The Wages of Sin.

The two atrocious murders, accounts of which have filled the columns of the daily press during the past week, were most shocking, but not to be wondered at. In both cases, the victims were women, and both seem to have reaped the results of their sowing. If the case of Elsie Sigel, murdered by the New York Chinaman, who was one of her lovers, shall operate to break up the system of missionary work in vogue in our large cities, whereby young girls are permitted by their parents and by fanatical religionists, with more zeal than common sense, to go into the slums and come into personal contact with Chinamen, her death will be worth the sacrifice. She will have become the savior of others. "The heathen chinee within our gates should be taught—should be Chrisitanized." Yes, but this is work for men and not for young girls.

In the case of Mrs. Woodhill, brutally murdered in Talbot county, her imprudent intimacy with the man, who killed her, is clearly evidenced by her letter to him, and manifestly led to her death.

After the above was written, our attention was called to an editorial in the Baltimore Sun, this morning, which so well puts the thought to which we would give expression, that it is reproduced that every home into which the SENTINEL goes may have opportunity to read the words of wisdom:

In these two crimes, it must appear to all thoughtful men and women, there is food for serious reflection. Upon parents epecially they should make a profound impression, emphasizing the vital importance of home influence—of training children from the earliest period in the way in which they should go. Girls should be taught how absolutely essential it is for their own happiness and protection that they exercise the utmost circumspection in their choice of companions. Of the perils to which they are exposed when they depart in the slightest degree from high standards in the selection of their friends of both sexes they should be frankly advised. It is no exaggeration to say that American girls are allowed a greater degree of liberty now than their grandmothers were permitted to exercise in their recreations, in making acquaintances and in receiving attentions from men. There was never a time when girls needed more the counsels of parents, their wise and tender and vigilant care and guidance, than now. There was never a time when for their own good there was greater necesity than now for girls to surround themselves with the safeguards of discriminating exclusiveness, to make no friendships until they are satisfied that these associates are compatible with the purest and highest standards of womanhood.

The world bristles with perils even for men and women who have had the advantage of elevating home influences in their youth and who have been taught from childhood the wisdom of practicing unfailing and exacting discrimination in the character of their recreations and in the selection of their companions. But those who have been reared in such an environment, who have not only been shielded from danger by their parents but have been taught at the same time how to protect themselves from the snares and pitfalls and lures which encompass youth, even under the best conditions, will have an equipment which will serve them to good purpose in the hour of peril.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Mrs. John Estey Osborne.

Mrs. John Estey Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Pool, died at her parents home, near Gist, at an early hour this morning, aged about 21 years. She has been an invalid for some time, and was brought to her parents' home by her husband from their home in Baltimore, with the hope of improvng her health by residence in the country. She is survived by her husband and two young children. Her funeral will be at Bethesda Church, tomorrow, Saturday, at 2 o'clock. Mr. Frank C. Sharrer will be the funeral director.

Pleasant Valley Items.

On account of the inclement weather, the children's day service was postponed until this Sunday evening, June 27th. Sunday School at 9 A. M. Divine service at 10 by Rev. John O. Yoder. Rev. Jas. B. Stonesifer will celebrate his summer communion Sunday morning, July 4th, at 10 A. M.; preparatory service on Saturday afternoon previous.

Master Earl and Alvin Lansinger are spending some time with their grandmother, Mrs. William Staub and Mr. Henry Lampert.

Paul and Clarence Myers, of Hagerstown, sons of J. Thomas Myers, have come to spend the summer with their uncle, J. Elmer Myers.

On Sunday last Mr. and Mrs. John N. Ditch entertained at dinner the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Frock, Mr. and Mrs. David Frock, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smeak, and sons Lloyd and Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jerome and daughter Ada, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keefer and daughters Margaret and Viola, Mrs. Robert Wantz, son Leander and daughter, Pauline Nusbaum, and Mr. Harry Thompson.

The Libel Charge.

