At St. Mary's Reformed Church, Silver Run, Rev. S. C. Hoover, the pastor, says:—Catechetical instruction has begun and the present enrollment of catechumens is thirty-five. The hearty assurance of parental co-operation in this important work is prophetic of rich results. To add to the comfort and convenience of the pastor and his family the parsonage has been repaired so that now with its large and beautiful lawn, its extensive lot and splendid fruit, it is a property which any congregation might be happy in possessing and a home in which the present occupants find genuine pleasure.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company is entitled to much praise for the manner in which it handled the election news on Tuesday night. Superintendent Algire and his efficient corps of assistants at the exchange were kept busy until long after midnight and the courtesy with which all calls were responded to was greatly appreciated by all. The same can be said of the operators of the company at the election bureaus in Baltimore and the SENTINEL wishes to make special acknowledgement of the pleasant and efficient manner in which the young ladies who handled the wires performed their arduous duties.

In its report of last Saturday's game of football in which the Middies were defeated at the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, by the Carlisle Indians, the Baltimore Evening News of Monday says:—One of the pleasures the game leaves to the Navy supporters is the indications that when the Army is met the end played by "Cracky" Dague last year will be almost as well filled again this season. If he stands out a bright star the middy team from the dust of Saturday's defeat that star is Lawrence Reifsnider, the Westminster (Md.) boy, who, in covering the right wing of the Navy line, was all over the field at all times. Had it not been for his brilliant work the chances are that the red men would have scored a touchdown, as the most effective plays in ground gaining was from end runs—around the other end, however. The man carrying the ball around in these plays was protected with better interference than has been seen on the Academy gridiron this year. He generally had from three to four men with him. Notwithstanding this, Reifsnider got the fellow with the porker under his arm every time the play was sent his way.

Peanut Rolling.

On the morning train to Baltimore some days ago, two well-known gentlemen of this city, who go up and down every day, were enthusiastically declaring their faith in the election, one of Bryan, the other of Taft. The Taft man proposed a novel wager. If Bryan should win, he agreed to roll a peanut on the cement walk from Mr. O. D. Gilbert's residence to the First National Bank, using a toothpick to do the rolling. In the event of Mr. Taft's election, the Bryan man was to perform the stunt. On Tuesday morning, they again met, and the Bryan man, still unshaken in his belief, informed the Taft man that he would hold him to his contract and if unfulfilled would never speak to him again. Now it is up to Mr. Bryan's friend, and the question is going around, will he make good? If he will fix the date, a number of his friends will be present, some to sympathize, others to lend him countenance in the carrying out of his task, others to guy him.

Surprise Party.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Babylon, near Mayberry, was thrown open on Tuesday, 3rd inst., to a host of friends who had gathered together to surprise Mr. and Mrs. Babylon. They began to arrive about half past seven and games and music were indulged at an early hour. Later all were invited to the dining room to partake of the good things prepared. Then all having enjoyed themselves very much and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Babylon many more such surprises, departed for their homes. Among those present were: Mr. Chas. Babylon and wife, Mrs. Joseph Wantz, Mrs. Wm. Halter, Misses Hallie Route, Emma M. Hesson, Mattie Wantz, Maggie Reaver, Ada M. Hesson, Ida Kempher, Virgie Carl, Ella Eckard, Bertha Myers, Mary Wantz, Lucy Kempher, Grace Wantz, Margaret Halter, Grace Lemon, Messrs. Mervin Feeser, Oliver Myers, John Thomas Kempher, Oliver L. Heltibridle, Murray Myers, Carroll Edward Myerly, Earnest D. Myers, Oliver Eckard, Raymond Myers, Scott Slonaker, David Carbaugh, Chas. Eckard, Daniel Willet, Oscar Lemon, Norman Lawrence, Charles Miller, Norman Lemon, Bernard Lawrence, Clarence Wantz, Charles Route, Clarence Beaver, and others.

Pleasant Valley Items.

