Col. George H. Torney, a native of Baltimore, has been selected by the President as Surgeon-General of the army, to fill the vacancy to be created by the retirement early in the coming year of Brigadier-General O'Reilley. The office carries with it the rank, pay and title of a brigadier-general of the line.

On Monday last the First Branch city Council of Baltimore, by a vote of 17 to 6 defeated the ordinancce to straighen Baltitmore street east of Jones's Falls. The ordinance cannot be again legally considered by the present Council, which will be in office until 1911.

A lock of Napoleon's hair, a silver teapot and salver made by Paul Revere and a pen used by Washington Irving were among the curious legacies bequeathed by the will of Joseph White Spragme, late of Louisville, Ky., probated in the Orphan's Court, Baltimore, on Friday last. As part of Mr. Sprauge's estate is in Baltimore, it was neccessary to probate his will in that city.

It is reported that the Pennsylvania Railroad is planning a new and moodern Union station for Baltimore, that will cost from $700,000 to $1,000,000 and be the third largest passenger depot in its great system; that it will have a general waiting room space of 8,160 square feet, as against 10,000 square feet in the big Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, and 9,000 square feet in the station at St. Louis.

The snow that fell in Western Maryland, on Saturday last, proved a big factor in preventing the destruction of the trolley station at Pen Mar Park, and, had this building burned, it is likely others in the neighborhood would have gone up in smoke. Watchman Punt, who was working at the parks, discovered the fire and summoned the members of the Western Maryland section gang at Highfield. The snow that followed extinguished the fire and prevented any further spread of the flames.

GENERAL NEWS.

Hon. P. H. Strubinger, for many years the Democratic boss of Adams county, Pa., died on Thursday of last week. He was buried at Hanover, on Wednesday, after funeral services at St. Joseph's church.

Count Huelsen-Haeseler, chief of the German military cabinet, died suddenly in the presence of the Emperor on Saturday evening last. While laughing and talking after dinner at Donnauschingen, he was stricken with apoplexy.

The deaths of the Emperor and Dowager Empress of China were announced, that of the former on Friday, and of the latter on Saturday last. It is believed that both died a considerable time before the hours set down in the official report. Pu-yi, three years old, is on the throne with his father as regent.

On Monday, burglars tunneled through a 114 inch fireproof wall, entered the vault of the Postoffice at South Bend, Indiana, with an electric drill and escaped with nearly $19,000 in stamps. The theft was discovered by a clerk in a store one door north of the room temporarily occupied by the Postoffice during the erection of the new building.

A unique race is reported from Nome, Alaska. A noted race horse ridden by a well known rider was beaten by 50 seconds in a 10 mile race by a team of dogs. It is said that enough money was in sight to make the side bets $10,000, which found ready takers. There was some dissatisfaction with the result and another race will be run within three weeks.

A resolution urging that a tariff be placed on honey equal to or greater than the present schedule of 20 cents a gallon was unanimously adopted at the convention of the Pennsylvania State Beekeepers' Association at York, last week. Another resolution that it is the desire of the beekeepers that a duty of 10 cents a pound be placed on beeswax was also adopted.

At the elections in Cuba Major General Jose Miguel Gomez was chosen President. The date is drawing near for the evacuation of Cuba by the United States forces. The soldiers will be with drawn and the island turned over to the newly elected President and Congress, January 28, 1909, and the Cubans will make another attempt at self-government.

The Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals has decided that Winchester Memorial Hospital, Winchester Va., is entitled to a fee of $2,000, donated to it by Robert M. Ward. Mr. Ward represented Winchester in a successful litigation over the estate of the Judge Handley, of Scranton, Pa. The late Handley trustees declined to pay and Mr. Ward gave it to the hospital by which a suit to recover was carried to the highest court.

While cannon boomed, awakening patriotic memories of those sailor and soldier heroes who died in British prison ships in the Revolutionary War, the Prison Ship Martyr's Monument at Fort Green Park, Brooklyn, was dedicated with impressive ceremonies in the presence of President-elect Taft, Secretary of War Wright, Governor Hughes and thousands of people who thronged the knoll on which the full Doric column stands, on Saturday last.

An attempt was made on Friday last in the Court room at San Francisco, Col., to murder F. J. Heney, assistant district attorney, while engaged in the third trial of Abraham Reuf, a former political boss, charged with bribery. A German, named Morris Haas, an ex-convict, who had been prevented by Mr. Heney from service on a jury at a former trial of Reuf, did the shooting. The ball struck Heney in the head but did not touch the brain and he will probably recover. Haas committed suicide in jail on Saturday by shooting himself with a revolver, which is said to have been secreted in his shoe.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS.

