MARYLAND NEWS.

The Reformed Church at Braddock, Frederick county, after undergoing extensive repairs, was re-dedicated Sunday afternoon, the dedicatory sermon being preached by Rev. E. L. McLean, of Frederick. Sunday night Rev. Dr. Geo. A. Snyder of Middletown, preached. Rev. W. H. Warner is pastor of the church.

Mr. Daniel H. Randall, recently appointed postmaster at Annapolis, will assume his duties January 1st, and will reappoint Mr. Arthur B. Carter as chief clerk and assistant postmaster. Mr. Carter was assistant postmaster under the late Dr. W. G. Tuck, and since his death has been acting postmaster.

Five men were killed one day last week by the collapse of the new bridge in process of construction over the Potomac river at Williamsport. The jury of inquest, on Saturday, made public its verdict, which says that the accident was due to faulty construction of the concrete piers and that the bridge engineer is to blame for permitting the steel workmen to go ahead while the piers were still green.

It is announced that when Judge Taft is inaugurated President of the United States next March, the Maryland National Guard will probably have not less than 2,500 men in line in the inaugural parade. It is expected that Governor Crothers, who is commander-in-chief of the Guard, will lead the Maryland division, which will occupy, in the order of march, the seventh place, this State being the seventh to ratify the Constitution. There will be about 50,000 troops of the United States and of the States in line.

Cardinal Gibbons delivered the Christmas sermon on Sunday at St. Peter's Church, at Second and C streets, southeast, Washington, D. C. He celebrated mass at 7 o'clock and gave Holy Communion to many members of the congregation. The cardinal also officiated at high mass and delivered a sermon, and in the afternoon confirmed a large class. In his sermon Cardinal Gibbons told the congregation of the spiritual preparations it should make in order that it might participate properly in the annual celebration of the birth of Christ. "Fill up all the deficiencies of the soul," said the Cardinal, "if you wish to prepare properly for the coming of Christ. Our pride must be subdued, our self-esteem and false ambitions must be put aside. There must be an end to double-dealing, deceit and all else that goes to cause friction with our fellow-men."

Mr. William C. D. Trotter, aged 25 years, of 303 East Preston street, Baltimore, a member of the Mount Washington Club, was taken violently ill and died a few minutes later on Saturday afternoon while engaged in a soccer game of football between the Mount Washington Club and the Boys' Country School. When Trotter was removed to the clubhouse the doctors who were attending him readily agreed that his conditon was critical and further play in the game was stopped. The teams had played about 20 minutes before Trotter sank to the ground and the Mount Washington eleven had made two goals, making the score 2 to 0 in favor of Mount Washington. Trotter had been playing a brilliant game for Mount Washington. His collapse was attributed to his lack of training. He had just returned to Baltimore to spend the Christmas holidays with his mother and brother. The Mountaineers were short of one player and Trotter being anxious to get into the game, filled in. Trotter during the past three seasons was one of the star players of the Mount Washington team. A coroner's jury was summoned by Justice H. Holliday Emich, of Arlington, which, after an examination by the three physicians rendered a verdict that Trotter came to his death from a cerebral rupture of a blood vessel of the brain. Several witnesses gave corresponding statements concerning the way in which Trotter came to his death. They said that Trotter had been running very fast just previously, and that they were of the opinion that he was laughing at some play. The smile remained on his face after death.

GENERAL NEWS.

In a statement issued last week the National Ginners' Association estimates the amount of cotton ginned to December 13 a 11,872,000 bales.

Cardinal Victor Lucian Sulpice Lecot, Archbishop of Bordeaux, died at a hotel in Chambery, France, on Sunday, from hemorrhage of the brain while returning from a visit to Rome.

The heavy northeasters that swept across Cape Cod Bay, Mass., rolling up seas mountains high and dashing on the shores of the island of Billingsgate have gradually washed the island away until at the present time only 12 acres of shifting sand dunes mark the spot of a 100-acre island of a few years ago. The Billingsgate lighthouse is being undermined by the seas.

Eugene B. Schmitz, former mayor of San Francisco, accused of grafting, has been released on $110,000 bail furnished by the relatives and friends following the refusal of his former bondsman, William J. Singer, the California "Cement King," to submit to examination as to his financial condition. Four of those who went on Schmitz's bond were women relatives.

[illegible] salary of the pr[illegible] United States to $100,000 a ye[illegible] the salary of the vice president to $2[illegible],000, is making a vigorous campaign for his measure. He says that he believes it will be passed by both Houses of Congress shortly after the holiday recess.

