MARYLAND NEWS.

Governor Stuart, of Pennsylvania, and his staff took part in the ceremonies of the unveiling of a monument erected on the Monocacy battlefield, in commemoration of the heroism of Pennsylvania soldiers, on Tuesday last. The monument is 35 feet high. Many veterans took part in the unveiling.

Dr. George R. Graham, a prominent member of the Grand Army of the Republic, died at his home in Baltimore, on Thursday of last week, and was buried on Sunday in the National Cemetery, Frederick Road, Baltimore, with military honors. Dr. Graham was a charter member and past president of the Grand Army Club.

A silver crucifix bearing the insignia of the Knights Templar was delivered to Beauseant Commandery No. 8, Baltimore, on Friday last, by Mary Commandery No. 36, of Philadelphia. The crucifix, which is of solid silver and 12 inches high, was sent out several weeks ago by Ivanhoe Commandery, of New York. The crucifix will remain in Baltimore for about six weeks. It will then be taken to Washington, D. C. It will pass through many foreign countries, and be looked upon by thousands of Knights Templar, as it is carried round the world, before its return to Ivanhoe Commandery.

Daniel Webster, at the head of the Cumberland Stock Exchange and once a prominent Democratic politician, fell down a stairway at his home while walking in his sleep and sustained a broken left arm, a wrenched right arm, severe bruise on the body and an ugly gash in the head. He was unconscious and was bleeding profusely when found. His neck was also jammed. Mr. Webster has been subject to somnambulism for some time.

GENERAL NEWS.

What is believed to have been an earthquake shook Franklin, N. H., on Monday. The shock lasted about 10 seconds.

A tornado swept through the Piney settlement, 83 miles east of Little Rock, Ark., on Monday. Several small towns were practically demolished and a number of persons killed.

Samuel Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor, Denver, Col. There was one vote against him—Charlie Jeske, of the Wisconsin State Federation.

Dense fog prevailed on Monday and Tuesday on the Atlantic Coast and inland. Navigation was partially tied up at New York and on the Delaware river. One peron was killed and several injured by trolley cars in Pittsburg, Pa.

Congressman Richmond P. Hobson has sent a letter to President Roosevelt demanding that he rescind the order recalling the United States fleet from the Pacific, and criticizing him for interfering in the Japanese troubles in California.

Earl Yinger, of Newberrytown, Pa., York county, while assisting in killing hogs at the home of W. B. Eppley, a wellknown merchant, was shot by a revolver which was being used in the killing, and which in some manner was accidently exploded. The ball penetrated the young man's right side and he is thought to be in a serious condition.

The Camden Tunnel Railroad Company was incorporated at Trenton N. J., with an authorized capital stock of $40,000. The object of the company is to operate the New Jersey half of a railroad which it is proposed to build under the Delaware river between Camden and Philadelphia. The length of the line is to be approximately three and one-third miles.

Chas. J. Magness, husband of a daughter of the late United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman, who was recently convicted of desertion from the United States Navy Yard, was taken, on Monday, to Portsmouth, N. H., to serve one year in the government prison. Mrs. Magness went with him to Portsmouth, and will take up her residence in that city, so as to visit her husband as often as the prison rules will permit.

A copy of the famous "Breeches Bible," published in London in 1599, and said to be the identical book on which George Washington was obligated as a Master Mason, was last week restored to Lodge of Antiquity, No. 1, Q. R., A. F. and A. M., the oldest Masonic lodge in Canada, to which it originally belonged. Antiquity Lodge received its charter from Ireland, and was instituted by officers of the Forty-sixth British Regiment of which Washington was also a member. The initiation took place in New York on a visit of the Forty-sixth Regiment. The book has since been kept in a vault under the care of various Masonic bodies.

A contagious disasee, known as foot and mouth disease, is prevalent among cattle in New York and Pennsylvania. It was first discovered in a load of 80 yearlings shipped from the East Buffalo stock yards to a point in Western Pennsylvania, and is epidemic in twelve Pennsylvania counties. Secretary Wilson of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, on Thursday, 18th inst., issued an order quarantining the two States, and, during the quarantine the interstate or foreign transportation movement, trailing or driving of cattle, sheep or other ruminants and swine from the two States is prohibited. England and Canada have prohibited the importation of cattle from these States. Delaware has quarantined against them. It is said that several children at Danville, Pa., have contracted the disease. New York City fears a famine not only of beef but of milk in consequence of the epidemic.

C. C. Featherstone, of Greenwood, S. C., one time Prohibition candidate for Governor and likely to run again, engaged in a fist fight with Attorney, O. P. Sims, of Spartanburg, at Columbia. The two men were opposing counsel before the State Board of Canvassers. Sims made a sarcastic comment about the Prohibitionists of Featherstone's district and the latter resented it. Featherstone got a black eye.

Wholesale discharges are threatened on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as the result of investigations made by private detectives into drinking by passenger employees. Already six conductors, three train auditors, two passenger baggagemasters and three engineers, one a veteran of thirty years, have been dismissed because they were found to have taken a drink while on duty. In some cases the men were accused only of drinking while off duty. An order which was issued a year ago forbids all employees of the road from drinking either on or off duty. It has not been strictly enforced before, but now it is said there are detectives at work on all divisions of the road.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS.

Rev. W. R. Brown of the First Baptist Church (colored), of Roanoke, Va., on Sunday last broke all previous records in the baptizing of converts, says a dispatch to the Baltimore Sun. There were 93 immersions, and the work of the minister began at 2.30 and ended at 5 o'clock. He averaged one every minute and a half, and at the end staggered from the baptismal tank in a state of collapse.

