An innovation in church work in this State will be the Summer Conference which is to be held at Pen Mar, July 18 to 22 under the auspices of the Maryland Christian Endeavor Union. This Conference will be an entirely new feature in the religious work of Maryland and the many Christian Endeavor Societies in this county are interested in having representatives attend these sessions. The County Union is making a special effort to get out a large crowd for all the other Unions are working to the same end and the officers of this county want a good representation. For many years church workers have thought the beautiful mountains of the Western part of the State would be a delightful place for a Summer meeting but this is the first time it has been attempted.

Western Maryland College re-appears in our columns this week soliciting the patronage of our people. This College has established a reputation in the 43 years of its existence as a safe, thorough and earnest school. Its young people are doing it credit and its work has been felt all over the state. From its recent catalogue it appears to have 232 students and 21 teachers. It has graduated 752. The courses of study cover the usual subjects in the best Colleges and we have no reason to think they are not well covered. We are interested especially in the course in Pedagogy which is offered to graduates, by which they are prepared to teach in the public schools and are given a certificate to teach by the State Board of Education without examination.

We have heard nothing but good reports of this institution and we commend it to our readers.

They were in the endurance contest of the Atlanta Journal and New York Herald and started from Atlanta, Georgia, on Monday June 6th, and arrived in New York on Monday June 13th. The car was No. 42 and at the outset, because of tire trouble, most of the other ones got a lead on it; but when the bunch reached Philadelphia No. 42 was right with it. The route was over the national highway and there were no mishaps worth mentioning.

Most of the contestants shipped their cars home but Mr. Smith and his friends decided to make the return home in the car. They left New York City on Monday, June 20th and made the run to Lancaster, Pa., by sundown. Spent the night in the latter city and on Tuesday morning left for this city by way of York, Hanover and Littlestown, Pa., and Union Mills. Arrived here at 12 M. and dined at the Main-Court Inn. Church 150 Years Old.

St. Benjamin's Lutheran Church, of the Salem charge, near this city, celebrated the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of its organization on Sunday last with interesting services. A sermon appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Rev. H. C. Holloway, D. D., of Harrisburg, Pa., who was pastor of the congregation from 1863 till 1868, and is its oldest living former pastor. In the evening addresses were delivered by Revs. John U. Asper, of Lemasters, Pa., and Samuel A. Deihl, both former pastors of the church. Rev. R. W. Doty the present pastor, assisted in the services. Rev. Calvin S. Slagle D. D., pastor of St. Paul's Reformed Church of this city, in a few well chosen words, extended the greetings of his and St. Benjamin's Reformed Church. In the afternoon Revs. Halloway and Asper spoke to a large congregation at Leister's Church.

The present pastor, Rev. R. W. Doty, has just closed his 8th year as pastor of the charge. During his pastorate 284 members have been added to the charge, 260 children baptised, 123 couples married and 163 persons buried. During this time Mr. Doty has driven about 30,000 miles in order to keep his engagements.

This congregation and that of Benjamin's Reformed Church were organized about the same time, and the two were joint owners and worshiped in edifices jointly erected until about 15 years ago, when they abandoned the last of these edifices, erected more than 100 years ago, and each purchased land adjoining its site and erected its own church. They still jointly own the original site, on which the sexton's house, in which they once worshipped, still stands. The site of these churches is on a commanding eminence overlooking a wide and beautiful landscape. The church cemetery, to which independent additions have been made is one of the most beautiful in this county. The site of the union church and cemetery and a road from the Westminster and Gettysburg turnpike thereto were the gift of a man named Grider, a name which became corrupted to Krider, and for many years, and still occasionally, both congregations are called Krider's.

Members of the Schaeffer and Reese families and perhaps of others, whose forefathers were among the founders of the Lutheran congregation, are yet identified with it, some of them as prominent officers, and were present during the exercises today.

About 7:30 last Wednesday morning the alarm was given for a fire which was right in the center of the business section of Sykesville, and if it had not been for the quickness of some of the citizens the town at this time might have been in ashes. The fire was caused by an oil stove used by a family living over Norton and Swain's drug store. It was all a blaze and before it was put out it had destroyed the box upon which it was sitting, and some other articles near it. No damage was done to the property.