The record speed for the country in covering a rural mail route was announced by the Postoffice Department on Saturday. Carrier Frank E. Howell, at Vliesta, Kansas, has been serving his route of 21 miles in length in 3½ hours, against n average of 6¾ and 7 hours for the same distance in other sections of the State.

It is feared that the anti-foreign movement at Canton, China, originally caused by the death of a coolie on the steamer Falshan, who is alleged to have been brutally kicked by a Portuguese watchman on the vessel, will culminate in an outbreak against all foreigners. So serious is the situation regarded that the British torpedo-boat destroyer, Hart, has been sent to Canton.

Early Sunday morning fire of unknown origin wrecked the third floor of Leary's old book store, 9 South Ninth street, which is one of the oldest landmarks of Philadephia. Pamphlets of rare value were burned and many thrown out in the street to save them from the flames. Water poured on the fire soaked through to the second floor, damaging many valuable books there, so that the total damage can hardly be estimated.

While out sleighing on Sunday, near Redding, Conn., the horse became frightened and the sleigh in which Miss Clara Clemens, daughter of Samuel Clemens, (Mark Twain,) and Ossip Gabrilowitch, the Russian pianist, were riding, was over turned. Miss Clemens escaped with a severe shaking up. Mr. Gabrilowitch, who jumped as the sleigh overturned, grabbed the horse's head and prevented a runaway. He sustained a sprained ankle.

Fire broke out in the wholesale candy establishment of Wm. C. Baughauser, on Commerce street, near St. Francis, Mobile, Ala., early Sunday morning. All kinds of Christmas fireworks were included in the company's stock and these explosives quickly wrapped the building in flames, and the fire was one of the most spectacular ever seen in that city. Four carloads of fireworks were destroyed and caused explosions which broke many plate glass windows in the neighborhood and blew down walls of the burning building. Many firemen had narrow escapes. The loss is about $100,000.

President-elect Taft has taken up his winter residence in Augusta, Ga., and on Sunday attended services at old St. Paul's Episcopal Church, which was established in 1735 by the Church of England, which at that time owned the entire site of the city of Augusta. Rev. Dr. Whitney, the pastor, preached a temperance sermon. Nearly all the pastors in the city preached on the same subject, urging more stringent enforcement of the prohibition laws of the State.

Cold figures gathered by the Bureau of Statistics show that the average American citizen consumes half his own weight in sugar every year, and Uncle Sam's sugar bill averages a million dollars a day. A statement issued by the bureau reads more like popular fiction than the ordinary government report. The total consumption of sugar in the United States in 1907, which is the latest year for which statistics are available, reached the almost unthinkable figure of 7,089,667,975 pounds. The world's production has practically doubled in the past 20 years, having grown from 17,000,000,000 pounds in 1887 to 32,000,000,000 pounds in 1907, and while the United States consumed about 18 per cent. of the total word's production of 1887, it consumed 22 per cent. of the greatly increased production of 1907. Beets now supply half of the grand total product, while 20 years ago they supplied but about one-third of the total product.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS.

Upon searching A. B. Smith, who is under $3,000 bail for trial on three charges of forgery at Ventura, Cal., it was found that he had a cavity in his wooden leg. In it were secreted three other alleged forged notes for sums totaling $1,500.

Wearing a vest that was padded with $50 and $100 bills to the value of more than $6,000, B. B. Bond, of Nashville, Tenn., was arrested at Hamilton, Ont., on a charge of obtaining between $8,000 and $9,000 by false pretenses from the First National Bank, Nashville, Tenn.

Edward Mooney, a member of Philadelphia's mounted police force, was killed in a peculiar manner. He was riding along Pasayunk avenue, in the southwestern section of the city, when his horse slipped and Mooney was thrown to the street directly in front of a moving trolley car. The motorman did all in his power to stop the car, but before he could do so the policeman was struck and crushed to death.

A recent inspection of the many fire-alarm boxes throughout the city of Richmond, Va., has disclosed that they have furnished homes for a various assortment of animals. It was nothing strange to find birds' nests and rats. Many letters, doubtless deposited by the unsophisticated who mistook the fire-alarm box for a mailing station, were also found. The climax came when a garter snake, eight inches long, calmly uncoiled itself at the intrusion [illegible] the inspector. The inspector [illegible] bother the reptile, but hurried to the headquarters office and reported his find. A lineman killed the reptile.

