week from the bursting of a blood vessel while romping with some little children. One of the vessels of the eye burst and he bled to death before it could be stopped. He was born in Baltimore and went to York many years ago.

A live sea cow, or manatee, weighing 1,500 pounds, was hauled ashore at Ocean View near Norfolk, Va., on Tuesday, in a seine. The fishermen succeeded in getting it alive in a pen, where it is being kept as a curiosity. It is said to be of the species found off the coast of Florida.

A despatch from Winsted, Conn., says that auto poker is the latest gambling game. Here is the way it is played: Two or more sit by the roadside where autos pass. Bill takes the number from the first auto that passes and Jack takes the next. The numbers constitue the hands, and the individuals compare them as in poker. Suppose that Bill has 180,088 and Jack has 939,398. Bill has three eights, while Jack has three nines and a pair of treys. Therefore, Jack wins.

A gang of swindlers is working the Pennsylvania farmers. In the western part of the State a man came along and said he had been commissioned to test cows for farmers, to see if they were free from tuberculosis. In one place he told a man that 10 of his herd were affected that way, and he had better sell them for what he could get. The next day a man came along looking for cows to buy, and the farmer sold the 10 cows, they were good ones, for $15 a head. Then in a few days the farmer found out that he had been swindled.

The crew of engine 1023 on the Reading Railway, at East Mahoney Junction, had an unusual experience near that place. While hauling a heavy train the engine stalled and would not work. Every part of the iron horse was gone over, but it steadfastly failed to budge an inch. It was finally towed to the shops, where the pipes carrying the water from the tank to the engine were found to be clogged with fish. A further examination of the tank revealed a veritable fisherman's paradise. Swimming about in the water were over 200 fish, many of them of considerable size.

Mollie Frank, 12 years old, of Emerald avenue, Chicago, Ill., is alive after receiving 2,300 volts of electricity, 900 volts more than is applied to condemned prisoners in penal institutions in New York and Ohio. Several companions in the evening dared her to climb an electric light pole and touch a wire. She made the ascent, touched the live wire and fell unconscious to the ground. The girl was later revived and will get well, the doctors say. A physician who attended the child said her recovery added another argument to be used by the medical men who charge that persons suffering the death penalty by means of electricity are not killed by the electric shock, but by the knife of the surgeon who performs the official autopsy or by dissolution in the grave.

Starving to death because her husband persisted in stealing her false teeth was the charge made in a divorce complaint filed at Milwaukee, Wis., by Mrs. William Schlesinger. William, his wife declared, was a good husband when they were first married. But once he went on an election-day spree, and when she wept to see the condition in which he returned he struck her in the mouth, breaking several of her teeth. While her mouth healed she was slowly starving, but finally she was able to buy a set of false teeth. After she had been using her false teeth a few days they disappeared. Her husband had disposed of them. She bought another set, although these, like the others, vanished. Now she asks that she be granted a separation, so that she can buy one more set of teeth and then eat to her heart's content.

From an Old Subscriber.

The following interesting letter from Mr. Ira B. Lawyer, a former resident of this county, who has made his home in California for many years, will be read with interest by many of our subscribers. As will be seen from his letter, Mr. Lawyer is probably the SENTINEL'S oldest subscriber, having taken the paper for more than sixty years, and his annual letter enclosing his subscription in advance is always received with pleasure.

South Pasadena, Cal.
Sept. 9th, 1908.

Dear Messrs, Editors:—

Another year has rolled around. Please find enclosed amount for another year's subscription to the AMERICAN SENTINEL. I have read it since it was published by John K. Longwell as the Carrolltonian, and I may as well read it for the few more years that will be allotted to me. As I have a large acquaintance in Carroll county and Hanover and Littlestown, Pa., and most of my friends are Republicans and many of them take the SENTINEL, if you see fit to publish it, I would like to give an account of a fishing trip in which I participated on the 8th of August.

