Justice Shriver's Court.

From the story told in Police Justice Shriver's Court, on Tuesday, persons at Weldon on Saturday, February 20th, had reason to believe that a miniature war was in progress, or a premature Fourth of July celebration. John Ziegler, John Fritz, alias "Tull" Fritz, John Sheen, Lucretia Urie, alias "Sally Elms," were arraigned on two charges, assault with intent to kill Orville Naill and Clarence Naill. Incidentally Orville Naill was arraigned on the charge of assault with intent to kill John Sheen. All the parties named had been in jail for some days, awaiting the hearing. Neither the State nor the prisoners were represented by counsel, and Justice Shriver had his hands full in conducting the examination of the witnesses. Those who testified were Orville Naill, Mrs. Orville Naill, Clarence Naill, Mamie Naill, Chas. Bear, Noah Franklin, Ada Hammond, Maggie Hammond for the State, and Lucretia Urie for the defense. From the testimony it appears that John Ziegler, Lucretia Urie and Mrs. Orville Naill are brother and sisters. Lucretia Urie lives at Hood's Mill, and while visiting her mother in the neighborhood of Oak Orchard called on her sister, Mrs. Naill. While she was in the Naill house the four male traversers came to Chas. Bear's store, within view of the Naill house, and sought to purchase cartridges; Bear had none in stock; they went outside the store and Bear heard one of them say "We'll go down and clean that shack out," but did not say what shack; as they passed Naill's house they were invited to come in, but did not do so; went to Noah Franklin's store and bought 12 cartridges and returning to Naill's went in. Some trouble arose and the men went outside, and there were threats of shooting. Naill ran in and shots were fired after him. He ran upstairs for his shot gun and fired, striking John Sheen in the side. Clarence Naill put his head out of the upstairs window and one of the beseiging party took a shot at him. Orville and Clarence both hid, and after a time, during which shots were fired and stones thrown against the house, Lucretia Urie and Mrs. Naill persuaded the men to leave. The three men, charged with assaulting the Naills, declined to testify in their own behalf. Justice Shriver very properly discharged Lucretia Urie and Orville Naill, and held Ziegler, Sheen and Fritz, each in the sum of $500 for the action of the grand jury.

Maryland State Dairymen's Association.

There will be a meeting of the Maryland State Dairymen's Association on March 17th, beginning at 11.00 A.M., at McCoy Hall, Johns Hopkins University, in Baltimore, at which meeting the constitution and by-laws prepared by the committee appointed for that purpose will be presented for discussion and adoption. Prominent speakers from the Dairy Department in Washington and from other parts of the country will address the meeting, and every farmer, dairyman, creameryman, city distributor, or other party interested in the association is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

This meeting will be a very important and interesting one and should be of value to any one engaged in dairying in any of its branches. Since a great number of farmers and dairymen will attend from all over the State, the mere benefits of closer acquaintance from personal contact and exchange of experience should be of great value to all, aside from the opportunity of hearing some of the leaders in the country speak upon the most modern practice and improved method of dairying.

J. ALEXIS SHRIVER, Secretary.

The Storm.

Not since March, 1888, has a storm of greater severity visited this section than swept down over Maryland on Wednesday night. Baltimore was the storm center. In this county snow fell throughout the night, and until Thursday afternoon, to a depth of about 15 inches. Telegraph and telephone wires are down all over the county. About fifty telegraph polls fell between this city and New Windsor. Many trees were broken by the weight of snow. In this city the telephone wires were in service on Thursday, but Westminster was entirely cut off from the outside world. The roads were badly blocked and the rural mail carriers with the exception of one were compelled to turn back. Mr. W. E. Starner used up two pairs of horses and succeeded in getting through. Trains on the W. M. R. R. were delayed on Thursday evening and Friday morning. The special leaving Baltimore Thursday night at 11.30 did not reach Westminster until 7.45 this morning. The first regular passenger train today, westbound, reached Westminster at 10; and the first train eastbound, at 9.

The carriers all went out this morning, but some were compelled to return; others are still out, trying to get through with the mails.

