Rev [illegible]

so.— You know the serious illness of my husband always depresses me more or less. Mr Buckley is suffering badly but happily his mind is clear. The Rheumatism is hard to bear at all times & under any circumstances: but when it occurs as in his case in a System exhausted by nearly four days previous illness I is very hard to see it. He was now thirty two days that he has been confined to his bed. Thursday morning.

As I lay put now thinking of you it occurred to me to suggest the necessity of making Mr Garrison leave Annual. If you do not you may find it very desirable to have him leave the unable to get rid of him. Be very careful and hinder it without leave

Have you said any thing to brother Galloway?

Yours truly
Caspar Morris
