AN APPEAL.

May we in the interest of little children ask your sympathy and cooperation in securiinigiiiiiiiiiiiicmfwr operation in securing a good free private home for an orphan?

The Supervisors of City Charities have under their care at all times a few attractive and interesting bright children that they are ready to place on trial in respectable private homes, with a view to their remaining permanently, if the little one is congenial.

During the past few years the Supervisors of City Charities have been instrumental in brightening many a lonely home by the cheery voice and sweet companionship of a little child and they believe the homes of some of your esteemed readers offer safe nooks into which one or more such little ones could fit. Will you not kindly give the matter publicity and thus help the good cause?

Appreciating your kindness and thanking you in advance for anything that you may do for them, believe me,

Very truly yours,
Nathaniel G. Grasty.

He was at one time a member of the New Jersey bench. He lost an arm in front of Washington at the time General Early advanced on the capital and when President Lincoln was under fire. S. Navy. The Waymans owned a large tract of land in Howard county near Poplar Springs and married into the family of Gen. John Thomas Hood, who has many descendants in Howard county. Through Commodore Allen the late Mrs. Cauthorn was closely related to the French family of Pacaults (late Pacas), who formerly owned the fine Hugg estate, near Sykesville, Md. MANCHESTER ITEMS

Rev. T. S. Land, D.D., held his midwinter communion on Sunday morning last that was reasonably well attended. The Dr. preached an impressive sermon, after which he administered the communion to 125 persons.

At the annual election of the Manchester Lighting & Heating Company the following directors were elected for the current year: George A. Crouse, Horace D. Garrett, E. G. Sellers, Jacob B. Lynerd, Ernest W. Gregory, H. Benton Burgoon and Horatio Garrett. At the organization of the new board on the 26 ult. Ernest W. Gregory was elected President; Horace Garrett, Vice President; Jacob B. Lynerd, Sect'y.; H. Benton Burgoon, Treas., and George A. Crouse, collector. Besides furnishing many of the citizens with light they also have the lighting of the town, which is well done, considering the number of lamps on the streets. They are still somewhat handicapped on account of the water in their well failing and have to have the same hauled. They expect to soon put the drillers to work to deepen it to a depth of a good supply of water.

The friends of Mr. George Folk, who was in the railroad wreck at Highfield, a week or more ago, are now hopeful of his recovery. He was operated on last week and a blood clot taken from the brain, since which he has become fully conscious. When the train got the better of the engineer, who called for brakes, Folk ran across a car to draw the brakes and when the cars jumped the track and ran down an embankment the car he was on fell the other way, throwing him against the rocks, where he was picked up unconscious and remained such for several days. He and family were residents here for several years but now of Hanover.

Mr. Conrad Hersh has sold his farm of 26 acres, 1 mile northeast of town, to Clarence Zepp for the sum of $1400. Mr. Z. takes possession in April. Mr. Hersh and family will move to the farm of J. A. Frederick, near the Falls.

Mr. Harry Kuhn, now proprietor of the Buchman Hotel, has purchased the Washington House on North Main street, now in the occupancy of Eli Mummert, for the sum of $2400, and expects to occupy it in April.

The Snyder Bros., who are drilling a well at the cigar factory of Mr. Chas. M. Masenhimer, are making slow progress compared to their drilling of other wells here. They have struck a blue rock that underlies a part of the town paralleling Foundry avenue and York street, and dug wells in its district have been very expensive with any amount of blasting. A dug well near the factory has tested the ambition of 4 or 5 well diggers who threw up the sponge, and yet no water.

The sewing circle was at the home of Mrs. Cornelius Miller, on Thursday evening, and enjoyed a general good time as well as the hospitality of Mrs. M. The appointments were first class and the refreshments fine.

Mr. Samuel Miller was brought to his home on Friday evening, accompanied by his son-in-law, Mr. Herman Marshal of Baltimore. He stood the trip very well and enjoys good health generally.

A company of ladies and gentlemen are in training to present the drama, "A Finger of Scorn" in the I. O. O. F. Hall, on Saturday evening, 18th., inst. for the benefit of the Trinity Reformed Aid Society.

February promises to be full of social events in the hall. Pocahontas Tribe of Red Men will hold a festival, chicken and waffle supper on the evenings of the 10th and 11th., the play on the 18th, the firemen will entertain the ladies of the auxiliary at supper on the 22nd., and the members of the Emanuel Lutheran Aid Society will hold an oyster supper on the evening of the 25th., besides the regular monthly meetings of these societies.