Co. H, First Regiment.

Co. H., 1st Md., Captain Weigle, with the First Regiment Band, Drum Major Bonnotte in command, A. Bailey Morelock, leader, left for the inauguration on Wednesday evening. They spent the night in the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, and left for Washington, with the regiment on Thursday morning. They reached home, returning, about 10 o'clock this morning. They report that on Thursday most of the wires were down between Baltimore and Washington and trains had to feel their way. The train bearing the Maryland troops formed part of a line of trains seven miles long, one just behind the other. They did not reach Washington until after four o'clock in the afternoon, too late for the parade. The midshipmen from the Naval Academy and all other Maryland soldiers except the Fifth had the same experience. The Fifth went over on Wednesday evening. Co. H left Washington this morning at 3 o'clock; arriving in Westminster, they marched to the armory, the band playing, and were enthusiastically greeted all along the line by our citizens who are glad to welcome their safe return.

Stable Burned.

Immediately after the town-clock struck 11, on Tuesday night, the fire alarm aroused our citizens from their first sleep. Attracted by the loud alarm and by the bright light a large crowd hurried from all parts of the city to the scene of the conflagration. The alarm had been given by Mr. David R. Geiman. Mr. Geiman happened to look from one of his windows toward town and saw a blaze in some hay or straw at the end of an outbuilding at Mr. Rezin Cook's, just outside the corporate limits of Westminster at the end of Liberty street. Mr. Geiman's telephone at once was brought into action and in a few minutes the town was aroused. Mr. Geiman hurried to the fire and with Mr. Cook and others got out all the stock from the stable, before the arrival of the firemen. The flames spread rapidly along the outbuildings and soon reached the stable. There is a fire plug on Liberty street, more than a block from the stable. The firemen soon had two streams playing on the flames, and prevented their communication to the dwelling and other buildings. The stable was full of hay. A second alarm was sounded at 2.20 o'clock, and the firemen were compelled to make another trip to the scene to extinguish the flames that had blazed up from the smouldering hay. Mr. Cook's loss will hardly reach $1,000., partially insured in the Dug Hill Company.

To Have Fire Alarm.

At its regular meeting on Wednesday night, the Westminster Fire Department decided to instal the International Police Patrol and Fire Alarm system in this city, and instructed the executive committee to close the contract with Mr. Martin V. Shriver. The system contemplates a gong in every fireman's home, a large gong at the engine house, and smaller gongs on the street in other parts of the city. By the system, every Chesapeake & Potomac telephone becomes a fire alarm box, from which any person may call the exchange, where the operator, by simply pulling down a small lever, can send throughout the city a continuous alarm. The arrangement will add much to the value of the phones in homes and places of business. The cost of the installation of the system will be $1400, of which sum $900 has been provided for, leaving $500 yet to be raised by the firemen. The young ladies and gentlemen, who so successfully produced the comic opera, "The Princess Bonnie," last month, have generously offered to repeat it after Easter, for the benefit of the Fire Alarm fund, and their offer was formally and enthusiastically accepted by the firemen last night. The opera will be given on two nights, April 20th and April 22nd. Thus a considerable sum will be added to the fund, though other contributions will be necessary to bring the amount up to the needed $1400. This is an opportunity for volunteer donations so that, when the system is installed, probably within the next two months, the money may be in hand to pay for it. Nothing that will render the fire department more efficient is too good for the little band of men composing it, who do not hesitate at any sacrifice to protect the property of our citizens, without reward.

There were present at the "Golden Wedding" more than fifty relatives, including all of their children and grandchildren. Mrs. Plank is a daughter of the late Jeremiah Rinehart and a sister o Mrs. S. Awakened Great Sympathy.

