MARYLAND NEWS.

The Lutheran church at Williamsport, Rev. M. D. Gaver, pastor, will be improved and renovated at a cost of about $3,500.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Bluebaugh, of Hagerstown, aged 35 years, died of blood poisoning caused by picking open a pimple on her lip with a needle. Her husband and five children survive.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan sent a beautiful embroidered handkerchief as a donation to the Masonic fair to be held at Hancock. The gift was sent to John Thompson Mason, who is a graduate of the law school from which Mr. and Mrs. Bryan were graduated. Mr. Bryan is a Mason.

A fire broke out about 9 o'clock on Saturday night, on the City Belle, a small steam ferryboat plying between Port Deposit and Lapidum. The origin of the fire is unknown. The owner of the boat is Capt. Hohn, of Port Deposit. The boat was burned nearly to the water's edge.

The Brewster Park Hotel building, formerly the Keeley Hotel, has been sold and will be moved to the Laurel Sanitarium, about half a mile away. The moving will be done by a Baltimore contractor. The work is expected to begin next week. As this is an extra large building, containing 51 rooms, two and a half stories high, great interest is manifested in the moving.

A slight earthquake was perceptible in Baltimore at an early hour Saturday morning, according to the seismograph of Dr. Harry Fielding Reid, professor of geological sciences at the Johns Hopkins University. A slight shock was reported as having been felt at Boston at 2.10 A. M. Saturday, and Professor Reid thinks that the local disturbance may have been the aftermath.

George Poffenberger, of Hagerstown, was awarded the contract to haul from the railroad station at Sharpsburg to Burnside bridge, on Antietam battlefield, the granite monument that will be erected in memory of the members of the Fifty-first Pennsylvania Regiment who fell at Antietam. The work of removing the granite was done by four traction engines, and much difficulty was experienced in getting over the hills, it being necessary to plank the roadway.

Charles N. Cline, who killed his brother-in-law, William H. Reynolds, was convicted in the Circuit Court for Washington County of manslaughter, the jury recommending the prisoner to the mercy of the court. Judge Keedy said he would consider the jury's recommendation before passing sentence. Cline, in his testimony, said he did not intend to kill Reynolds, but was compelled to shoot in self-defense. He said he had never attended school, could neither read nor write, never heard of Christmas and knew nothing of the significance of the Fourth of July. Later Judge Keedy sentenced Cline to four months in the county jail.

For beating his wife James Wilson, colored, of Hagerstown, was lashed across the bare back by Sheriff George W. Earnshaw, on Saturday. Wilson was convicted of wife-beating, and Police Justice Hoffman sentenced him to be lashed, and also to serve six months in the House of Correction. Sheriff Earnshaw, who weighs over 200 pounds and is noted for his strength, laid on the strokes, 10 in number. The negro squirmed under the lash but at no time did he appeal for mercy. Welts were raised, but the flesh was not laid open, and the services of a physician were not required. The whipping took place in the upper corridor of the jail, in the presence of a number of officials and several spectators.

On Tuesday the lake shipments of coal ceased. A dispatch from Cumberland says that it is estimated that during the last two weeks over 500 carloads of coal has passed through Benwood daily en-route to the various lake points. Most of this coal is mined by the Fairmont Coal Company, subsidiary to the Consolidation Coal Company. The Fairmont Coal Company has sufficient orders for coke to keep 100 ovens in blast. Other companies in the Fairmont field are also filling coke orders. It is predicted by coal men that there will be a serious shortage of cars in the northern West Virginia field this winter. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has not kept its cars in repair, and at the present time there are scarcely enough cars for the demand. The rest are pushed off disabled on some sidetrack.

Judge Henderson, of Cumberland, has rendered a decision in favor of the defendant in the case of the Park Grocery Company against the Insurance Company of North America and the Franklin Insurance Company of Philadelphia. The grocery company lost its property by fire and carried $2,000 insurance. The defendants refused payment on the ground that the iron safe clause, which required the keeping of an inventory of the goods insured, those sold and those purchased, in a book securely locked in an iron safe, had not been complied with. The grocery company kept no safe, but produced an inventory which it contended it had kept in the store in the daytime and at the home of one of the store offices at night. The case will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

GENERAL NEWS.

The battleship fleet sailed from Manila on Monday for Colombo, Ceylon.

By an explosion in a coal mine at Marianna, Pa., on Saturday last, about 150 miners were killed.

The meat supply of St. Petersburg, Russia, is menaced by an outbreak of rinderpest in the surrounding country.

A Wild West Show trust is about to be formed by the consolidation of the shows of Buffalo Bill and Pawnee Bill.

Descendants of soldiers who fought in the war with Mexico met in New York last week to organize a society of Sons of Veterans of the Mexican War. An appeal was framed to all who are eligible to join the organization.

The dwelling on the historic Crater, battle field, in Prince George county, two miles from Petersburg, Va., which residence was owned by Miss T. O. Griffith, was destroyed by fire at a late hour Saturday night last. Miss Griffith is now in Kansas.

The French warship Admiral Aube, with the new Governor of the colony, Paul Didelot, on board, has arrived at St. Pierre, Miq. The Governor received a hearty welcome from the towns people. It is understood that he will immediately take up the school question which caused the recent demonstrations.

An emissary, representing Col. William Jennings Bryan, is on his way to Paris—he is probably there by this time—to see Mr. Bryan's son-in-law in regard to the divorce suit about to be brought by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt. The object of the emissary it is said is to secure an agreement for a settlement. Mrs. Leavitt married Leavitt against the wishes of her parents.