After being tied to their beds for 15 hours by robbers, William Jones and his aged housekeeper, Mrs. Anna Williams, who lives in a little farmhouse three miles from Yostville, Pa., were discovered. They might have starved or frozen to death had not the robbers tied a note to the door of F. C. Wood's blacksmith shop, reading: "Go to William Jones. He is tied in bed and has been robbed by burglars. Don't forget. This is proof." The proof was Jones' old gold watch strung by its chain to the knob of the door.

Urging that prisoners at the State Penitentiary be given tailor-made suits, laundered shirts and polished shoes instead of the present prison garb, J. C. Sanders, warden of the Fort Madison, Iowa, Penitentiary, created consternation before the State Board of Control at the regular meeting at Des Moines, last week. He finally told the board that so long as he is warden no prisoner shall be beaten, that he purposes to totally abolish the solitary confinement, and will do all within his power to furnish pleasure to the inmates of the penal institution. He condemned many of the State laws, flayed judges and prosecutors, and pointed out that it is the legislators' duty to cons[illegible] elors mar[illegible] 30, or pay a pena[illegible] lay. How to provide su[illegible] ment for bachelors is the stumbling block. This much is decided: He will make marriage easy for the bashful and unacquainted. He will provide for the establishment of a state matrimonial bureau, at which persons desiring to avoid the tax and requiring aid may register. From this list the bashful man may pick out a lonely girl—and the fee will maintain the bureau. In the opinion of Assemblyman Farrell, some bachelors simply lack the nerve to ask a woman to marry. This nerve will be supplied through his measure, he thinks. It is, perhaps, unnecessary to add that Mr. Farrell is a married man.

While the streets of Richmond, Va., were crowded with holiday shoppers, two men, each arrayed as Santa Claus, for the purpose of advertising the wares of two local purveyors of toys, became engaged in a free-for-all fight Saturday night, and in feminine fashion started for the false whiskers with which both faces were adorned. Much of the crowd on the street was drawn to the scene of the combat and the fight soon became general, many of the bystanders entering the engagement. When the police arrived the engagement had assumed almost the size of a small riot. Santa No. 1 made good his escape, but was captured Sunday, while Santa No. 2 was led ignominously to the patrol auto, much to the disillusionment and chagrin of many youngsters who were in the crowd.

MAKES WORK EASIER

Westminster People Are Pleased to Learn How it is Done.

It's pretty hard to attend to duties
With a constantly aching back;
With annoying urinary disorders.
Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier.
They cure backache.
They cure kidney ills.

Jesse F. Stem, Pennsylvania avenue, Westminter, Md., says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they have proven of great benefit to me and I am confident that other kidney sufferers will find them equally satisfactory. Over three years I suffered from backache and lumbago, at times the pains being so sharp and persistent that for several days I was unable to do any work. A friend at length advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured them at Chas. W. Moore's drug store. They gave me great relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"It sho'ly do look," said Miss Miami Brown sadly, "like dar war no mo romance dese days."

"What's de trouble!" asked Erastus Pinkly.

"I takes notice dat when you asks a gemman to Christmas dinner he doesn' 'splay no interest in whetuh dey's gwine to be mistletoh in de pahlor, but keeps hintin' aroun' to fin'out how 'bout de turkey an' fixin's on de dinner table."

Dashaway—Well, Uncle Jasper, how are you getting on with your Christmas dinner?

Uncle Jasper—Fust rate, sah. Colonel Winterblossom done guv [me a present of a fine fat turkey, sah.

Dashaway—That's very strange. I just left the colonel and he didn't say anything about it.

Uncle Jasper—No, sah. He's got to count dem turkeys fust.

Little Rodney (manipulating his Christmas toy)—Hooee, pa!

Mr. Scrappington—Well, what is it, my son?

Little Rodney—Why, pa, my jumping jack cuts up just like you do whenever ma asks you for money.

"I wonduh why Santa Claus uses reindeer," said Pickaninnie Jim.

"Well," answered Mammy Brown, "I specs mebbe a mule would be cheaper."

"Yes. But goodness Lor', mammy! S'pos'n dat mule was to take a notion to balk!"

Christmas content is not the least of holiday blessings. When one has learned to appreciate the common things, and to be satisfied with nature's ordinary good measure of these, life is not merely more tolerable, but absolutely enjoyable.

"Made known your wants for Christmas yet?"

"Sure. I asked the 47 friends who sent me suspenders last year to send trousers to match them this year."

"De man dat reserves mos' ob his piety foh Sunday," said Uncle Eben, "can't blame de small boy for showin'off mos' ob his goodness de week befor' Christmas."