Mr. W. H. Bright, editor of the Hampstead Enterprise, against whom a warrant was issued several weeks ago, by Justice Edw. Shriver, of this city, upon the information of States Attorney J. Milton Reifsnider, waived an examination and gave bail in the sum of $300. The Enterprise says editorially of the incident:

"For two weeks, Mr. Wm. C. Shearer, deputy sheriff of Carroll county has been carrying a warrant for the arrest of W. H. Bright, editor and manager of the Enterprise, at Hampstead, the Telephone Messenger at Manchester, and the Baltimore County Record, on a charge of criminal libel made by John Milton Reifsnider, state's attorney for Carroll county. The charge is based upon an article published in said papers under date of May 28, 1909. The article charges no one with any crime, malfeasance, misdemeanor or dereliction of duty. It does ask whether it is good policy for guardians or custodians of public institutions to wine (figuratively) and dine officials who are sent to inspect such institutions. It also asked whether it is a good policy or custom for a state's attorney to act as attorney for men the nature of whose business is liable at any time to make it necessary for the state's attorney to prosecute them.

"We were absent on business in Virginia, having left here four days after this paper was issued. When we learned that the warrant was out, we published an editorial in this paper stating that we would be back as soon as possible and if the gentleman with the warrant did not care to come to Hampstead, we would go to Westminster and let him serve it there. Accordingly we returned from Virginia direct to Westminster and called up both the sheriff and the deputy by phone telling them that we were there waiting for that warrant. Sheriff Townshend finally served the warrant, we waived preliminary trial asked for a jury trial, gave the required bond and a jury will decide whether a citizen dares even ask a question that may be construed into criticsm of a custom followed by a servant of the people.

Manchester Items.

About 40 members of Lebanon Lodge No. 175, A. F. & A. M., attended divine service at Trinity Reformed Church. Dr. T. S. Land based his sermon on the words recorded in 1st Cor. 3, 10 15, from which he drew forth much practical thought upon the building of character, not only for the organization but for the audience in general. Lebanon held their last meeting for the summer on Friday the 18th inst.

On Monday evening, Grand Patriarch Nathan Billstein, Grand Scribe William A. Jones, Grand High Priest Nicholas H. Coe, and Grand Representative Charles Banthem, of the Grand encampment of Md., paid a fraternal visit to Carroll Encampment No. 17, I. O. O. F. After the business of the evening, the members and visitors enjoyed ice cream, strawberries, cake and coffee. Cigars were passed and a good social time enjoyed until the midnight hour.

Young Kessler who was killed near Seven Valley, along the N. C. R. R., last week, was well known here, where a year ago he was an employee of the Gettier Cigar factory for a long time.

Our farmers are improving their time this fine weather in hay making, cutting barley and plowing corn.

About four years ago the Manchester Heating and Lighting Company installed a plant, equipped the streets and put up some thirty street lamps and lighted the town for a year, when the company and the town authorities could no longer agree as to the price and other minor details, so that coal lamps were substituted for the gas light, but were quite unsatisfactory. Some time ago Mr. Horace Garrett, superintendent of the gas company, worked out a proposition that he submitted to the company and received their approval and was instructed to present it to the town authorities. About two weeks ago he met them and laid before them his proposition which was adopted and a five year contract entered into. Early on Monday morning Mr. G. had donned his working clothes and with sleeves above the elbow tackled a heavy crowbar and aided the workmen in excavations for meters at either end of the town and in the center. Mr. Ross Shower is doing the plumbing so that when the lunar planet is late in coming up in the eastern sky lamplighter Haines will show up Manchester by gas light.

The early tolling of the bell on the Lutheran church on Tuesday morning announced to this community that Mr. Augustus O. Brummel, of Washington, D. C., had passed away and that his remains would be brought here and laid to rest in a family lot. Later the members of Lebanon Lodge No. 175, A. F. A. M., were notified by the Grand Master to take the body in charge and bury it. Later still was a message that there would be no funeral, that the body would be cremated. Some years ago Mr. B. erected a fine monument on a burial lot here in honor of his mother. Several years ago he brought the remains of his wife here and laid them to rest in the lot, at which time he had his grave dug and planked ready for his burial, which the sexton had got in readiness when the dispatch came cancelling the funeral arrangements. He was twice married and was a frequent visitor to this his native section.