Our boys on last Saturday evening, Hallowe'en, behaved themselves well. No damage was done to anyone and there was little noisy shouting. We think this was due to the severe sickness of Mrs. Levi Myers. You were right boys; show proper regard for the comfort and rights of others.

Mrs. Levi Myers, who has been dangerously ill for the past week, we think is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Noah C. Wantz, who has been sick for the past few weeks, is able to sit up again.

Mr. Vernon Smith recently lost a valuable cow which it is supposed died from bloating. She had a calf nearly four weeks old by her side.

Mr. B. S. Smith, of Hyattsville, has returned home after spending a few weeks with his son Vernon.

Mr. David Helwig bought at public sale, last Saturday, the property of Mr. A. H. Bankard, for $805. This was known as the Savilla Myers property.

The teachers and pupils of the public school will hold a spider-web social on Thanksgiving evening in the school room. Our band is expected to furnish music for the occasion.

Miss Anna became ill on Sunday last and on Wednesday was taken to the hospital, suffering from appendicitis. In her weak condition it was decided that she could not stand the shock of an operation and none was performed. She was one of the most popular young ladies of the county, loved by all who knew her. With a voice of unusual sweetness, she was constantly called upon to sing in the churches of New Windsor, and was always ready to respond. She had promised to sing at the Mite Society meeting at Mrs. Dennis A. Smith's, Wakefield, tomorrow. Her father and mother, three brothers and three sisters survive her. Her remains were brought to her late home this morning.

Commission on Country Life.

Messrs. Editors:—

There will be a meeting of the Commission on Country Life, appointed by the President of the United States, for the improvement of rural conditions, at the Maryland Agricultural College on Monday, November 7th, 1908.

The personnel of this Commission is of such a character as to make it worth while for every man and woman interested in rural life in Maryland, to attend this meeting.

The Commission desires to have a representative gathering of men and women from Maryland, who have given the subject some thought and who are prepared to place their views before the Commission.

Every one conversant with Maryland rural conditions appreciates the fact that the operating agencies for an uplift in country life are not of a vigorous and progressive character. We need a campaign of agitation on this subject. Under the splendid leadership of this Commission, untold blessing may be the harvest of our hearty co-operation with these able men.

L. H. Bailey is Dean of the Agricultural College of Cornell University.

Gifford Pinchot is Chief Forester in the Bureau of Forestry.

K. L. Butterfield is President of the Massachusetts Agricultural College.

Henry Wallace is Editor of "Wallace's Farmers," of Iowa.

Prof. Bailey, in defining the work of the Commission, says, "These hearings are not to be speech-making meetings on the part of the members of the Commission. The Commission desires to take itself to as many localities as it can, in order that it may put itself in the way of receiving suggestions from those who are competent to make them."

Surely, we have in Maryland many men and women who are competent to formulate views on so vital a question as the one under consideration. A large and enthusiastic meeting is desired. An earnest appeal is made to those interested in the advancement of "Country Life" to be present with well defined views to place before this Commission.

Trusting that the zeal of the people of Maryland for the improvement of country life may be of such a character as to give us a large and earnest gathering of men and women ready for a heart to heart conference bearing upon the factors that make for the improvement of rural conditions.

Fraternally,

R. W. Silvester.

DIED.

In memory of Howard M. Zile, who departed this life two years ago, November 3rd, 1906.

A husband and father, good and kind,
And to us fondly dear.
Has reached to us a parting hand
And left us lonely here.
Yet again we hope to meet him.
When the day of life is fled,
Then in Heaven with joy to greet him,
Where no farewell tear is shed.

By his wife and children.

KIMMEY.—In loving remembrance of our dear mother, Christianna K. Kimmey, who died one year ago to-day, November 8th, 1907.

One sweet flower has bloomed and faded,
One sweet mother's voice is still,
She has gone from earth to Heaven,
Our dear mother now is dead;
Tears from our eyes are flowing,
We have no mother now.
Sleep on dear mother,
Sleep and take thy rest;
We loved thee well
But Jesus loved thee best.
