My dear Sir,

Your most kind letters have just reached me, & I sit down to answer them at once. They seem almost like a vision of the days beyond the flood! You are quite correct that in thinking that it was I who in the year 1847 engraved the priority, in the house of the Venerable Carey in Calcutta, of offering you a cup of cold water in the name of a disciple; as you wd. gladly have done to any other under similar circumstances; but your gratitude bears a warm proportion to the warmth of your true Christian heart to that