J. F. Land, formerly with the Michigan Telephone Company, has begun the manufacture of a device which will answer telephone calls when the person called for is out. It will have a phonograph attachment which will repeat twice to each call of the phone any message the person expecting to be called desires to communicate during his absence. A phonograph attachment does the work. The Annunciaphone is the name of the invention.

It is reported that William J. Bryan, Democratic Presidential candidate, had an adventure with a wounded bear in Mexico, last week, in which the animal tried to hug him to death. The bear tumbled to the ground when shot, as if dead. Mr. Bryan ran up to measure him and was surprised when bruin jumped up and grabbed him. Companions came to the rescue and killed the bear.

The proposed wholesale dismissal of skilled mechanics in the Washington Navy Yard, which created such a stir in Washington, will not take place, at least the men marked for discharge will be allowed to retain their positions until March 31. The notice of Admiral Leutze that in order to put the navy yard on a "peace" basis the mechanical force must be reduced was issued several days ago. The Navy Department, however, has directed that some additional work be undertaken which will keep the force busy until spring.

A new agreement is reported between the United States and Japan. Secretary Root and Ambassador Takahira have been in frequent conference during the past two months. The agreement will provide for the maintenance of the "open door" and the territorial integrity of China, and will contain a mutual guarantee that each government will respect the other's territorial possessions in the Orient, and a promise that should complications arise to threaten existing conditions neither party will act without consulting the other.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS.

Thomas Wilson, of Wrightsville, while visiting his friend, Wm. Hamm, of York, Pa., walked out of a second-story window while asleep. He fell to the pavement, fracturing his legs and sustaining internal injuries of a serious nature.

Joe Berenski and John Bardole, foreigners, were instantly killed while hunting near Steubenville, Ohio, a few days ago. One of the men fired a bullet into a can that had contained nitroglycerin and this caused a terrific explosion.

A burglar with a sweet tooth entered the home of Frank McDowell Smith, 525 north Broad street, Elizabeth, N. J., and stole several jars of preserves, a portion of which he consumed, evidently before leaving the premises. The thief then entered the home of J. W. R. Crawford, at 517, and walked through all the bedrooms, ransacking wearing apparel as he went. He was frightened off by Mr. Crawford as he was going through the latter's pockets.

When Mrs. Annie Coleman, aged 48 years, who lives alone at 707 West Third street, Wilmington, Del., failed to make her appearance for several days, neighbors started an investigation and ascertained that she had lain unconscious since stricken with paralysis two days previous. A bulldog had kept guard all the time and had to be lassoed before anyone could approach the patient. She is expected to die.

Charged with stealing $12,000 worth of platinum from the factory of the New York Dental Supply Company, of York, Pa., W. Frank Quickel, 36 years old an employee, was arrested by Chief Charles S. White. Quickel had been carrying away the platinum from the factory for three years, and Chief White had been trying to trace the robbery for more than 12 months. Five thousand dollars worth of the platinum was recovered at Quickel's home, hidden in a hog pen and potato bin. Quickel confessed.

The municipal electric plant of South Norwalk, Conn., was put out of commission by a child's hoop. The hoop lodged between two wires of the service on one of the remote stretches and connected the commercial with the arc current. It burned out some of the machinery at the plant, besides crippling the entire service for the night. The trouble could not be found until daylight. Superintendent Winchester is of the opinion that the hoop between the wires was not an accident, but the work of enemies of municipal lighting who frequently attempt to injure the plant.

Nature, in an altruistic mood, brought wonder to the door of James Chessen, of East Alton, Missouri, a few days ago. A hen was at the bottom of it, or rather a setting of eggs, which Chessen found in a nest reposing in the middle of a big pumpkin which he purchased from Herbert Culp, a truck farmer. The little brown hen had made an entrance through a hole which a hungry cow had bitten out of the camboge vegetable. As Chessen, who boasts that he drives a good bargain, gave only 15 cents for the pumpkin, and there were 11 chicks in the nest, he thinks he is the financial gainer. Chessen took the pumpkin to his hen house, and now a setting fowl is clucking over the chicks. He expects to sell the pullets at from 35 to 50 cents each, and because of the advertising they are getting, he may realize more.

Any man can learn to love if the girl makes the lessons easy enough.

DEFERRED LOCAL.

Bachman's Valley Items.

Many farmers are busy plowing, since the snow has disappeared, as the ground is in good condition for that work.

John Starner left the home of Harry Lippy on Thursday, where he had been hired during the past summer, and will now live with his parents near Hanover, Pa.

Revival services are still in progress at Bixler's U. B. Church, but no person has yet gone to the penitents' altar.

Some of our county roads in this vicinity are in a bad condition, also some bridges, and they need attention at once.

Too much trapping is done by persons around this neighborhood, without the consent of land owners, and the heavy "dead fall" traps are put in such places that dogs are caught in them and killed.

The bee keepers in this locality should attend the meeting in Baltimore, Dec. 3, to organize an association and get such information as will enable them to form a club in this place.

Wheat was $1.00 a bushel the former part of this week and many farmers have taken advantage of the price by selling their entire crop. They hit a good market.

Coal - - Beware

ORIGINATORS OF THE LONG TON WEIGHT OF 2240 lbs. Clean Coal for a Ton.

The best Coals are the cheapest. All Anthracite Coals are not alike and none can nor will give the satisfaction the Philadelphia and Reading Coals give. We sell no other and in dealing with us you are sure to get the best. There are cheaper grades offered for less money, but a trial will prove their inferiority. Also there is no comparison between the Lykens Valley and the so-called red ash coals.
