and would make more room for the others; and I would perhaps run down to you for a little while. but Ma and Aunt both said, that I must come there anyhow no matter where else I went. that would probably be the last summer we should all be together and it would never do for me to break the circle. they seemed to feel so much about it, that I am just leaving it, and aint going to think anything about it for the present. the way will open somehow. If Israel should by any chance get a holyday, he will come to you and thinks it will be very hard-hearted in me if I dont go with him. You see everybody is so kind to us, in being willing to have us, that affections are strongly divided. Just wait till our ship comes in and then won't we fly round, seeing everyone.

Israel had a letter from Chas yesterday. they have changed their plans about St. Johns. he and Hannah were both so sick on their way to Boston that they concluded it would not pay to go on by sea, so turned off and somehow got to Niagara, they expected to be home in Phila by Saturday night. I suppose they will go on down to Balto. if Mr. Tyson continues so ill. I dont think they can know of his condition as Israel said Chas did not mention it. At one time I believe the drs. had not much hope of his living. but I have not heard very lately.
