Grammer, of this city, has in his possession a receipt for taxes paid by his father, Henry Grammer, in 1804, 105 years ago, on the farm now owned and occupied by Mr. Zephaniah Leister, near Brummel. The receipt is signed by Edward Day for Thomas Bailey, the latter of whom was collector of taxes for Baltimore county. The farm mentioned was the birth place of Mr. Henry B. Grammer.

Mr. M. E. Campbell has purchased a brick dwelling, stable and slaughter house at Wakefield, for $685.

On Saturday last, Dr. S. Luther Bare took Mr. Carroll Hering, son of Mr. Frank L. Hering, to the Maryland University Hospital, Baltimore, where he was sucessfully operated on for appendicitis. For a time, Mr. Hering was critically ill, but he is now improving and his rapid recovery is looked for.

Mr. James D. Mitchell spent Wednesday in Winchester, Va., visiting his wife's sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry J. Turfle, who, on Tuesday, underwent an operation at the Winchester Memorial Hospital. He reports that Mrs. Turfle is getting along nicely. Mrs. Mitchell will visit her next week.

Mrs. Jesse A. Smith has disposed of the stock in her store on East Main street, this city, to the Misses Fringer, who will take charge of the business the latter part of this month and conduct it thereafter. Mrs. Smith will spend some time visiting among friends and relatives.

When Mrs. David Jones, of this city, was operated upon for appendicitis, at the Maryland University Hospital in Baltimore, last week. It was found that other conditions made the further use of the surgeon's knife necessary. She stood the ordeal well, however, and is reported to be rapidly recovering.

Mr. J. Thomas Anders, of this city, received a barrel of oranges last week from his father, who has been visiting in Florida. The fruit was picked ripe and that portion of it which reached this city in good condition was as finely flavored as any oranges ever eaten. It had been a week in transit, however, and about seven dozen were in a decayed condition.

Theoretically spring will begin on the 21st inst., when, according to the almanacs, day and night will be equal in this latitude, the sun rising at 6 A. M., and setting at 6 P. M. By railroad time, however, which now governs in this country, the sun will not rise until sometime after 6 on that date and will not set until after 6 in the afternoon.

Mrs. Weigle, wife of Captain Weigle, of this city, has returned home after spending a few weeks with relatives in Washington, D. C. She found the captain under the care of a physician and confined to the house. He was suffering with a severe cold, contracted on inauguration day while in command of Co. H., which went to Washington to participate in the inaugural parade.

It was announced at the weekly meeting of the Baltimore ministers of the M. E. Church, on Monday, that Rev. Dr. C. Herbert Richardson has resigned the pastorate of Centenary M. E. Church, this city. Dr. Richardson is one of the ablest ministers of the Baltimore Conference and the American says will be appointed to the pastorate of a church in or near Baltimore, at the approaching meeting of that body.

Mr. Samuel Stone, Clerk to the Election Supervisors, was severely hurt by the breaking down of a scaffold at the new Mather building on Tuesday. Mr. Stone and Mr. Chas. Snyder, who was working with him, were precipitated to the ground with broken lumber and a mass of falling brick. Mr. Snyder, strange to say, escaped uninjured. Mr. Stone fell on his side across a piece of scantling and was severely bruised. Doctors Billingslea and Woodward who attended him, found that no bones were broken, and he is geting along nicely.

The Baltimore News of Sunday stated that the first telegraph wire into Baltimore after the great snow storm last week was that morning by the Munsey Service wire, leased from the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, which connected Baltimore with Philadelphia and Washington, by way of Pittsburg and Westminster. Many persons who read the News were perplexed to understand how that could be as Westminster, Md., was completely cut off from telegraph communication with the outside world. The explanation probably is that Westminster, Ohio, was the point allnded to.

