Red Men's Parade.

On Wednesday evening, shortly after seven o'clock, residents of this city were attracted by the sound of pistol shots and blood curdling yells disturbing the evening's quiet. Rushing to their doors, they saw the street thronged with Indians on horseback, and soon learned that the Red Men were in pursuit of palefaces. A large number of members of the I. O. R. M. of the lodges of this city, Manchester, Uniontown, Union Bridge, Patapsco and other places participated in the parade. They were attired in Indian costume, rode horseback and wore their war paint. At the Forks, West End, they indulged in a war dance, and burned a paleface at the stake. Afterward a council fire was lighted in the lodgeroom in Davis's Hall, and the first, second and third degrees were conferred upon candidates, and a banquet was served after the initiations.

Great Day for W. M. C.

Thanksgiving Day was a great day for Western Maryland College. In the afternoon the Varsity eleven met and vanquished the justly celebrated eleven of Delaware College, Newark, Delaware, by a score of 15 to 4. The Delaware eleven has the record of victory from Franklin and Marshall, Johns Hopkins and other strong universities and colleges, and by comparison of results of the season's games, this defeat by Western Maryland College practically gives the latter the championship of Maryland and Delaware.

Limited space forbids an extended account of the game. It can be said, however, that Captain Gibson was a host in himself and swung his men, every one of whom was a star, to a great victory. In the first half Delaware College succeeded in making a kick from placement, and this was its only score in the game. Western Maryland entered the second half with determination, and rushed their opponents like a whirlwind, utterly bewildering them. Within five minutes a touchdown was made. In the middle of the half, a second touch down followed a running forward pass from Thomas to Birdsall, and goal was kicked. The third score was made when Coe kicked from placement. It was a great game and was witnessed it is said by nearly a thousand spectators.

The second game, that of the second eleven with McCulloh, was won by the latter. Both teams put up a good game and only one score was made, that of McCulloh on a fluke. Score 6 to 0.

At night the Browning and Webster Literary Societies gave one of their most interesting and successful entertainments in Alumni Hall, before a crowded house. The rendering of Act V of "A Winter's Tale" was unusually fine. The bright comedy, "Mr. Bob," kept the audience in a happy humor from beginning to end, and the First Regiment Band received enthusiastic applause.

The football season will be formally closed tomorrow night, when the Faculty and students will tender a banquet to the team in appreciation of its good record.

Cattle Pest.

The cattle foot and mouth disease which has broken out in some localities in New York and Pennsylvania, causing the Federal authorities to quarantine those States, has made its appearance on the Maryland border according to a dispatch from York, Pa., which states that Dr. W. L. Herbert, a Pennsylvania State veterinarian, has discovered seven head of cattle on a farm near Lineboro, Md., suffering with the disease. These cattle are evidently on a farm in close proximity to the Maryland border, the line between this State and Pennsylvania being at Lineboro, this county. The cattle were among a consignment from Buffalo, N. Y., where the disease first made its appearance. The malady is said to be exceedingly virulent. The farm on which it has appeared, near Lineboro, has been isolated and the authorities of New York and Pennsylvania are earnestly co-operating with the Federal authorities in the effort to arrest its spread and to stamp it out as speedily as possible.

The disease has also broken out on the Maryland side of the line, near Lineboro, on the farm of Mr. H. M. Kneller, and under orders of the State Livestock Sanitary Board all the infected animals and fowls on the place, including 22 cows and steers, 51 hogs, between 70 and 80 chickens, 6 pigeons and a cat, have been or will be killed. The killing is under the supervision of Dr. F. H. Mackie, State Veterinarian; a representative from the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, and Dr. Herbert. For Our Young Men.

Some months ago, Rev. Dr. T. H. Lewis invited a number of our citizens to a conference to consider the possibility of the formation of an association and the establishment of a building, equipped with gymnasium and other attractions, for the benefit of the young men of this city. Though no formal action was taken at that time, the subject was not abandoned. At the request of several young business men of the city another meeting was called for Thursday night of last week, at which the matter was further considered. Another meeting was held at the Royal Arcanum rooms in the Wantz Building, on Monday night, attended by many business men and most of the clerygmen of the city.

Dr. Lewis presided and in stating the object of the meeting strongly presented the desirability of such an institution and pointed out the fact that the only question to be considered is its practicableness.

Mr. W. Frank Thomas outlined a plan by which it might be possible to establish such an institution (and in connection with it an auditorium such as is greatly needed,) which would become selfsustaining in a very few years. The plan contemplated the purchase of a large building, centrally located, well adapted to the use proposed, on the lower floor of which would be three very large rooms for business purposes; the second and third floors of which would be most conveniently adaptable for offices, reading rooms, amusement rooms, gymnasium etc., and in the rear ample room for the erection of a modern auditorium, for public use.

Dr. Lewis suggested another possible site, a building in which several store rooms could be arranged on the first floor the second and third floors used for offices, reading rooms, amusement rooms etc., and in the rear a gymnasium erected.

Dr. Lewis stated that he believed that there was a deep interest in the community in the movement and gave the information that without solicitation a gentleman of this city had said that he would be glad to contribute $500 to the enterprise.

After discussion of possible ways and means, the presiding officer was authorized to appoint a committee to wait upon the citizens to get their views on the subject and ascertain what amount of money could be raised for the purpose.