The directors of the Manchester Bank are arranging to improve their building on corner of York and Main streets by building an addition to the banking room next to the hotel and enlarging the store room now occupied by T. W. Mather Sons. In order to make the improvements Mr. Austin H. Geiselman, who occupied part of the building as a residence, was obliged to vacate and bought the Hanson home, on South Main street, which he is arranging to occupy early next month.

The members of the Construction Company held a meeting at Arcadia, Baltimore county, last week where they met the charter members of that county to decide upon the procuring the right of way for the electric railroad now in contemplation.

Mr. Simon G. Shultz came home on Saturday from the hospital at Washington, D. C., where he had been for seven weeks suffering from a broken leg. It was a compound fracture and one bone badly splintered. When the plaster cast was taken off it was found that one piece of bone had not knit; another cast was placed on the limb and he allowed to come home for two weeks when he will return to have it examined. He was an employee of the Bell telephone company at the time of the accident.

Rev. H. H. Flick has equipped himself with a buggy auto.

Dr. Will R. S. Denner who had been at the West Penn Hospital, Pittsburg, for the last year was home with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Denner, on Sunday and Monday. He is taking the state board medical examination this week in Baltimore and will return to Pittsburg to receive his diploma on the 1st prox., and expects to accept a position in a Catholic hospital that offers fine inducements to a bright and promising young man like Dr. D.

Mrs. Irene Sullivan and son accompanied her mother, Mrs. Peter Helfric, home from her trip to Va.

Miss Fannie G. Ross is visiting her friend Mrs. Klinefelter, of Chestertown, Md., for a week.

Mrs. C. Miller spent several days with friends in Baltimore and took in the Brantly excursion to Tolchester last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Baltozer, of York, spent Sunday here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hoffacker, of Westminster, spent Sunday with Mr. H's. parents.

Mr. Geo. A. Crouse is spending the week with his brother, Mr. E. H. Crouse, of Reading, Pa. Mr. H. A. Myers and daughter Lizzie, of Baltimore, were guests of Miss M. Fuhrman on York street.

Uniontown Items.

Children's services were held in the two churches on Sunday, in the M. P. in the morning when an offering for Missions was gathered amounting to $35.00; in the evening the Lutheran S. S. rendered an interesting program. Their offering of $35.00 was for the Orphans' Home at Loysville.

On Tuesday Mr. Harry and Miss Lucille Weaver attended the wedding of his son Carroll to Miss Edna Sawkins, both of Baltimore. The ceremony was performed at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

The remains of Mr. Henry Baker, of Medford, were interred in the M. P. cemetery on Monday. Rev. J. G. Hill had charge of services.

The spirit of improvement keeps up; Mr. Obadiah Fleagle is putting a long porch in front of the double house recently purchased by him; Mr. Milton Zollickoffer is puttng an addition to the side of his house and adding a new tin roof; Mr. J. W. Rodkey has renewed his front porch and is painting the house; the M. P. parsonage has been much improved by the painter's brush.

Miss Ethel Kelley is visiting friends in Waynesboro.

Miss Nellie Englar has been confined to bed for a week with rheumatism.

Mr. Wm. Segafoose, who has been ill in his room for six weeks, has gotten down stairs.

Mr. J. H. Singer, has been sick but is able to move around some.

Dr. J. J. Weaver, who is taking treatment at the Hebrew hospital in Baltimore reports encouragingly of his condition. His many friends hope for a complete restoration of health.

Mrs. Milton Shriner is visiting her sister at Hanover, Pa.

Friends who have been in town the past week, were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davis, of Waynesboro, at her grandfather, Ephraim Kelly's; Mrs. F. T. Darby, of Williamsport, at Dr. J. J. Weaver's; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hawn, of Pleasant Valley, at Mr. Wm. Baust's; Mrs. Eiza Zollickoffer, of Taneytown with relatives and friends; Mrs. Dr. T. C. Routson and son, Mr. Howard Gray, wife and son at Mr. T. H. Routson's; Miss Margaret Harman, at Mr. Ezra Fleagle's, visiting her aunt, Miss Julia Harman.