Mr. Robert Sheets, train dispatcher of the Western Maryland Railroad at Hagerstown, made a narrow escape from a violent death at Emory Grove, some days ago. In attempting to board a moving passenger train he slipped and fell and was dragged along for some distance. He maintained a fast grip on the platform railing, only loosening his hold as the train stopped and he was drawn from his perilous position. One of his fingers was broken and he was somewhat bruised but fortunately his injuries were not serious. Without doubt he would have fallen upon the track if he had not held tightly to the railing.

Mr. E. B. Gorsuch, of Lawrence, Kansas, accompanied his remittance of two years subscription to the SENTINEL with a very interesting letter, from which the liberty is taken of making the following extract:

"I look forward to the arrival of the Sentinel as I would to the coming of a letter from home, and while I find in it evidence of the very many changes that are constantly occurring, there are a great many things that are of personal interest and familiar to me. I have been much interested in reading the accounts of the effort to establish a Y. M. C. A., and shall hope and pray for its abundant success along all lines of work."

Of the many young men who have gone from Carroll county and "made good" elsewhere, few, if any, have been more successful in a chosen profession or stand higher in the estimation of the people among whom they reside than Dr. A. Leo. Franklin, of Cumberland. Last December he was appointed surgeon in chief of the Western Maryland Hospital in that city and recent Cumberland correspondence of the Baltimore American states that he "has purchased the property of George Truogs, glass etcher, who has returned to his home in Switzerland, and has removed his family to his new home. The house is built after the fashion of a Swiss chateau and the price paid by Dr. Franklin for the property was $16,500." Dr. Franklin is the son of the late Dr. B. G. Franklin, of this city. He has, by marked skill and ability, won an enviable place in his profession.

Mr. John H. Mitten, of this office, received a few days ago a letter from Mr. John T. Anders, who with Mrs. Anders has been spending some time at Orlando, Fla., in which he states that they intended to leave for Jacksonville on the 4th inst., and remain there until Monday, 8th inst., when they would start for Savannah and take the steamer at that place for Baltimore at 4 P. M., Tuesday afternoon. They are therefore now about due to arrive at home. Mr. Anders writes entertainingly about the attractions of Orlando and that region. Among these must be the fishing, as he tells a story of having seen a couple of fishermen, the morning the letter was written, who had a dozen bass just caught, the largest of which weighed 8½ lbs. and the others from 2½ to 5 lbs. There are 12 lakes within sight of Orlando and fish, principally bass and trout, in all of them. Vegetables are now abundant there and the strawberries are fine. The orange crop, which is now nearly all gathered, was only a fair one this season.

Preliminary Oratorical Contest.

The preliminary contest to determine who shall be the speaker to represent Western Maryland College in the State Intercollegiate Oratorical Association Contest will be held in Alumni Hall tonight at 7.30 o'clock. Although purely a collegiate affair this contest possesses unusual interest from the fact that Western Maryland College has won first place at all of these contests that have been held except two and naturally some good speeches may be expected from those who enter this preliminary tonight. There will be six speakers. The State contest is to be held this year at Maryland Agricultural College on the last Friday in April.

Station Burned.

On Wednesday morning, between one and two o'clock, the station at Wakefield, on the Western Maryland Railroad was destroyed by fire. The building was the old warehouse, owned by Mr. J. Fletcher Babylon, and was a two story frame structure, about 30x18 ft. The post office was also located in the building, but the government's loss is small, as only a few stamps were left in the office at night. Some mail sacks and a small amount of mail were burned. The loss on building and contents was about $500; with insurance, in a company represented by Mr. Chas. E. Goodwin, of $300.

Baseball.

As the baseball season draws near, interest on the part of Westminster enthusiasts increases. A meeting was held on Friday night last at the office of Smith & Reifsnider, and the following named as a board of directors: Joseph W. Smith, Dr. J. S. Myers, Francis Neal Parke, B. Frank Crouse, John Milton Reifsnider, W. Frank Thomas, John M. Roberts, Guy W. Steele, C. L. Thompson, J. Pearre Wantz, Serek S. Wilson, Thomas K. Shaw, Thomas J. Coonan, Joseph N. Shriver, W. L. Seabrook, Edward O. Diffendal, A. Claude Algire, and Edward O. Weant.