Considerable excitement was created in this city last Friday afternoon by the apprehension of Mr. Theodore R. Zepp of Baltimore. Mr. Zepp rented an automobile in Baltimore City, and had the chauffeur drive him to this county. The driver soon realized that his passenger was not himself. At Taylorsville, Mr. Zepp got out of the car, and taking one of its lamps, entered the home of Mr. Raymond Franklin, at about two o'clock in the morning, terrifying Mr. Franklin's family. The car was then driven to New Windsor. Mr. Zepp's father, Mr. Joseph Zepp, came with him in the car to this city. Meanwhile, Mr. Franklin had a warrant issued for his arrest. In this city, the young man was in Mr. Dieffenbach's store, purchasing flags with which to adorn the automobile, when Sheriff Townshend, assisted by Deputy Helm and Chief of Police Hesson, took him in charge, not without desperate resistance on the part of the afflicted gentleman, for whom much sympathy is expressed. The arrest was made for his benefit and on Tuesday, Mr. Franklin withdrew the warrant, and Sheriff Townshend accompanied Mr. Zepp to Baltimore City, his place of residence, from which he was sent to an institution for treatment. Mr. Zepp was treated for mental trouble some years ago at Springfield and it was hoped that there would be no recurrence. He is a gentleman and fine business man, and is employed as a traveling salesman by the Nelson Morris firm, of Baltimore.

DEATHS' DONGS.

Thomas Everist Sollers.

Mr. Thomas Everist Sollers, a former resident of this city, died Monday in Philadelphia where he had been engaged for twenty-five years in the manufacture of shoes. He was born in Frederick county about 68 years ago and was engaged in business in this city for several years with his father. A widow and two children, Mrs. Mary Belle Frishmuth, wife of Dr. J. P. Frishmuth, of Philadelphia, and Thomas E. Sollers, Jr., of Kansas City, survive him.

Frank E. Swanson.

Mr. Frank Emil Swanson, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. August Swanson, died on the morning of February 25th, at one o'clock, at his father's home, 119 Third street, Geneva, Ill. The deceased is survived by his wife, who is the daughter of Capt. Reuben N. Conaway, of this county, and one son. His father, mother, three sisters and three brothers also survive him. Death was due to pulmonary tuberculosis from which disease he had suffered for the past year. Mr. Swanson was born in Geneva, thirty-two years ago. He was a member of the Free Masons, and of P. O. S. of A. Camp 15, of Winfield. Funeral services were conducted at the Swedish Lutheran Church on Sunday last followed by the interment at Oak Hill Cemetery.

Capt. Wm. C. Gretzinger.

Capt. Wm. Christian Gretzinger, who married Miss Mary Stoner, a daughter of Dr. Wm. B. Stoner, of Sunbury, Pa., and granddaughter of the late George W. and Mary C. Stoner, of Stonersville, near this city, died at his home in Lewisburg, Pa., on the 18th ult., in his 43rd year. Capt. Gretzinger was registrar of Bucknell University, Lewisburg. He was graduated from the university with the degree of Ph. B., and afterward, upon completing a prescribed course of post-graduate work, received the degree of A. M. He was, upon his graduation, tendered the position of registrar of the institution, which he accepted and held until his death. Mainly to his efforts, it is said, the university grew from a struggling institution, with 150 students, to its present flourishing condition, with 800 young men and women in its various departments. Capt. Gretzinger was born in Reading, Pa., August 23, 1866.

Lewis C. Franklin.

Mr. Lewis C. Franklin, a prominent farmer and one of the best-known citizens of the southern part of the county, died at his home at Franklinville, on Friday last, after a long illness, aged 66 years. Mr. Franklin was an ardent Democrat and served as register of voters for many years. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Jesse Lindsay, of Marston; Misses Ethel, Hallie and Marie Franklin, at home; two sisters, Mrs. Catharine Devilbiss, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Jane Lindsay, of Winfield. After funeral services, conducted by Rev. G. W. Cecil and the pastor of the charge, the interment took place at Bethany M. E. Church South, near Franklinville. The pallbareers were: Geo. W. Grimes, F. A. Crawford, Thos. E. Moore, R. H. Alexander, Harry E. Koontz and Cornelius W. Jenkins. Messrs. J. P. Waltz and Sons, of Winfield were the funeral directors.

Davis Myers.