Our cigar factories are on full time, even to night work, and then are in arrears filling their orders and calling for more hands.

Two of our old standard wells failed last week. Mr. J. H. Blocher had his drilled well cleaned from a cavein of quicksand and at its depth of 81 feet was found dry. All these indications makes the water question serious for the old wells that have stood the test of a century or more.

SMALLWOOD ITEMS

The company that gave the entertainment at Smallwood on January 7, gave one at Gamber, January 26. The attendance was all that could be desired. About two hundred and fifty. The company wishes to extend its thanks to all those who were present, for the excellent order that prevailed, and it holds the people of Gamber in the highest esteem for the courteous manner in which they received them, and extends thanks to the entertaining merchants, Shipley & Bonner, for the use of their fine organ. The receipts were $35.85 and expenses, $7.50. The proceeds will be used to purchase an organ for the public school at Smallwood, and to improve the Smallwood Hall. It has been demonstrated, since the erection of the hall at Smallwood, that a large hall is a great advantage to any community, as it brings the people together on a great many occasions, giving them the opportunity of knowing each other. The company has had invitations to go to other places. If it decides to go, the advertisement will appear later on.

Mr. Joe Niner has made quite a name for himself. He was on hand Saturday with a four horse bus to convey the company to Gamber. Mr. Niner is always in for anything that is a help to the community. He was assisted by Mr. Elmer Logue. The company has no name, as yet and it has been suggested that they call themselves the Little Joe Dramatical and Vaudeville Company in honor of Mr. Joe Niner. So whenever an entertainment, under the head of Little Joe, is advertised be sure to come, for they will try to keep up to the standard.

A new boiler will soon be placed in the Smallwood Creamery. During the past year, the average of 27c per lb. for the butter fat was paid and the skimmed milk returned to the patrons. Owing to the drought of 1910 the supply of milk was short, but the prospects for 1911 are very encouraging.

Miss Evelyn Earhart and Mr. Oscar Dell were bridesmaid and groomsman, respectively. A wedding march was played upon the organ by Mr. Norman H. Earhart as the contracting parties and attendants entered the parlor. Choice refreshments were plenteously served, and during the evening there was an abundance of good music, both vocal and instrumental, to entertain the company, which was produced entirely by the guests among whom were a number of our most accomplished local musicians. The bride and groom are both members of the choir of St. Mary's Reformed church, and are well known and very popular in their respective localities. WANTS U. S. TO REPAY LOAN.

Virginia May Get $120,000; Maryland, $72,000.

Washington, Jan. 31.—When the Deficiency bill comes before the Senate for consideration Senator Martin, of Virginia, will try to have it amended so as to contain an item directing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the Mount Vernon Association, as assignee of the State of Virginia, $120,000, and also to pay Maryland $72,000, in consideration of sums advanced by those States in 1790 to the Federal Government to be used in the erection of Federal buildings in Washington.

Mr. Martin today introduced an amendment of this character so as to have it ready for consideration when the Deficiency bill comes before the Senate. The Mount Vernon Avenue Association has been organized for the purpose of building a boulevard from Washington to Mount Vernon with this money if it is obtained from the Federal Government. Virginia is willing to have her share of the proposed repayment used for that work.

LUTHERVILLE SEMINARY DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Fire which caused a panic and for a time threatened the lives of 40 young women students, and which partly wrecked the main building of the Maryland College for Women at Lutherville, Baltimore county, broke out at that place shortly after midnight on Thursday.

The 40 young women, asleep in their rooms directly over the fire, had thrilling escapes from the flames, all of them making their exit from the building scantily clad in dressing gowns and kimonas. The damage will amount to about $5,000, fully covered by insurance.

The fire started at 12:05 o'clock in the chemistry room on the first floor of the main building. This building is of stone, and is used for class rooms and sleeping quarters. There is no domitory, the students being quartered in private rooms, in numbers ranging from one to several in a room. Leading from the chemistry room to the upper floors is a wastepaper chute, and up this wooden shaft the flames ate their way with remarkable rapidity. As soon as the crackling of the flames and the odor of smoke had awakened one of the students, the alarm was sounded and all the girls made a rush for the stairway leading to the first floor.