The directors met at the office of the Democratic Advocate on Tuesday night. J. Milton Reifsnider, Esq., was made chairman, and Morris Eckenrode, Esq., secretary. It was decided to incorporate the organization under the name of the Westminster Athletic Association, and a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions to stock. It is proposed to raise $1,000. The athletic grounds will be fenced and a grandstand erected.

Nothing for many years has given greater pleasure to our citizens than the splendid work of last year's team on the diamond, and every game brought out a large crowd, notwithstanding the fact that most of the spectators had to stand throughout the games. Given an enclosed ground, with proper seating facilities, and a good team, nothing can prevent a great season this year.

It is hoped that everyone who can do so will give favorable response to the solicitation of the committee and that the whole amount needed will be speedily raised.

Dr. Lewis on Union of Methodists.

The Baltimore American of Tuesday says:

"Under the auspices of the Ministers' Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church, a large and enthusiastic gathering was held at Eutaw Street Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday morning. The feature of the meeting was the reading of a paper by Rev. Dr. Thomas H. Lewis, president of the Western Maryland College, the purport of which was the union of all Methodist churches. In his paper, Dr. Lewis showed that the differences between the denominations were purely incidental, and that it would require no special change to bring about a union of the denominations in a few years. He called attention to the fact that the separations were due to issues outside of the church. The Civil War, he said, had caused the separation of the church into the Methodist Episcopal Church North and the Methodist Episcopal Church South, while the separation of the Methodist Protestant Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church had come about through differences in their respective forms of government. The speech was punctuated time and again with loud applause, and Dr. Lane Taneyhill offered to pay for the printing of 1,000 copies of the discourse in order to help in that way, to arouse additional interest in effecting the union."

Song Recital.

It is to be regretted that Alumni Hall was not filled last Friday evening on the occasion of a most delightful musical event, the song recital of Miss Mathilde B. Rimbach, soprano; Miss Nellie A. Sellman, alto; and Merrill Hopkinson, A. M., M. D., bass. Miss Rimbach is the successful and popular intructress in vocal music at Western Maryland College, and won new laurels, not less by her charming manner than by her wonderful voice control and exquisite rendering of every selection. Miss Sellman and Dr. Hopkinson, both from the Peabody Conservatory, Baltimore, were, but are no longer, strangers to a Westminster audience. Miss Sellman's voice, rich, full and clear, touched deep places in all hearts, especially in Chadwick's arrangement of Sidney Lanier's "Ballad of The Trees and The Master." Dr. Hopkinson is not only a master of music, but a courtly gentlemen, in the fullest meaning of the phrase, and his every appearance on the stage was an ovation. The marvellous compass of his voice was well demonstrated in the varied selections with which he delighted the audience, Parker's "The Lark Now Leaves Her Nest;" Damrosch's "Danny Deever;" Ware's "Boat Song;" Korbay's "Had a Horse;" Somerwell's "Little Mary Cassidy;" and Lehman's "The Mad Dog Song." The duets and trios of the program were very beautiful and beautifully rendered.

Without the skill of Miss Ethel Garett Johnston, accompanist, whose interpretation of the music of every number was as delightful as the voices of the singers, the latter could not have accomplished such splendid results.

Rev. J. W. Richard, D. D.