A dispatch from Sterling, Ill., reports that J. H. Ahrens, owner of a $40,000 stock of merchandise, says he received a wireless message from Heaven to sell his stock and become an evangelist and he obeyed the command.

Nine sparrows and two rats were in a fight at Montclair, N. J., when a big rooster butted in, killed one rat, but not before the rodent had laid out two sparrows, put to flight the others, and then ate all the oats which had caused the battle.

When Sheridan was on his expedition through the Shenandoah Valley in 1864, Mrs. Eli Garber, of Mount Sidney, then a young woman, hid 20 bushels of oats under the roof of a porch, and a few weeks ago while workme were making repairs the oats were discovered. Mrs. Garber had them planted and expects to get a good crop next summer.

A remarkable accident befell W. A. Martin, a 70-year old farmer of Page county, Va. His son-in-law, Asberry Morrison, accidentally let fall a hatchet from a building on which the latter was standing, and his nose was completely cut off as with a razor. Mr. Martin was on the ground looking up, giving instructions to the young man.

John Mylies, 65 years old, and Louis Schmitt, 70 years old, two Germans, who lived in a small house in Hellam township, near Crumbling"s Mill, York county, Pa., were both cremated on Tuesday of last week. Mylies died and Schmitt, who had been visiting Wrightsville, came home and found his old friend dead in bed. He was very drunk and in some way the bachelor quarters caught fire, and before the neighbors could reach the burning building, the body of Mylies and Schmitt were burned to a crisp.

Mrs. Priscilla Abers, 60 years old, and her children—William, aged 23 years; Ella, aged 20 years; and May, aged 18 years—of Carey, Ohio, apparently all became demented last week, and, shutting and locking the doors and fastening the windows, deliberately poured coal oil upon the furniture, beds and carpets and set fire to the house. Neighbors, who had been watching their queer actions for some time broke in and rescued them. The family was taken to Upper Sandusky, indicted for arson and are in jail awaiting trial.

Fred Lewis, a butcher, of Oakland, Cal., entered his icebox at the close of business to adjust his stock and took along an axe. A spring lock on the outside slipped into place as the door slipped from his hand and he immediately began pounding and shouting for assistance. The intense cold rendered him numb and he finally, after two hours' imprisonment, attacked the walls with an axe. Neighbors who heard the muffled blows believed that burglars were operating and as Lewis crawled through the hole he had made he was confronted by a policeman, to whom he explained the situation.

After dieting for several days on rags, pieces of paper and string, particles of glass and small bits of wood, Martin Smith, an inmate of the Luzerne County Insane Asylum, at Retreat, Pa., on Saturday night last, drank as a relish the contents of a bottle containing indelible ink, and died. For several days he had been ill, but the house physician was unable to diagnose the case. Smith appeared much worse on Saturday and as his mouth and lips were stained purple, search was made, with the result that an empty bottle which had contained indelible ink was found in his bed. At the autopsy it was discovered that the man's stomach was dyed purple, while resting therein was a jumble of finely chewed paper, rags, string and pieces of glass. How long he had been feeding upon this strange diet it is impossible to say, but it was certainly for a week or more.

To quote an exchange. a man went into a store and asked if he could sit four or five hours. The proprietor, who had just found a nest of newborn mice in the coffee grinder, told him he could but asked him why he did not go to a hotel. "I am suffering from nervous prostration and the doctor said to get a quiet place to rest, and as I see you don't advertise I knew that I couldn't find a quieter place." And with that he settled back in his chair and watched the swallows build a nest in the cheese case.

Life without love is a forest deep,
Where songbirds never wake or sleep,
Where all is silence, shadow, gloom,
That makes of Life a soulless tomb.

MAD DOG SCARES.

We take the followng from the Chicago Daily Tribune:

That Chicago's recent mad dog scare, the reports of mad dogs throughout the city and the consequent shooting of many dogs are nine-tenths nonsense is the contention of Dr. John J. Millar, veternarian to the Lincoln Park Zoo.

Dr. Millar advances the belief that rabies cannot be contracted with fatal results by human beings save in most exceptional cases, and backs up his opinion with statistics and experiments, the latest of which was the inoculation of himself and an assistant with rabies in a virulent form, and with no development of the disease, although there was no effort to escape by application of the Pasteur treatment.

"Five years of experimentation and treatment of dogs suffering from rabies have about convinced me that the annual mad dog scares which seem to spread all over our great cities are nine-tenths nonsense," declared Dr. Millar recently. "I have begun to doubt whether a human being can contract rabies in a fatal form, even if no recourse to pasteurization is had. My own experiment strengthens my conviction.