There were sixteen of us in the party. We went to Long Beach, where we paid $20 for a boat, the boatman furnishing hooks and lines and bait. By eight o'clock we were out on the briny deep. We went out about fifteen miles. As we were going out, we fished with only a few trailing lines but caught four barracoutas, averaging about three feet in length. When we reached the fishing "grounds," as they call it, though it is nothing but water, then the fun commenced. We could catch them as fast as the men could take them off the hooks. Then they saw a jew fish, and one of the boatmen got a heavy line and hook and baited it with a live fish about ten inches long. Pretty soon he yelled "I've got him," and pulled in the line hand over hand until he brought the fish along side the boat, when another man took a pole with a large iron hook and hauled the fish aboard, but it did not prove to be a very large one of the kind, weighing only about 100 pounds He then put the line out again and soon called for help. The line went through his hands so fast that it soon got hot. Soon three men had hold of it. When they saw that their bull of a line was nearly played out, they tightened on it, and the line broke, ending the fish. They have been caught that weighed over 400 pounds. They also call them black sea bass. I must hurry, and also tell you a joke on myself. I enjoyed the fishing immensely until about two o'clock. Then a breeze sprang up and the boat began to rock some and my stomach began to "rile" some and I went down in the little cabin and tried to heave up Jonah. There I stayed until the boat got to the landing. They caught twelve more barracoutas on the way home. I have never felt sorry that I went on the trip. I learned something about fishing on the great Pacific. I sometimes wondered whether the same kinds of fish are caught in the Atlantic. The kinds we caught were sheephead, rock bass, black bass, halibut.

I. B. Lawyer.

(All the varities named by Mr. Lawyer are also found in the Atlantic, though the barracoutas, properly called barracudes, are not caught north of the West Indies.)

Temperance Department of the Sunday School.

November 2nd is World's Temperance Sunday in the Sunday School. Every school in the country should make special preparation to make it a "Red Letter" day.

Delegate E. K. Warren, at the Louisville Convention, said, "The Temperance Tide" seems to have its origin among the Sunday School forces. Marion Lawrence emphazised that part which the Sunday School had done in awakening the people to their large endeavors along the line of Public Prohibition and personal abstinence. Other speakers repeated his thought so persistently that it was impossible to escape the conclusion that the matter which at present seemed of preeminent importance is the continuation of the present temperance reform.

Let every school in the county fall in line. Let us grasp our oppertunity. There is no greater obstacle in the way of our christian religion and society than the use and sale of alcohlic beverages, in our state and county. Why not use every means to make September 27th a memorial day. In the coming years some of our boys may be lost to the church, to God, and society, should we waste our opportunity. A suggestive program:

Following is by the Maryland S. School Association, through her State Superintendent, Rev. M. S. Poulson:

Title.
A Stainless Flag, A Saloonless State.
Processional, Star Bangled Banner—Organist. (All Standing)
Singing, America.

Singing. Stand up for Jesus.

An address by the Superintendent.
Singing. Our Battle Cry.
Offertory.
(As each class comes forward with offering, let teacher repeat a passage of scripture bearing upon her logical attitude toward the liquor traffic.
Address by pastor.
Circulation and signing of pledge.
Singing. Onward christian soldiers.
Benediction by Pastor.

Very Truly Yours in the Master's Work.

G. W. Yeiser, Pres. of Carroll County S. S. Association.

Note. Any Sunday School that desires to carry the Decisive program can secure helpful literature and temperance pledges free by addressing Rev. M. S. Poulson, Temperance Supt. of Maryland Sunday School Association. American Building, Baltimore, Md.

"Yes," said the old salt, "I've seen some pretty thick fogs in my time. Why, off the coast of Newfoundland the fog was sometimes so thick that we used to sit on the rail and lean against it! We were sitting one night, as usual, with our backs up against the fog, when suddenly the fog lifted, and we all went flop into the water. A bit thick, wasn't it?"

"Well, Bobby, how is your sister?" asked the parson.

"Oh, she's sick in bed; hurt herself terrible," replied the youth.

"I'm sorry to hear that. How did it happen?"

"We were playin' who could lean the farthest out of the window—and she won."—Exchange.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Westminster Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching,
With distressing urinary disorders,
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Westminster people endorse this claim:

Chas. H. Campbell, living on Main St., Westminster, Md., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills with highly satisfactory results for a case of kidney complaint that had bothered me at least ten years. My back was always weak and became tired easily, but my most annoying symptom was a dull, dragging pain through my kidneys. My general health was much run down and I was steadily growing worse when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and procured a box. They strengthened my back and gave me immediate relief. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and take pleasure in recommending them to anyone suffering from kidney complaint. I procured them at Chas. W. Moore's drug store." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Caution for Drivers.