Rev. J. W. Richard, D. D., one of the most widely-known Lutheran clergymen, died at his home in Gettysburg, last Sunday. Among the great multitude to whom the tidings of his death will bring sorrow, there are few who will feel more keenly than the junior editor of the SENTINEL, who entered the Theological Seminary, at Gettysburg, as a student, just as Dr. Richard took the chair of Homiletics and Ecclesiastical Theology. The faculty was then composed of Doctors Charles Hay, M. Valentine, E. J. Wolf, and James W. Richard, than whom no four men have occupied larger place in the history of the Lutheran Church in America, as preachers, teachers and authors. One by one they have "finished the course" have gone to their crowning. Dr. Richards age was 66 years and 23 days. The cause of death was uraemia. He was ill for only six days, and only his nearest friends knew that his illness was critical, so that the news of his death came as a great shock to the church.

Dr. Richard was born near Winchester, Va., Feb. 14th, and was a son of the late H. P. and Margaret Richard. He is survived by one brother, Rev. Asa Richard, of Lovettsville, Va.; and two sisters, Mrs. Philip Williams, of Winchester, Va., and Mrs. Anna E. Larick, of Red Cloud, Nebraska.

Martin Bitzel.

Mr. Martin Bitzel died at his home near Ogg's Summit, three miles from this city, on Saturday morning at six o'clock, aged 76 years, 5 months and 5 days. Mr. Bitzel was a natve of Baden, Germany, and came to the United States about 1850. After spending a number of years in Baltimore, he came, with his young wife, to this county, in 1858, and built the little home in which he lived until the day of his death. His wife died September 5th, 1908, and both these venraeble people had the desire of their hearts fulfilled, that they might not be long separated. They were among the original members of Trinity Lutheran Church, Deer Park Road, and, though failing health prevented frequent attendance in recent years, its success was very dear to the hearts of the aged couple. Mr. Bitzel was confined to his bed for only one week. On Wednesday, just before the breaking of the great snow-storm, his pastor visited him at his request and gave him the Holy Communion. The service of his friends and neighbors, by whom he was highly respected, in breaking the way through the drifted roads, from his home to the church, was truly a labor of love. After a brief service at his late residence, his remains were taken to Trinity Lutheran Church, where the funeral sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. W. L. Seabrook, and the interment was in the church graveyard. Though many roads were impassable, a large concourse of people were in attendance. The same pallbearers, who performed that sacred office just six months before for his wife, bore Mr. Bitzel to the grave, Messrs. John George Hoffman, Ernest Wolf, Wm. Heagey, Henry Fred. Walkling, Harry Ogg, and Elias E. Arnold. Mr. Frank C. Sharrer was the funeral director. Mr. Bitzel is survived by two sons and five daughters, Mr. Philip P. Bitzel, of Tannery, Mr. Frederick Bitzel, near this city; Mrs. Anthony Arnold, Mrs. George Neudecker, Mrs. George Mengel, Mrs. Wm. U. Barber, of this county, and Mrs. Catharine Blauvelt, of Baltimore.

Have You Heard The Evangelists?

Earnest Laymen Fighting The Devil.

On Sunday night last, in the Methodist Protestant Church, this city, began a unique series of evangelistic services, which should have the moral support of all, who seek the overthrow of evil and the upbuilding of the kingdom of Jesus Christ. On Monday an all day meeting was held in Grace Lutheran Church, and every night this week there has been a good attendance at the services in Odd Fellows' Hall.

WHY THEY CAME.

Mr. F. S. Fergruson, who was formerly superintendent of Gospel Missions in Patterson, N. J., is now a prosperous business man of New York. He is the father-in-law of a student of the Westminster Theological Seminary. Recently he visited his daughter here, and was prompted to let his business take care of itself for a time, and return to this city to put in two weeks of Christian work. He brought with him another man, whose life has been given to successful work along the firing line in the battle against sin, Mr. Jas. R. Johnson, formerly superintendent of the Florence Crittenton Mission, on the Bowery, New York, but who is now devoting all his time to special evangelistic effort. Mr. Johnson has done splendid work, not only on the Bowery, but in the heart of the "Tenderloin" in Philadelphia and other cities. He does not come "with enticing words of man's wisdom;" he is a man of plain speech, bubbling over with homely wit and wisdom, and knows the Scripture.