To Close July 5.

The Fourth of July falls this year on Sunday. The following day, Monday, July 5, will be observed as a holiday and the dry-goods stores of ths city will be closed throughout the day.

Assisted in Rescue.

Mr. J. Albert Mitten, of this city, had the good fortune to aid in the rescue of a young lady, who fell from a motor boat, at Curtis Bay, last Saturday. The following is the Baltimore Sun's account of the rescue:—

Suffering greatly from shock, Miss Ray H. McConnor, a pretty nurse on the staff of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, is confined at the home of her father, Capt. P. S. McConnor, the harbormaster, 22 East Preston street, as the result of falling from a motorboat Saturday afternoon in Curtis Bay, just off the Ariel Boat Club's house. She was in the motorboat of Mr. Bobbitts, 17 North Carey street, who plunged into the creek and saved the young woman from drowning.

"Miss McConnor and Mr. Bobbitts had cruised around the water in the latter's motorboat on several occasions.

Saturday they had watched the motorboat races, and at their conclusion started for the Ariel Boat Club, of which Mr. Bobbitts is a member.

"Upon reaching a buoy, about 100 yards from shore, Mr. Bobbitts decided to tie up his boat and haled another member, who was with two friends in a rowboat. As the boat edged beside the motorboat Miss McConnor attempted to step on in order that she and Mr. Bobbitts could be taken ashore.

"Mr. Bobbitts had turned to light a lamp to leave on the motorboat until the party returned, as it had been planned that after a short stay at the clubhouse a trip would be made to River View Park. It was while Mr. Bobbitts was thus engaged at the bow of the craft that Miss McConnor attempted to jump into the rowboat, and in doing so lost her balance and fell into the water.

"Her screams and the splash attracted the attention of Mr. Bobbtits, who without hesitation jumped into the water and managed to grasp hold of the girl just as she came to the surface the first time. With the assistance of Mr. J. Albert Mitten, another member of the club, who was in the rowboat, the young woman was lifted into the rowboat. The party hurriedly rowed to the clubhouse, Miss McConnor remaining conscious all the while.

" 'Did I scream?' she asked, meekly.

" 'No, replied Mr. Bobbitts.

"The young woman was shown to the women's lockers, where she was enabled to don dry garments. It was not until then that she collapsed.

"In the meantime Mr. Bobbitts summoned the girl's sister, Miss Frances McConnor, who hurried to the clubhouse with Dr. Annie W. Marchant, 1411 Mount Royal avenue. The two women remained with Miss McConnor for more than an hour before she was able to go home with them.

Saturday night she was in a serious condition and for a time it was thought that she had contracted pneumonia. Yesterday she was reported as doing as well as could be expected.

"Mr. Bobbitts said he did nothing more than any other man would have done under the circumstances.

"Had I not saved Miss McConnor," he added, "one of the other men in the rowboat would have done so. I do not believe Miss McConnor will be confined to her home but a few days, as she seemed to be all right when I talked to her over the telephone this afternoon."

DIED.

In loving remembrance of Nellie M. Fowler, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Fowler, who died June 18th, 1908, aged 17 years, 7 months 29 and days.

Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast,
We have kissed your loving brow,
And in our aching hearts we know
We have no Nellie now.

Oft we'll wander to the graveyard,
Flowers to strew with tender care
On the grave of our dear Nellie,
Who is sweetly resting there.
"Gone, but not forgotten."

By her Parents.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of Pearlie E. Grimes, wife of Francis J. Grimes, who died one year ago, June 30th, 1908.

I miss thee from our home, dear wife,
I miss thee from thy place;
A shadow o'er my life is cast,
I miss the sunshine of thy face.

I miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee—
I will miss thee everywhere.

By her Husband.

Her well remembered footsteps
We are listening for in vain,
And our eyes grow dim with watching
And our hearts are sad with pain.

No words will ever be so sweet
As the words she used to say,
No hour will ever be so sad
As the hour she passed away.

By her Children.
