Badly Demoralized.

The Democratic press of this country appears to be awakening to a realization of the fact that its party is becoming badly demoralized in relation to certain prominent public questions, and notably that of a protective tariff. The national convention of the Democratic party pledged the organization of the party to revision of the tariff along certain well defined lines and specifically pronounced in favor of free trade in lumber, hides &c., yet, in the vote upon these items of the pending tariff bill, 38 Democratic members of the House of Representatives were recorded in favor of a duty on lumber, and 29 for a duty on hides.

It will be recalled that in the struggle for the modification of the Rules of the House of Representatives, at the beginning of the present extra session, 23 Democrats voted to continue the autocratic power of the Speaker and thus prevented the success of the efforts of a considerable body of Republicans to adopt such amendments of these rules as are plainly desirable. This shows that, allowing for duplicates, nearly one-half the Democratic members of the House of Representatives have voted against the pledges of their party's national platform.

These facts indicate that there is no homogeneity among the professed disciples of Thomas Jefferson and that with them party platforms have no significance. Principle has no place in controlling the action of the heterogeneous elements of the Democratic party.

It may be retorted that the Republicans are not free from divisions on the questions which have caused such diverse action among the Democrats; but, while this is true, Republican differences have been wholly upon the effect of certain schedules. There are no absolutely Republican free traders in Congress; that is, there are none who hold to the principle of a tariff for revenue only. All are in favor of the principle of protection and only differ in respect to the degree to which it shall be carried. Many Republicans believe that certain articles, such as lumber, hides and the like, do not need the fostering influence of a protective tariff. This view is in marked contrast with that of the Democrats who have voted to impose duties on these articles. The Republicans oppose protection where they deem it unnecessary: the Democrats support it, though professing hostility to it as a principle.

As we have said, the Democratic press seems to be awaking to a sense of the shortcomings of its party representatives in this respect. An article from the Indianapolis News, copied without comment in the editorial columns of the Advocate, of this city, last week, furnishes pretty strong evidence in support of that assertion.

New Windsor College.

An effort is being made to place New Windsor College, which, against many difficulties, has been kept alive for years as a private institution, on a substantial semi-public basis. The college grounds and buildings constitute a splendid property, eligibly and beautifully located on an eminence adjoining the town of New Windsor and affording a view of the country for miles around it. With proper endowment it ought to be made a valuable and successful seat of learning.

The project for its purchase and reorganization contemplates the raising of a fund of $50,000, of which the sum of $16,000 is to be devoted to purchasing the owners' interest, the remaining $34,000 to be employed in making improvements and for running expenses.

Rev. Dr. James Frazier, its present proprietor, has given an option for its purchase at the price stated and, to insure a proper and satisfactory reorganization of the institution on modern lines the matter is to be entrusted to a committee composed of John B. Hanna, Belair; Rev. William A. Price, Rev. Robert P. Kerr, D. D., Baltimore; Rev. John P. Campbell, D. D.; Dr. Bernard C. Steiner, L. H. Dielman, John F. Sippel, Rev. Charles C. Cady, G. W. Coggins and Charles Ecker, of Baltimore; Rev. W. J. Rowan, Newark, N. J.; Rev. W. T. Stuchell, Rahway, N. J.; J. Stewart Annan, Emmitsburg; George H. Birnie, Taneytown; Charles R. Foutz, M. D., Westminster; Rev. George P. Wilson, D. D.; E. L. Pettit and Rev. John Lee Allison, Washington; Rev. Alexander Allison, Jr., Wilmington, Del.; George A. Blake, Elkton; Rev. A. M. Engle, Whitehall; Nathan H. Baile, A. C. Smelser, Howard D. Ensor, George O. Brilhart, New Windsor.

All subscriptions are payable to the reorganizattion committee, and are conditioned on the success of the entire plan and no money will be collected until the full amount has been subscribed. The appeal for funds will be made to former students and graduates, to the friends of the institution, and others interested in Christian education.

The committee to raise the fund consists of Charles E. Ecker, Baltimore, chairman; George O. Brilhart, New Windsor, vice chairman; H. D. Ensor, New Windsor, secretary and treasurer; N. H. Baile, New Windsor, business department; Miss Nora Ecker, New Windsor, information department; Miss Agnes Dielman, New Windsor, press department; Miss Elsie Stevenson, New Windsor, headquarters secretary; A. C. Smelser, New Windsor, subscription department: Miss Laura Graddick, Washington; Dr. Charles R. Foutz, Westminster.

