My dear Dr. Morris:—

Thomas Clarke, a Communicant at the Seamen's Mission, now under my charge, and whom you have known and kindly patronized for some years, has desired me to write you. Chiefly through your interest in his behalf, he was appointed gate keeper at the Episcopal Hospital. In a few days after he he had entered upon his duties he gave up that position. He did not appear to like the situation very well; but his chief reason was