THEIR SPIRIT.

Men, who, with self sacrificing love for their fellows, have gone right down into the darkness and misery of the slums of great cities, and given their lives to lift up the fallen, needed no other testimonial than this, but if any other were needed, their personality gives it, impressing all with their sincerity of purpose and whole-hearted consecration to their great work.

THE MEETINGS.

The meetings in Odd Fellows' Hall have been well attended, though not so many men of the city have been present as would have been there had the character of the meetings been more generally known. They commence at 7.30 with a song service, led by a choir, conducted by Mr. Ackley, of the Seminary, with Mr. Fergurson's daughter, Mrs. Bolton, at the piano. The solo singing of Mr. Ackley and others has been an attactive feature of the services.

FUTURE SERVICES.

Tomorrow, Saturday, night there will be held, in Odd Fellows' Hall, a "Jubilee Service," whatever that is. It goes without saying that with such men conducting it, it will be something out of the ordinary, and all the men who can be present will be repaid.

On Sunday morning and night, the services will be in Grace Lutheran Church.

On Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock there will be a children's meeting in the Odd Fellows' Hall

On Sunday afternoon, at o'clock, Mr. Johnson will address a mass meeting for men, at the Methodist Protestant Church.

Every night next week, services will be held in Odd Fellows' Hall.

Bachman's Valley Items.

Our county roads were nearly all closed by the snow and storm, last Wednesday and Thursday. Telephone wires were not in service, and many trees were broken down by the weight of the snow. Rural mail carriers were unable to deliver mail the two above named days. Some roads were opened on Friday and on Saturday mail was delivered. A few roads were not touched yet on Tuesday and many fields were put in bad condition, even including grain fields, by persons traveling over them.

Services at Jerusalem church on Sunday at 2 P. M., by Rev. H. H. Flick. Is it not soon time to begin our Sunday school, and reorganize at once, so it may not be summer before the school opens? Thus a good and large membership can be secured.

Moving time will begin very soon and many persons are on the list. Some will move far away, some move to this vicinity and others only exchange homes.

The entertainment which was to have been held at Wisner's schoolhouse last Saturday evening, March 6, was postponed until Saturday evening, March 13, owing to the condition of weather. A large stage has been built, and the play and acts will be of the best. The Union Mills Orchestra will furnish music. The doors will open at 7 p. m. and the curtain will be drawn promptly at 8 P. M. Tickets for admission. The same performers will give an entertainment at the Carroll County Reed Band's Hall, Saturday evening, March 20, with a different program.

Sales are numerous and good prices are secured for goods. The dates of several sales have been changed because of weather conditions.

In Hard Luck.

The Western Maryland Railroad has been working in hard luck during the past week. The great damage done by the storm cannot be fully appreciated even by one who travels along the line and sees the fallen telegraph poles and tangle of wires lying on the ground. Added to this destruction several freight wrecks have occurred. At 5.30 on Monday morning as a heavy train of loaded coal cars approached Fulton Station, Baltimore, the airbrakes refused to work. Engineer J. C. German and conductor E. H. Shewbridge stuck to the train as long as there was any hope of gaining control, and failing in this, jumped for their lives. The operator at Walbrook called the Fulton signal station man and warned him of the coming of the runaway train. The mesage reached night signalman Disney and switchman Davis just in time. They escaped as the train entered the derailing switch, and it is said ran ahead of the train at the risk of life, into the tunnel, to warn any westbound passenger train that might be approaching. Just as the engine reached the signal tower, it left the track and was followed by every car. The tower was smashed and the cars tossed like playthings on the tracks of the Western Maryland and Pennsylvania Railroad, while the locomotive turned turtle. Until Tuesday evening all trains on the Western Maryland were run to and from Baltimore on the Green Spring Valley Road.

On Tuesday morning, between Arlington and Mt. Hope, another train of loaded coal cars left the track and were piled up on the side of the embankment, and on Thursday evening a similar accident occured on the Chambersburg Division.