The Baltimore Sun, of the 17th inst., quotes Mr. Charles E. Ecker, chairman of this committee, as saying that "the college has been laboring under disadvantages for years owing to a lack of funds and a strong representative organization to back up the work. While it has been under Presbyterian influence it has not been supported financially or administratively, as a number of us think it should have been. It is our plan to relieve both of these disadvantageous conditions.

"The fund, if raised, will enable the trustees to make all necessary improvements and buy out the private interests, which amount to about $16,000. This will enable it to become a public institution, self-perpetuating and a worthy object for gifts and bequests."

Flying Ants.

Last Sunday's papers told a strange story of how a waiting crowd at Lackawanna Station, N. J., was put to flight by a swarm of flying ants. The report says that the swarm was so thick that it resembled a cloud of smoke and the rumor spread that the old station was on fire. The ants came from a hole being excavated near the flag shanty. Mr. Paul Reese called the attention of the SENTINEL'S representative to a similar phenomenon here, on Monday afternoon. The lintels of the door of Dr. Geo. D. Fouke's office, the steps and nearby pavement were covered by hundreds of thousands of the insects. Query—Were they from the Jersey swarm or did they come from some local excavation. Mr. Reese, who looked up the subject says that it is the female ant that has wings.

In Honor of Rev. Peregrine Wroth.

A delightful musical and literary entertainment was given by Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Reinhart, of 1705 W. Fayette street, Baltimore, in honor of Rev. DIED.

In loving remembrance of James A. Aldridge, who died April 21st, 1909, aged 27 years.

Oh how hard we tried to save him;
But our cares were all in vain;
Angels came and took him from us,
He is with the Saviour free from pain.

He is gone, but was so young and fair;
He slumbers sweet but knows no care;
His heart was true, his life was young,
Yet not our will, but God's be done.

By his devoted Mother.

Westminster's Best Store.

The Dependable Store

Our policy of advertising goods EXACTLY AS THEY ARE, is meeting its merited reward. The community is fast realizing that our bargains are in the store when they come for them, and do not exist on the printed page alone.

As a matter of fact, we aim to give you at all times, better values than you expect.

We always give you the Highest Grade Merchandise at Popular Prices.

Measure a Store By Its MERCHANDISE and VALUES

MERCHANDISE and VALUES Are The YARDSTICKS By Which Careful, Longheaded and Truly Thrifty and Economically Inclined People Measure a Store.

Not the magnificent structure (if it be so). Not exaggerated or bombastic advertising (if it be used) none of these things count with sensible people who are interested solely in making their money go farthest—nothing but right and dependable merchandise—right in STYLE and QUALITY—priced to give you the greatest possible value obtainable for every dime and dollar spent—together with GOOD SERVICE.

These alone, are really worth while—the only things that ACTUALLY COUNT in YOUR favor in the end. And on this basis OURS is the most SATISFACTORY store—the ECONOMY store for ALL The People.

We at all times offer reliable and desirable merchandise—in good assortment—always as low and most often lower than the same goods can be had elsewhere. WE GUARANTEE this.

And no transaction is considered complete until YOU are FULLY SATISFIED.

In our aim to give each customer, however small the purchase, the fuliest measure of satisfaction, we often go to what some merchants deem needless extremes.

Among other things we do, we guarantee the price of everything we sell to be the lowest a duplicate can be bought for anywhere—and we will refund any money paid us if our prices are not the lowest.

Another thing, if anything we sell, however low its price, fails to give what the purchaser thinks is satisfactory service, we are honestly anxious to be notified—and we don't stop until we have made the owner of the article feel satisfied.

There are also a score of other points that combine to make our store-policy a real friend-maker for us as a firm, and to make our house the most agreeable at which to deal. That is why we are ALWAYS busy.

DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

We do not deal in INFERIOR goods of any kind. Our Facilities enable us to offer you RELIABLE merchandise as low as the COMMON is offered. We contend, therefore, that we are able to give you the MOST and the BEST for your money. This week every department will prove this statement. A visit to the store will pay you.
