Pen-Mar, the pretty summer resort, is not only inhabited at present by hundreds of persons who have gathered there from the large cities to while away a few weeks in recreation, but it was visited last week with millions of locusts, whose stay will be indefinite.

They brought along their singing societies, bands and string orchestras, and the music at times, when all start in at once, is almot deafening.

There are more locusts than has been seen in the resort for many years, and great damage is being done to shrubbery and chestnut trees.

The locusts are attacking all kinds of trees and stripping them of their leaves, with the exception of the block gum.

George Cross, colored, of this city, becoming very sleepy on the afternoon of the 4th, took passage to the "Land of Nodding" on a small store box. He was about fairly started on his journey when some of his colored friends espied him. Thinking perhaps his train needed a little assistance, the loud snoring indicating a very heavy up-grade, they placed a large cannon fire cracker under the box and when it exploded George thought he was traveling in an airship. The explosion of the cracker, however, injured his leg and a physician was called to dress the wound. Practical jokes are very often injurious and should seldom, if ever, be indulged in.

Rural Letter Carriers' Celebration.

The Rural Letter Carriers Association of Carroll County met in the grove of Joseph P. Yingling, near Pleasant Valley, on July 4th. The morning was taken up with the business of the association and by the carriers from the various parts of the county meeting and greeting one another.

At high noon the ladies made the agreeable announcement that dinner was ready and by all indications the men were ready for dinner. In the afternoon an interesting and instructive program was rendered consisting of the following:

Since the sad accident to one of our boys several weeks ago some questions have arisen in the minds of some of our people which prove to be good subjects for thought, namely:

1. Shall we know each other in Heaven?
2. Do those who have gone before know or care for the loved ones yet on earth?
3. Can persons unwillingly shorten their lives here on earth?

The World's Sixth Sunday School Convention.

(concluded)

Dr. Meyer, the distinguished president of the association, opened the convention on Thursday afternoon by making a strong plea for the evangelization of the child. In his tour around the world in the interest of organized Sunday School work he observed the influence of the Sunday Schools upon nations.

"It was Christ who discovered the child," he said. "Too long have we concentrated ourselves exclusively on the degarded and outcasts. The church will be better compensated if she throws more energy into the great mission for which the Sunday School convention stands."

"Purity of society, the hope of christendom and the hope of the heathen nations lay in the children, when they have been brought under the power of Christ."

"The World's Sunday School Convention" the speaker said, "means the inspiration of hope for the world through the child."

The report of the Executive Committee was listened to with great interest. Part of this report was given in last week's letter. "We must have more men to carry on the work," continued the speaker. "Men of brain and heart and knowledge; men who are welcomed in social and religious circles every where; men who understand the genius of organizing Sunday School work; men who have vision enough to encompass the world; men who live near the throne, and withal a willingness to consecrate their lives to the purpose of bringing knowledge of Jesus Christ to every boy and girl in the world."

On Thursday evening President Taft spoke in behalf of the nation. He pointed out the need of secular education, the actual peril of such education without religious training, and the absolute necessity of the Sunday School for the doing of what would be otherwise undone. He also introduced Mrs. Taft as "the real presiuent of the United States."

John Wanemaker who represents the Christian business men of America said in part, "Oh men and brethren, beloved fellow workers, as Mary, that God crowned mother, gathered to her breast the endangered babe Jesus, and hastened with him from the degree of death, may we all seek the responsibility that has been laid upon us."

Up to this time the children had the "right of way," "educate the child in the Sunday School and save the world" was the cry.

But on Friday afternoon 10,000 men clammered to show their part in the work. In eight different churches they organized "to do" Washington in a monster street parade, while Congress and 40,000 men and women all along the line waited to see them act their part. While the Maryland section of the parade was forming at Luther Memorial church a drenching rain was falling. A gray bearded man of 70 arose and said "We will march anyhow, wont we? I'll march if I get wet to the skin"; and we did march. With 91 banners and mottoes representing many parts of the world the men marched through a drenching rain with bands playing, all kinds of banners floating that demonstrated that the men are in the Sunday School, and that their aim is the conquest of the world for Christ. One banner in the parade, "Boys will follow the men," I will make special mention off. 75 per cent. of the boys in Carroll County leave the Sunday School between the age of 13 to 18. They follow the men. Parents take notice. After the parade a speaker addressed the 7,000 paraders in convention hall and said in part, "If we want to evangelize the world during this generation we must do it by bringing men into the Bible classes of the Sunday School." Marion Lawrence says "The Men's Adult Movement is building a wall of men between the boy and the door."