Mr. Davis Myers, of Uniontown, whose illness had been several times reported by our correspondent at that place, died on Friday afternoon last at the age of about 69 years. Mr. Myers was widely known in the upper districts of this county and was held in high regard by every resident of that section. He was, indeed, a man fully entitled to that regard. Thoroughly upright in character, quiet, unassuming and unostentatious in manner, to know him was to repose the utmost confidence in his sincerity, truth and upright manhood. In a word, he was one of the best citizens of this county, and more than worthy this brief but sincere and heartfelt tribute. Mr. Myers is survived by his wife, who was Miss Rebecca Geiman, daughter of the late Daniel J. Geiman. He also leaves one daughter, the wife of Elder Wm. Philip Englar, of Uniontown, two grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. E. J. Pfoutz, of Clear Ridge. The late Joel Myers, of York Road, and Mr. Philip B. Myers, of Union Bridge, were his brothers. His funeral, which was largely attended, took place from the Pipe Creek Church of the Brethren, of which he was a member, on Monday afternoon and his remains were interred in the church cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Elder W. M. Wine, president of Maryland Collegiate Institute, and Elder T. J. Kolb, of Detour. The pallbearers were Messrs. Alfred Englar, David Young, John E. Senseney, J. H. Singer, Jesse P. Garner and Milton A. Zollickoffer.

Our Uniontown correspondence, received after the aforegoing was in type, fully confirms the estimate of Mr. Myers' character held by the writer, and adds a few facts to the account given of his life. He was, the correspondence states, a retired farmer and his exact age was 69 years, 8 months, 26 days. The three pallbearers first named represented the Church and the other three the Carroll County Savings Bank, of which he was a director for a number of years. He was stricken with paralysis four years ago and never fully recovered from the effect of the stroke.

Miss Sallie A. Fringer.

Miss Sallie A. Fringer, youngest daughter of Mrs. Catharine and the late Geo N. Fringer, died at her home on East Main street, this city, between 5 and 6 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, in her 41st year. She had only been ill a few days when appendicitis developed, on Sunday, complicated with peritonitis, and caused her death. She is survived by her mother, two sisters and two brothers—Misses Ella and Fannie Fringer, Messrs. Frank and Guy N. Fringer. She also leaves many relatives in Baltimore and elsewhere in this State. She was a member of Centenary M E. Church and was also identified with the Sunday School from her childhood, and was always faithful to her religious dutes. Funeral services were held at the house yesterday afternoon, by Rev. Jesse C. Starr, after which her remains were interred in Westminster Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. C. Gloyd Lynch, Frank Brightwell, Atlee W. Wampler, Claude T. Smith, Maurice Mitten and Dr. Glenn Horner. Mr. F. C. Sharrer was funeral director.

David S. Segafoose.

Mr. David S. Segafoose, formerly of Uniontown, but for a long time past a citizen of Baltimore, died very suddenly at his home, 1331 Mosher street, in that city about 1 o'clock, Monday afternoon. Mr. Segafoose had eaten a hearty dinner and walked out into the yard of his home. He had gone but a few feet when his wife, who was in the kitchen, saw him fall. When she reached his side he was dead. Coroner Baldwin, of the Northwestern district, gave a certificate of death from heart failure. His age was 73 years. Besides a widow, Mrs. Ellen M. Segafoose, Mr. Segafoose is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Edward Christ, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Oliver M. Hiteshew, and Mrs. J. C. Wailes, of Baltimore—a brother, Mr. William Segafoose, of Uniontown, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Franklin, of this city. By the train which left Baltimore at 8 o'clock, yesterday morning, his remains were taken to New Windsor and thence to the Pipe Creek Church of the Brethren, where funeral services were held. Interment was in the church cemetery. Elder E. W. Stoner and others officiated.

For the Sentinel.

Charles C. Cook.

Mr. Charles C. Cook, a highly respected young farmer of near Warfieldsburg, this county, and a son of Rezin Cook, of this city, died at his home on last Saturday evening of consumption, aged 33 years, 8 months and 22 days.