One of the crying needs of Emporia, Kansas, in the opinion of the Gazette, is an institution where men and women may be taught how to drive horses. There is declared to be too much "feeble-minded horsemanship," and this example is given:

Last Sunday a young man, accompanied by a woman with a baby in her arms, was driving along three or four miles northeast of town when a large red automobile came round a bend in the road.

The horse was scared, and showed a disposition to turn round and make a run for it. The young man, with remarkable presence of mind, jumped from the buggy with the lines in his left hand, and tried to reach the horse's head.

If a man sat up all night, by the struggling moonbeam's misty light and the lantern dimly burning trying to think up something foolish to do under such circumstances, he could not devise anything worse than that.

The horse happened to plunge into a wire fence, which gave the man a chance to seize the bridle; but for that lucky chance the animal would have got away as sure as guns, and a sickening accident could scarcely have been averted.

A man on foot has about as much chance of holding an excited horse as he would have of holding a locomotive by the fireman's whiskers.

Untaken, Not Paid For.

Andy McTavish was not "feelin' well," so he went to the doctor and stated his complaints.

"What do you drink?" demanded the medico.

"Whuskey."

"How much?"

"Maybe a bottle a day."

"Do you smoke?"

"Yes."

"How much?"

"Two ounces a day."

"Well, you give up whiskey and tobacco altogether."

Andy took up his cap and in three steps reached the door.

"Andy," called the doctor, "you have not paid for my advice."

"Ahm no takin' it," napped Andy, as he shut the door behind him.

A Definite Date.

During the money stringency a certain real estate man, having nothing else for his clerk to do, sent him out to collect some rent that was overdue.

The clerk being of Swedish nationality, had their peculiar twang in his speech.

Returning from his trip, the Swede seemed very jubilant.

The proprietor, noticing his smile, said, "Well, what luck did you have?" and the clerk answered, "Purty good."

"Well, did anybody pay you?"

"Yaas, Smith he pay, and Yones he say he pay in Yanuary."

"Are you sure Jones said he would pay in January? He never before has made any such promises."

"Vell, I tank so. He say it bane a dam col' day when you get dot money, and I tank dat bane in Yanuary."—Scrap Book.

THE NAME ON THE STONE

may commence to show the effects of wind and weather. Show that you still remember by having us re-chisel it.

WE RESTORE AND REPAIR MONUMENTS

of any age, size or description. Our charges for such work are always very reasonable. We shall be glad to estimate on the cost of making the old or worn monument in your plot practically a new stone. The memorial that was worth erecting is surely worthy of occasional attention.

CALL ON ME AT ANY TIME

you require dental work and you will not regret it. I practice all kinds of dentistry except the poor kind. I make a specialty of Bridge Work, which is probably one of the most difficult operations in the profession. But I have reduced it to an exact science and can and do guarantee my work in each instance. Let me replace that missing tooth with a new one which will match perfectly the natural teeth in your mouth. It will hurt neither your person nor your purse. Full sets of teeth made while you wait. Painless extracting 25c. Free when plates are ordered. Teeth filled with gold, Silver and Amalgam. Broken plates repaired and made good as new. Charges always moderate.

Western Maryland College
WESTMINSTER Md.
42nd Year Opens September 16th, 1908.

PERFECTLY SAFE,

where your sons and daughters are surrounded by the best moral and religious influences; where pure mountain air and water keeps them healthful and where new buildings equipped in modern fashion house them in comfort.

WISELY PLANNED

for both sexes, but reciting in separate classes; making EDUCATION its great business, and keeping athletic and social matters incidental; reducing the cost so as to reach the largest number, but tolerating no student who will not study.

THOROUGH,

offering three separate courses for the degree of A. B., one with Greek and two without; well equipped Scientific Building; Gymnasium and a Faculty of twenty-one specialists.

OF GOOD REPORT.

You will find our students everywhere, ask them. Without large endowments or splendid gifts from the rich we have slowly built up a College whose only claim is the good work it does, and this has kept it growing for forty years.