Rapid Work by C. & P.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in this district, Mr. A. Claude Algire, local manager, is to be congratulated on the rapidity with which it got its service in working order after the storm. At six o'clock Friday morning Superintendent Haworth went to work with a force of 24 line men, and by Tuesday night had the whole system in working order. One of the linemen cut off a foot-long piece of wire, loaded with ice, from the line between this city and Uniontown and weighed it. Its weight was seven pounds. When it is remembered that the distance between the poles is 150 feet and that each pole carries 20 wires, it will be seen that each pole bore a weight of nearly ten tons and it is not to be wondered that many wires and poles went down under the strain. The money loss of the C. & P. Co., in this district is about $100,000.

Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ely, of Finksburg, celebrated on March 3 their 50th marriage anniversary. Early in the evening the guests began to arrive and enjoyed themselves in social conversation until the musicians arrived. Some very fine selections were rendered. They were then invited to the dining-room where a sumptuous supper was served. The same table cloth was in use that was used for their marriage supper and they still have the carpet on which they stood when they were married.

Mr. and Mrs. Ely have no children. Mrs. Sarah Caple and Mrs. Mary Woods, her bridesmaids, were present. Hezekiah Caple, her brother, and Patrick Henry Irwin, now deceased, were the best men. They were the recipients of many handsome presents; also about fifty dollars in gold. Their nephew, Githa Miller, delivered the address of welcome. The inclemency of the weather prevented many from coming. At an early hour in the evening all departed for their homes having expressed their many thanks and wishing them many more happy years.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ely, Mrs. Annie Lisle, Mr. and Mrs. Sauble, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wilderson, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wilderson, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Staub, of Finksburg; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Blizzard and Mrs. Bollinger, of Patapsco; Mr. and Mrs. William Reese and daughter, of Bird Hill; Mrs. Alfred Ward, of Reese; Mrs. Sarah Caple and Miss Fannie Caple, of Sandyville; Carroll Hering and wife, of Wesley; William Shaffer, of Carrollton; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Miller, Bradley Miller and wife, Miss Violet, Githa and Glenn Miller, of Westminster; Miss Mary Brown, of Massachusetts; Mrs. Robert Shipley, of Westminster, and John Caple, of Kansas City; Mrs. Krabb, of Baltimore, and numerous others.

The following address of welcome was written by Githa Miller:

It gives me most ardent pleasure that the prerogative is bestowed upon me of speaking on behalf of the relatives and friends who have come to celebrate the 50th anniversary of two people, who have by their noble lives been endeared to all. My vocabulary fails to express the high respect and love I have for my Aunt Emily and Uncle Hugh. It gives me true pleasure to be with you in the celebrating of a marriage of fifty years of two people who are so venerable. Their married life has been exemplary.

They have always been honored because they possessed the high ideals of American life, being noted for urbanity, congenialty and veracity. When we recapitulate the deeds of their lives we say, none could do better, you have proven that you are entitled to the highest compliment, that is, "true nobility." Although inconspicuous in this life, their future is that of everlasting happiness. When in sorrow she is not discouraged, because her friend is always near. She has read her greatest of all treasures, the holy Bible, daily for 48 years. When in doubt she prays to our Saviour, Jesus Christ, for guidance. This is what I term a noble, God fearing woman. Honor to such true hearted American women.

If I were to pray for a great pleasure, which under every circumstances should be a source of happiness to me through life, however things might go amiss, it would be a desire to live the lives that you have lived. It is true this life is full of sorrow and temptations, but nothing is worth acquiring unless it be by hard work.

The life of a Christian is grand and noble; your reward is extramundane.

Let us all make a resolution to live better and more pure lives, and tell our sorrows to our friend Jesus Christ, who gave his life on Calvary's cross that we might have eternal life. What we are now, we will be when the next world begins. Its not the doctrine of eschatology. What is the escutcheon of a Christian life? It signifies love and obedience to him who knows our every thought.