Rushed Out on Campus.

Despite the fact that the thermometer was near the zero mark the girls did not hesitate, but rushed headlong out of the building on to the campus. By this time the fire had completely swept the chemistry-room and had worked its way up to the sun parlor on the second floor. This room was almost completely wrecked. The fire continued on to the roof, and when it finally burst through the tin roof the flames shot high in the air, illuminating the surrounding country and spreading alarm among the residents of Lutherville, as at the time there was a very strong wind blowing.

In response to the alarm of fire, sent by telephone, the Towson Fire Department made a hurried run to the scene and there joined forces with the Lutherville Volunteer Fire Department, which by this time was hard at work. In regard to the water supply, the college was particularly fortunate, as not only is there a water tank on the roof, which supplied the plugs on the ground, but there is also a spring on the grounds from which the engines could draw sufficient quantities of water for their apparatus. Many of the residents hurried to the scene and while not members of the volunteer fire department, they gave that body of men their assistance.

Many of the students, before making their dash for safety, threw their clothes from the windows, and then when they had reached the outside of the building gathered them up. In this way they were able to save their wearing apparel, valuables and other trinklets, dear to the feminine hearts.

The college is undenominational and one of the most widely known institutions for young women in this part of the country. The college owns and maintains three buildings, all of which are harmonious in architecture, resembling a castle of the knighthood days.

THE LAST VISIT OF BERNHARDT.

Madame Bernhardt will return to Baltimore, Thursday evening, Feb. 16th, for an engagement at the Academy of Music. She will give three evening performances, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and one matinee on Saturday.

Her present tour differs vastly from that which kept her in the limelight five years ago, when in order to include many of the principal cities she was forced to play in tents, tabernacles, skating rinks, and many nondescript buildings, without the aid of any scenic surroundings. This season Madame has brought all her wonderful paraphernalia from her own Paris theatre, together with the supporting company that is considered the best she has ever had on any of her various tours. The theatre-going public will delight in the fact that everything will be realistic to a degree, and it will enjoy the various works as though they were seated in Paris at her famous Theatre Sara Bernhardt.

For the opening performance Mme. Bernhardt has chosen "L'Aiglon," Edmond Rostand's stirring drama, in which she impersonates L'Aiglon (The Eaglet,) son of Napolean the Great. The ever popular "Camille" will be played on Friday evening; on Saturday afternoon one of the features of her engagement will be her appearance for the first time here in "Le Proces de Jeanne d'Arc," a new play by Emile Moreau. We do not see Joan dreaming of great things or urging the French to battle. We are confronted with Jean the prisoner, whose courage and faith are wonderfully appealing; and Saturday night she will play Madame X.

Mail orders are being filled in order of receipt, when accompanied by check or money order, payable to the Academy of Music. The tickets are immediately sent out, the mail orders taking precedence over the regular box office sale, which opens Monday, Feb. 13th. The prices are $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00. The curtain for the Berndardt. engagement will rise at 8 in the evenings and 2 at the matinee.

A DROUTH OF WIDE EXTENT IN KANSAS.

"It's lucky for the Kansas people that they have scands of money in the banks, for otherwise they would be in a desperately uncertain condition." said Mr. John M. Tobias, a prominent landowner of Wichita, at the Stafford, Balto., on Monday last. "Our troubles are all due to the drouth. Old Jupiter Pluvius withheld his moisture all last season to the extent that the crops were almost a total failure in pretty much every section of the state. Hardly anything came out of the ground except alfalfa and Kaffir corn, which did much good in keeping the live stock from starvation.

"Worst of all, the drouth is still upon us, and people are begining to wonder if it will everrain again. Much of the grain planted last fall is still in the ground, and that which sprouted is dead. Far down into Texas the dryness extends, and in some of the Western counties of the Lone Star State the settlers are packing their household goods into wagons and moving out of a region that is almost as arid as the Desert of Sahara.

"Before the drouth there had been, a tremendous migration to Texas; thousands from Northern and Western States had bought land down there with the intention of becoming permanent citizens. They thought they were getting cheap farms at $10 to $15 an acre, and so they were but for the vagaries of the Texas climate. The land is beautiful and wonderfully rich, only it must have moisture to produce crops, and if on 10 acres there is not enough grass grown to feed a single cow, how can human beings be expected to thrive?"
