Lord's day Ev. 7 P.M.

I shall send you your Thursday's letter Ever first opportunity after tea Saturday.

My Dear Wife

I cannot omit writing for you know and feel certain more sent in two envelopes than in one Just returned from the Episcopal Hospital I came to my Chamber for ablution and take my seat at the table to write to you while waiting till I shall be summoned to my solitary tea table. It is a sweet summer Eve. not warm and Ever here calm & tranquil.
I fancy you riding round the Park on your return from Chapel & wishing I were with you. and I trust you are well and happy and all about you also. I went to the Hospital for Charles to visit his patients, and finding there would be dinner there remained to unite in it.
There was quite a full congregation from the neighbourhood as well as the patients who were able to be in the hall. But oh how sadly we need more accommo
