Fire broke out on Sunday in a tract of wood land at Cranberry Station, on the Western Maryland Railroad, and for a time threatened a serious forest conflagration. It threatened the destruction of the little village about the station but did not extend outside the forest, and not much damage was done to the standing timber.

A Letter From Cando, North Dakota.

Cando, N. Dakota.
April 3, 1910.

Dear Editor.

We left Baltimore, Tuesday noon, and arrived in Cando, N. Dakota, on Thursday evening, March 31st. We had a grand trip and enjoyed ourselves very much.

Some of the countries were rocky and some were level. We got along fine but were getting awful tired. We had gone 1900 miles when, about within six miles of Cando, we got into a wreck. It was a bad one, but as God would have it, no one was hurt. Something about the tender broke and it tore up the track for about three hundred feet and threw the rear car off of the track. We had an awful shake up and scare. The auto's came from Cando and took all the passengers to town.

North Dakota is quite a different place from what we thought it was. The country around Cando is fine; we can see a distance of 12 or 14 miles. We have a good boarding house and expect to remain all summer and see all of the sights.

Very truly yours,
ANNIE E. STONER.

WEDDING BELLS.

Lowe—Trimmer.

At the home of the officiating clergyman, Meadow Branch, near Westminster, Md. a quiet but very pretty wedding took place at 5:30, on the evening of April 10th, 1910. The contracting parties were Miss Treca May Trimmer and Mr. Raymond A. Lowe, both of Hanover, Pa. The ceremony was impressively performed by Elder W. E. Roop of the Church of the Brethren, this city. The bride wore a handsome suit of white trimmed in blue and the groom conventional black. The happy couple began life's journey with the best wishes of a host of friends. They will reside in Hanover.

For the Sentinel.

Niner—Shipley.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Shipley, one mile south of Morgan Run, on the Washington road, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, on Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Mary Pleasant Shipley became the bride of Mr. Ernest R. Niner, of Smallwood. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Niner.

The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. Frank Welch. Miss Elsie Easton was bridesmaid and Mr. Willie Niner, brother of the groom, best man. The ceremony was performed by the groom's pastor, Rev. W. L. Seabrook, in the presence of a large number of the kinfolk of the young people.

A reception and wedding supper followed the ceremony, and those who sat at the beautifully decorated and bountifully spread board and partook of the delightful collation were the parents of the bride and groom, the bridal party, the officiating minister, and the following wedding guests: Messrs. and Mesdames John A. Baker, George W. Wolfe, Frank Welch, Columbus A. Shipley, Elias G. Shipley, Roy Poole, George A. Shipley, Lloyd B. Shipley, Henry Knauff, Grove O. Easton, William Davis and Harry Shipley; Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Mrs. Milton Bellison; Misses Rene Snyder, Hilda Niner, Thelma Welch, Eva Baker, Mabel Stubbins, Esther Knauff, Belle Easton and Ina Shipley; Messrs. Robert Shipley, Amon Shipley, Elbert Shipley, John Easton, Paul Easton, Atlee Connelly, Donald Shipley, Arthur Shipley, Lesley Shipley and Olin Knauff.

While the company was seated at the supper table, strange sounds were heard coming from the farmyard, the rattling of the teeth of a horserake and the hum of voices. A few minutes before ten o'clock the mystery was explained. It was the gathering of the clans from the hills and vales of Morgan Run to testify to the esteem in which the young couple are held among their friends and neighbors. After circumambulating the house a number of times to the melodious strains of cow horns, cow bells and other "un"musical implements, "Capt. Sam" with hat in hand, came to the door and asked to see the bride and groom. When "Joe" Niner and one of the ladies of the company presented themselves the waiting crowd informed them that that would not do. The best man and bridesmaid stepped to the front, and while the boys were glad to see them nothing would satisfy them except the appearance of the bride and groom, who then came out and stood on the porch, as one after another the young men of the neighborhood came forward and grasped their hands with sincere words of congratulation. Three rousing cheers were then given for the bride and groom, and again the impromptu band marched round the house, to be again greeted by Mr. "Joe", with the words "I guess you will be glad to see me now. Line up boys." And they were glad to see him and with "Capt. Sam" in front and in rear did line up all right. The moon was far down in the West when the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Niner "long life and happiness." Mr. and Mrs. Niner will set up their first home on the Nelson farm near the fork of the Washington and Deer Park roads.

Maryland Rural High School Championship.

The Executive Committee, to conduct the big Interscholastic Track Meet to be held at the Jacob Tome Institute, Port Deposit, Md., on Saturday May 14th, has just selected a bronze mounted plaque to be awarded to the school which wins the Maryland Rural High School Championship.

The plaque is to be made by Dieges & Clust of New York City, whose reputation as makers of metals and prizes for athletic contests extends all over the country. A special design has been adopted, and the school which wins this championship will have a trophy to be proud of.

This special series of events for the boys in our county schools was introduced three years ago, and has grown in favor each year. Last year it was one of the most attractive features of the monster meet. The first year there were only three events, the 75 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash and half mile run. Last year Tome added the broad jump and this year adds the 440 yd. run to give a chance to boys not strong enough to race the half mile. In all athletic contests the half mile run is always the most popular race.

War Game at Gettysburg.

It was officially announced at the War Department on Monday that the joint maneuvers of the regular Army troops and the organized militia of Maryland, the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Deleware and New Jersey would be held at Gettysburg this summer. The encampment will begin about the middle of July and continue until September 1.

Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East, recommended Gettysburg for the maneuvers, which will be conducted on an extensive scale. It is probable that the First, Fourth and Fifth Regiments of the Maryland National Guard will be represented. Whether they will all go into camp at one time as separate organizations is yet to be determined by the War Department.