Adelina Guttilla, 3 years old, daughter of Dominico Guttilla, Springfield, Ohio, who has been exhibited in many of the large cities as a wonder to the medical profession, is dead of pneumonia. She was 40 inches tall and weighed 140 pounds, being considered the largest baby in the world. When born she was no different from other babies in appearance and size. After a few weeks she began to grow rapidly and her increase in size attracted general attention. Hundreds visited the home in West Pleasant street. Later the parents took the baby to the large cities under contract to exhibit her.

While Mrs. William Manges, of Waynesboro, Pa., was preparing to put her twin children to bed for their afternoon nap, after having given them a bath, one of the children secured a match from the top of the bureau and struck it in the clothespress. This was done while the mother was temporarily absent from the room. When the children saw the fire they ran from the room, pulled the door shut after them and hid under the divan in another room. Mrs. Manges returned to find the room ablaze. With the assistance of neighbors she succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not before the room and contents were badly damaged. The house was hunted over before the children were finally located under the divan. When found both were fast asleep.

How Bet Was Settled.

Baltimore American.

An election bet which took a decidedly odd turn came to light when Mr. Joseph T. Steinacker, the well known lumber and coal dealer on Frederick road, near Carroll Station, who was the principal participant, acknowledged that it was too good to keep and let the secret out.

Mr. Steinacker attended the Democratic convention which nominated Mr. Bryan, and said that after his return to Maryland he felt confident of Mr. Bryan's success, particularly in this State, and offered to bet $250 to $100 that the Nebraskan would carry Maryland. A prominent wholesale liquor dealer of Baltimore, whose name Mr. Steinacker refuses to divulge, accepted, and a saloonkeeper on the Frederick road offered to act as stakeholder. Each was confident of winning, until on the day after the election, it was discovered that, while Taft carried the state by the popular vote, Bryan was ahead in the electoral vote.

Then the trouble began, and until Saturday, when a meeting of the three men took place, no settlement of the question could be brought about. "We had our customary argument," said Mr. Steinacker, "and the saloon keeper and the liquor dealer, both of whom are staunch Taft men, refused to acknowledge that Bryan carried the state, until suddenly a bright idea struck the saloon keeper, and after conferring with his friend he said: 'We are willing to concede that the Democrats were victorious if the money we turn over to you will be given to some charitable organization.'

"'Very well,' said Mr. Steinacker, "I am willing to devote the money to some good work if I am allowed to choose the organization which will be the object of your munificence." "Agreed," said the parties concerned, and they gazed over Mr. Steinacker's shoulder as he prepared to write a letter to the director of the worthy cause he was to designate. But as they gazed at the epistle which was to give away some of their hard-earned money the saloon keeper and the liquor dealer were horrified to see that Mr. Steinacker was writing to the Anti-saloon League. That is the reason why both the gentlemen desire to have their names withheld from the public.

Chronicles of the Zotwots

From Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine for November.

CONCERNING THE ZOTWOTS.

The Zotwots are an amiable people living near Aroundabout, which is the capital of Everywhere. They are to grown-ups what the "Boogerman" is to children. The Zotwots, and their pet, the Jay-fowl, take the part of the children against naughty folk who frighten or annoy little ones. Hereafter, when the Zotwots are mentioned, you may expect to see those who say "boo" at babes flee from the harmless yet sufficient wrath of the Zotwots.

The Grawky Teacher's Fate

Verse and Picture by ROBERT J. DEAN

A School Teacher grawky,
Whose hands were all chawky,
Kept children oft-times after school;
The Zotwots tip-toed in,
Snooched that maiden so thin,
With giggles, away to a pool
To add billions and 'leven
Times ten thousand and seven,
And prove it, according to rule!

P. S.

Now the Jay-fowl never does forget
The things the Zotwots do;
For the Jay-fowl is the Zotwots' pet,
And the Zotwots know it, too!

LETS TALK

are owned by three-fourths of our readers, and every man who own stock or poultry of any kind would be greatly interested and benefited by reading every week the articles on the care and treatment of stock by Dr. C. D. Smead the famous veterinary writer of THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE FARMER. Dr. Smead's articles appeal to practical men, and no livestock writer in the country gives more information of every day actual value, prolonging the usefulness and saving the lives of valuable animals. These articles, with the other departments—Poultry, Horticulture, Dairy, Little Men and Women, for the Women Folks, Science and Mechanics, Short Stories, instructive and interesting illustrations, keep THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE FARMER at the head of the AGRICULTURAL PRESS.

EVERY AMERICAN SENTINEL SUBSCRIBER WOULD BE BENEFITED BY HAVING THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE FARMER IN HIS HOME.

We no not hesitate to recommend it without qualification. It is not a cheap paper made up of fake advertisements. It is what it claims to be, the best paper of its kind for the farmer and for his wife and children. The subscription price is $1.00 a year.

OUR OFFER:

We will send you the AMERICAN SENTINEL and THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE FARMER, both weeklies, for $1.50

Our old subscribers who pay arrears and $1.50 additional will receive both papers.

If you wish to see a copy of THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE FARMER, write and ask us for it and a sample copy will be mailed to you.

ORIGINATORS OF THE LONG TON WEIGHT OF 2240 lbs. Clean Coal for a Ton.

The best Coals are the cheapest. All Anthracite Coals are not alike and none can nor will give the satisfaction the Philadelphia and Reading Coals give. We sell no other and in dealing with us you are sure to get the best There are cheaper grades offered for less money, but a trial will prove their inferiority. Also there is no comparison between the Lykens Valley and the so-called red ash coals.