"On July 15th a dog was brought to me for examination which showed that it was suffering from acute rabies. In working upon the animal and treating it, I was bitten accidentally in the hand—a clean, well-defined flesh wound. My assistant, Dr. W. S. Buchanan, also was bitten, the animal biting him through the hip. Following my theories, neither of us sought other treatment than washing and cleansing our wounds. On July 18th, three days after the accident, the dog died, and we knew we had a case of acute rabies to deal with. Still we did nothing to prevent inoculation, and yesterday the outside period within which the disease could possibly develop passed and neither of us has fallen a victim.

"Further than this, I have collected statistics to show the nonsense in these mad dog scares. Of 346 cases of supposed bitings by dogs afflicted with rabies turned in to the police department since May 1st, every case has been investigated by me personally. Of the number of dogs thought to have been afflicted, I found by a microscopic examination that really only nine showed trace of rabies. The health department also reported 287 cases of rabid dogs to us, and the results were almost the same.

Of all this number of people who were bitten supposedly by mad dogs, not a single case of rabies in a human being has been reported.

"Cauterization cannot account for this result, as only abrasions and minor wounds are remedied by that means. The deep, clearly defined flesh wounds, especially a wound inflicted in the large muscles cannot be reached by cauterization. It is frightened women and children who have been bitten by dogs who rush for a physician to cauterize their wounds when they might use simple preventives with equally beneficial results.

"The mad dog panic and the killing of hundreds of dogs are unjustifiable, and if people would only stay their fright, clean wounds made by dogs by sucking, cleansing, and the application of a little lemon juice they need have no fear of contracting rabies."—Our Dumb Animals.

Days of Dizziness

Come to Hundreds of Westminster People.

There are days of dizziness;

Spells of headache, side ache, backache;

Sometimes rheumtic pains;

Often urinary disorders.

All tell you plainly the kidneys are sick.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney ills.

Here is proof in Westminster.

David N. Myers, living on John St., Westminster, Md., says: "My sister thinks there is no remedy in the world to equal Doan's Kidney Pills and I also think very highly of them. Before I procured a box for her at Chas. W. Moore's drug store she had suffered from kidney trouble for over two years. She often complained of pain through her back and also had distressing attacks of dizziness. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills she has been in excellent health and is now feeling fine, without a sign of the old trouble."

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.

The suffix "ous" meaning "full of" was being discussed in the spelling class. Mountainous, full of mountains; dangerous, full of danger; porous, full of pores; courageous, full of courage; and joyous, full of joy; had been glibly recited. "Who is ready to give us another example?" asked the teacher, in a confident tone.

A sedate looking boy on a back seat promptly responded, "Pious."

In the twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra can be found every letter of the English alphabet. It runs thus: "And I, even I, Artaxerxes the King, do make a decree to all the treasurers which are beyond the river, that whatsoever Ezra the priest, scribe of the law of the God of heaven, shall require of you it be done speedily."

"Say, that new girl my wife hired is a 'bird', and no mistake."

"A bird, eh!"

"Yes, she acts like a goose, talks like a parrot, and she's pigeontoed.

Waterproofng Matches.

Perhaps some of your readers would be interested to know that I have found a simple, inexpensive way to waterproof matches, writes a correspondent to the Scientific American.

Into some melted paraffin (care being taken that it was as cool as possible) I dipped a few ordinary parlor matches. After withdrawing them and allowing them to cool, it was found that they scratched almost as easily as before being coated with the wax. Several were held under water for six or seven hours and all of them lighted as easily as before immersion. When the match is scratched, the paraffin is first rubbed off and the match lights in the usual way.

Matches treated as above would be very useful on camping or canoeing trips, as they do not absorb moisture. Since more rubbing is required to light them than the ordinary match, it would be pratically impossible to set them on fire by accidental dropping.

When a man is a rank failure, he always blames some woman; when he succeeds, he forgets to.

It would take an awful lot of soft soap and silver sand to wash out some people's past.

Coal - - Beware

ORIGINATORS OF THE LONG TON WEIGHT OF 2240 lbs. Clean Coal for a Ton.

The best Coals are the cheapest. All Anthracite Coals are not alike and none can nor will give the satisfaction the Philadelphia and Reading Coals give. We sell no other and in dealing with us you are sure to get the best. There are cheaper grades offered for less money, but a trial will prove their inferiority. Also there is no comparison between the Lykens Valley and the so-called red ash coals.

Bituminous Coal.

Genuine Big Vain George's Creek Coal on hand, both run of mine and Screened Lump.

LUMBER.

We have on hand at all times a complete stock of high grade Lumber and Mill stock at lowest prices. Estimates cheerfully given and satisfaction guaranteed.