Reports made by speakers from Earth's End in Convention Hall and in the many overflow meetings were marvelous in many ways.

"If we can sit silently after such appeals," said Mr. Lawrence, "it might be better to adjourn the World's Sunday School Convention now.

"The World's Sunday School Association is just now getting ready for greater achievements," said Mr. Lawrence. "Never has any officer or worker connected with the association received a dollar in salary.

"But now it seems ripe that the association should be put on a financial basis which would enable it to command the whole time of a corps of workers, and thus move forward into greater conquest than ever. The World's Sunday School Association is just now getting ready for greater achievements," said Mr. Lawrence."

The close. We looked over the printed program but saw nothing of a "Congress of Nations," the best of all reserved for the last.

The lights went out and nearly a block away in the remote part of the great Convention hall came the tremble voices of more than 60 little children, "Onward Christian Soldiers," nearer and nearer the voices came, and then passed through the two isles that led to the platform; up they climbed and faced 5,000 men and women, still singing the conquest hymn. The audience forgot themselves and sang with the children. These children were in the costumes of the world, representing more than 50 nations, and carrying the flags of as many nations.

A pause. The music changed. "I love to tell the story" was again sung by the children and the audience.

Again a pause, and Mr. Cork announced the following: "Sunday Schools have been found in 126 counties out of 192." The lights again went out, but back of the platform a living fire arose above the cross. "At the Cross, at the Cross, where I first saw the light, and the burden of my heart rolled away," was sung, and the convention closed with the benediction.

Very truly,

G. W. YEISER.

Good Program for the Reformed Reunion.

The 21st. annual reunion of the Reformed Churches of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Southern Pennsylvania will be held on Thursday, July 14, at Pen-Mar.

The programs for the reunion are out and distributed. They contain the notes and the words of the hymns to be used, the responsive reading and other information.

The orator of the reunion is the Rev. E. F. Wiest, D. D., of York, a brilliant young man who was the efficient pastor of the First Reformed Church, Philadelphia, for several years.

The famous "Braddock Heights Band" will lead the music this year, and the "All-College Hour," will again give one of their amusing entertainments.

Providentially, or otherwise, the weather for about ten years, has been ideal on the Reformed reunion days. This is the first reunion of the year in the improved park, hence it will be fresh and clean, and in a perfect sanitary condition.

To the thousands of the good Reformed people and their friends, this will be another happy outing, and the joy of other years will be repeated. Numerous tables will be in the park for those who take lunch baskets.

For other information apply to the Rev. J. B. Shontz, secretary, Chambersburg, Pa.

A sheaf ripe for the great ingathering of the Master. Mrs. W. enjoyed the comforts of the above home for a number of years. Several years ago she fell and broke her limb that kept her closely to her room and as the years rolled by she became anxious to depart and be at rest, and when on the above date she was taken with hemorrhages she told her children that the end had come and thanked her Master that He was about to call her home. And thus happy in the thought she passed away. In early womanhood she became a member of the Reformed Church and was always interested in its best interests regular in her attendance at service, until the infirmities of age grew so strong that even her cane could not be the necessary help to the service. In a most exciting and interesting game of baseball the Magnolia Athletic Club of Baltimore, which has played 2 games of ball at Sykesville every 4th of July for 4 years, lost a double header to Sykesville Athletic Club, at Athletic Park, on July 4th. The morning game, which lasted 15 innings, when the winning run was scored, was full of ginger as both sides worked hard to win. The Magnolia Club changed pitchers in the 9th inning but Arnold, twirler for Sykesville, was effective throughout the game and seemed to gain more speed and control as the game progressed. The afternoon game looked like a victory for Magnolia as it scored 1 run in the 1st and 2nd inning. Frank Shipley steadied and did not allow another man to cross the plate. At one time in the game Magnolia had the bases filled and no hands out but Shipley sent the pill across the plate so fast that batters failed to get a connection and each one was retired with his stick in his hand.

STRAIN TOO GREAT

Hundreds of Westminster Readers Find Daily Toil a Burden.

The hustle and worry of business men,
The hard work and stooping of workmen,
The woman's household cares,
Are too great a strain on the kidneys.
Backache, headache, sideache,
Kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

A Westminster citizen tells you how to cure them all.

A. L. Williams, Liberty St., Westminster, Md., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills an efficient remedy for kidney disorders. At the time I began their use, I was greatly troubled by a weakness in my back, became tired easily and was so languid that my work was a burden. I also suffered from attacks of dizziness and I felt miserable in every way. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them and procured a box at C. W. Moore's Drug Store. I had taken them only a short time before there was a great improvement and I continued their use until all the difficulties were corrected. It gives me much pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