My exegesis of their lives is expository when I say they have done the best they knew. She has read the Scripture through a number of times. She always has a word of cheer to those she meets. I have spent many years in the studying of the lives of great men and women and I have found none who were more noble.

In conclusion I wish to felicitate you both on the manner you have conducted yourselves during your married life, and the Christian lives you both lived. Your reward in heaven is not fortuitive; it is sure. You have our blessings and prayers that you both may live many years, and when you are bid to go to the beutiful home on high which Jesus has built for you, you will say, "It is well; I will go to Jesus." This is your reward. Nothing can buy a home there, but a Christian life. So you see after all you are on an equality with kings, but more fortunate. So to you he will say, "Enter faithful servant, where sorrow nor death cannot."

I wish you many years of success and happiness.

Union Mills Items.

The first of this week Mrs. Jacob W. Frock, accompanied by Dr. G. L. Wetzel, went to Baltimore where she had a tumor removed from one of her eyelids. The operation was successfully performed at the Maryland Homeopathic Hospital and Mrs. Frock returned home a day or two afterwards. Dr. Wetzel also took with him Ralph Stonesifer, a young son of William Stonesifer, whom he left as a patient at St. Luke's Hospital, where the lad was operated upon for tumor of the stomach.

On Tuesday, 9th inst., Rev. Wm. P. Shriver, a prominent young minister of the Presbyterian Church, and at present the pastor of Northminster Presbyterian Church, New York City, was married to Miss Margaret Campbell Thompson, one of his parishioners. Mr. Shriver was formerly of Baltimore, and is related to the Shrivers of Union Mills where he has been a frequent visitor.

For several days after the recent snow storm the R. F. D. men were able to cover only parts of their routes, and even now they are compelled to plod through the mud and snow drifts on the country roads at a great expenditure of horse flesh.

During Lent services will be held regularly every Wednesday afternoon, at half past two o'clock, at St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, by the pastor, Rev. S. Charles Hoover.

The trouble caused on our telephone line by the late storm has not been entirely removed and we are unable as yet to get the Taneytown exchange.

Mr. Charles Bittle, a sufferer from spinal trouble, residing near Frock's school house, on the 22nd of this month will have been confined to his bed for three years. He bears his affliction patiently and cheerfully, and has a good word and a bright smile for all who come to see him. He spends much of his time reading and is well posted on the scriptures and the current events of the day. His R. F. D. Carrier, Mr. Charles Starner, presents him regularly with a copy of the daily American.

Personal Paragraphs.

The Baltimore Sun on Sunday last published a column of personal paragraphs of prominent Marylanders.

Among them were the following:

COMPTROLLER JOSHUA W. HERING is probably the best beloved State official. He is said not to have a personal enemy in the State and his personal friends are numbered by the hundreds.

STATE SENATOR JOHNZIE BEASMAN, of Carroll county, who has recently blossomed out as a reformer, is addicted to gaudy neckties. Red and purple are his favorite colors, but he occasionally wears a yellow and green mixed that is a wonder.

Now that March has come again, a spring like spirit seems much in evidence, and all are preparing for their spring work. The bluebirds are singing, the tree buds are swelling and our grain fields are promising well for the coming harvest. We are having plenty of rain and the ground is well soaked. We hope the earth is being well stored with water so that our springs and wells may supply us with sufficient water for the summer.

On February 20th, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Zepp's hospitable home was made a very pleasant place during the evening, by many of their young friends, who came as a surprise to while away the evening with vocal and instrumental music, and social discourse. Mr. Eddie Little performed at the piano and Mr. Truman accompanied with the violin. Renditions of many fine selections were made and they were greatly enjoyed by all present.

The Ladies' Mite Society of Bethesda Chapel had its last monthly meeting on February 17th at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus A. Shipley.