His funeral services took place at Stone Chapel M. E Church on Wednesday afternoon last, and were conducted by Rev. L. E. Bennett, pastor of New Windsor Circuit, assisted by Rev. P. H. Miller and Rev. Mr. Betts. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. John Snader, Harry Summers, John Lovell, Clarence Lantz, Greer Robertson, and Daniel Hollinger. The undertaker was Mr. Frank C. Sharrer, of this city.

Despite the very disagreeable weather a large concourse of relatives and friends, filling the church and aisles, was present to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased, and to evince their deep sorrow at his early and untimely death. While he regretted to leave his dear ones behind, yet he said he was ready and not afraid of the end, and that all was well. Besides a wife he left three bright children. The deceased was a kind and devoted husband, a loving father of an amiable and generous nature, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

N. B. The bereaved family use this means to extend their sincere thanks for the sympathy, kindness and attention shown during the illness, death and burial of the deceased.

John B. Longnecker.

Mr. John Barr Longnecker, senior member of the firm of Longnecker Brothers, publishers and editors of the Baltimore County Union, at Towson, died at his home in that place Monday night. Mr. Longnecker was one of the best known and most highly esteemed citizens of Baltimore county. He was the oldest son of the late John H. Longnecker, who published the Baltimore County Union more than forty years ago and whom, with his brother Harry C. Longnecker, he succeeded in the publication of the paper. His father was a prominent citizen, was once clerk of the Circuit Court for Baltimore county and held other offices of trust and responsibility. Mr. Longnecker was born in Lancaster county, Pa., but came to Maryland when a child, with his parents. He was a practical printer and, with his brother, made the Union one of the best local papers to be found any where in this country. Six years ago he was the Republican candidate for clerk of the Circuit Court for Baltimore county. He was a member of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church of Towson and of the Towson Lodge of Elks. Mr. Longnecker is survived by his wife, who was Miss Elizabeth Yeager, of Pittsburg, Pa. He also leaves one brother, his business partner, and two sisters, Misses Elizabeth and Katharine Longnecker. Funeral services were held at his late home, Thursday afternoon, by his pastor, Rev. Dr. W. H. H. Powers, and his remains were interred in Prospect Hill Cemetery, Towson. The pallbearers were Messrs. Martin J. O'Hara, Wm. R. Hoff, N. Bosley Merryman, Capt. John Ridgely of H., Frederick Von Kapff and R. H. Denny.

Charles C. Richardson.

Mr Charles C. Richardson, a well known and prominent farmer, died at his home in Wakefield Valley, at 4 o'clock on Saturday morning last, after a long and very painful illness, which he bore with great patience and fortitude. Twice he underwent severe operations at hospitals in Baltimore for disease of the kidneys, but obtained only partial relief from the distressing malady, as other complications arose and he gradually wasted away from a stalwart and vigorous frame until he became greatly emaciated. Mr. Richardson was a native and lifelong resident of Wakefield Valley and enjoyed the kindly regard and respect of the people among whom his years were spent. He was in his 54th year, having been born July 22, 1855. He was a son of the late James H. Richardson, one of the most prominent citizens of that section. His wife, who survives him, is a daughter of the late Isaiah Devilbiss. He leaves one son, Mr. Raymond I. Richardson, a steward on the steamer Howard, of the Baltimore and Boston line, and two daughters, Misses Virginia and Reba, at home. He is also survived by one brother and four sisters—Mr. Edward G. Richardson, near Medford; Mrs. Jesse Stevenson, of New Windsor; Mrs. V. E. Wampler, of Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. Geo. K. Schaeffer, of this city, and Mrs. W. Scott Wolfe, of Union Bridge. Funeral services were held at the house on Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. John T. Ensor, of Baltimore, and Rev. Dr. James Fraser, president of New Windsor College. Interment was in the cemetery of Winter's Lutheran Church near New Windsor. The pallbearers were Messrs. Willet, Lambert, I. N. Stoner, E. E. Roop, Dennis A. Smith and John Snader. Mr. H.
