AMERICAN SENTINEL.

WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

JOS. D. BROOKS, Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1911.

President Taft has put all of the Progressive and Democratic members of Congress in a very awkward situation by the submission of the Canadian receprocity agreement at this session. They will be condemned if they do and be condemned if they don't. It was a little cruel, perhaps, but it had to be done to test their nerve and sincerity.

THE DEMOCRATS AND THE FARMERS.

The very moment the farmers begin to save a little money by obtaining living prices for their products every metropolitan newspaper, of Democratic persuation, sets up a howl about the high cost of living and whips itself into a fury about high tariff and the protective policy.

If some of the inhabitants of the large cities would spend less for theaters, car fare, picture shows, dress, balls, booze and many other unnecessary things, and live the simple life a farmer is compelled to live there would be less complaining about the high prices of farm produce. Many of them will wrangle in the morning about a one cent advance in the price of eggs and at night spend $1.50 to see an ordinary show. The assault on the protective policy of the Republican party by the Democratic press and party is one against the present prosperous conditions of the farmers and the latter should stand shoulder to shoulder against it. United farmers can accomplish much good for themselves and for those depending upon them. Stand together.

DEMOCRATIC MISREPRESENTATION.

The Democratic dailies are becoming very fond of Mr. Taft since he sent the Canadian reciprocity agreement to Congress, because they think they see an opportunity to get back at our farmers by a removal of the duty from wheat and cattle coming into this country from Canada. It is only during the past few years that our farmers have been able to save something to lay aside for a rainy day and now the Democratic party, as usual, is devising some way to rob them of their earnings. They are telling our farmers that if the duty is removed from wheat and cattle the duty will also be removed from farming implements and that their loss on wheat and cattle will be made up by the decreased cost of farm machinery. That sounds very pretty, don't it? But the bait will not be swallowed by the farmers. A bird in the hand is worth a whole flock in a tree, especially when one has no gun. It is another one of the Democratic party's misrepresentation, because it knows very well that not one single piece of farm machinery is manufactured abroad, and that the removal of the duty on "farm machinery" would be nothing but a burlesque.

The National Grange soon saw through the flimsy argument now being made by every free trade Democratic paper and Congressman and is advising its members to urge upon the members of Congress from the rural districts to work and vote against the ratification of the Canadian agreement, as it is a direct blow at the present prosperity of our farmers.

THAT CANADIAN AGREEMENT.

We are waiting to see what some of the so-called "progressives" or "insurgents" are going to do about the Canadian Reciprocity Agreement, recently submitted to Congress by the President. The agreement was framed for the purpose of allowing Canadian wheat and cattle to enter this country free of duty, and thereby compete with the products of our farmers, in order, it is alleged, to reduce the cost of living to the people of the cities of the country. Manufactured goods are not mentioned. The farmers, and especially the Grangers, are up in arms—and rightfully so—about it because they now see a reduction in the price of farm products but no reduction in the price of manufactured goods from Canada.

We have been informed that the President submitted the "agreement" in order to test the sincerity of the Progressive and Democratic members who have been so loud in their demands for a downward revision of the tariff. The agreement furnishes a great deal of food for reflection. If the members of Congress, who have used the cry of tariff reform as a vehicle to carry them into office, vote against the agreement they will be condemned by the dwellers of the cities, and if they vote in favor of ratifying it they will be condemned by the farmers. The President has them in a hole, and they know it.

THE DUTY OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The right to vote on any question touching the peace, health, prosperity, good order, happiness, etc., of the people of any political division of a state or county cannot, under our form of government, be denied. The Democratic party of Maryland, by its defeat of the local option law, contradicted all of its past declarations of political tenets, and arrayed itself with the so-called whiskey ring. The party has been in power so long in Maryland that it is laboring under the impression that it is now invulnerable. The Republican party, by its internal strifes over the control of Federal patronage, has indirectly helped the Democratic party to hold control of the State, but now that nearly every Federal office has been placed under civil service, the bone of contention has been removed and the party can now devote itself to bringing about some needed reforms in this State, among which we might mention the restoration of home rule, the passage of a uniform, fair and less cumbersome and intricate ballot law for the whole State, the establishments of rural agricultural schools, the reorganization of the system of State road building and the public school system, the repeal of the direct and expensive primary election laws, at least so far as the counties are concerned, and last, but not the least, the abollishment of the whole lot of commissions which have cost a pile of money and accomplished nothing. The Republican party is strong and able enough to unaugurate a definite policy of State government and should now begin to act. The Democratic party has been untrue to its trust and the people of the State are looking to the Republican party for relief. Heretofore the latter party has been too prone to nominate some one for office because he was available and very little attention was paid to policy, but the time has now arrived for it to make a definite and unqualified declaration of governmental policy on State affairs and then nominate a candidate pledged to carry them out. If this is done the party will enter the fall campaign with some enthusiasm and with its members standing shoulder to shoulder. Parties are held together by principles; not by men.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CEMETERY COMPANY

The lot-owners of the Westminster Cemetery Co., met at the First National Bank, this city, Tuesday evening last, Mr. Geo. A. Miller presiding.

Dr. J. W. Hering submitted his annual report as president of the Company, as follows.

Office of the Westminster Cemetery Co.
Westminster, Md., February 7th., 1911
To the Lotowners of the Westminster Cemetery Company:—

We have again come to the end of the business year of the company, and according to our custom, submit a report of its condition.

The cemetery has been well kept during the past year and the Superintendent deserves the commendation of the Board of Managers and the Lotowners. There were 22 interments during the year, which is the smallest number interred since 1904. Of the twenty-two, 9 were from Westminster, 5 from the county outside of the city, 5 from Baltimore city, 2 from Washington, D. C. and 1 from Trenton, N. J. The ages ranged from 2 months to 80 years.

The report of the treasurer will show that since the beginning of the year we have added to our invested fund $400 making the present invested fund $2000, and there is $365.47 of cash in the treasury. The company has no indebtedness of any kind.

I am pleased, as President of the company, to be able to make such a favorable report.

The Managers will, I am sure, continue to devote themselves to making The Westminster Cemetery a suitable spot in which to bury our dead.

Respectfully submitted,
J. W. HERING, President.

The secretary and treasurer submitted his annual report showing receipts of $1200.16 and disbursements $834.69, leaving a balance in bank of $365.47 and an invested fund of $2000. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year. Dr. J. W. Hering, President; and as a Board of Managers, Messrs. George R. Gehr, John Bernstein, Frank K. Herr, Chas. C. Gorsuch, Upton L. Reaver and John J. Reese. John J. Reese was elected secretary and treasurer, and Theodore S. Mitten, superintendent.

MELROSE ITEMS

On Monday it snowed and blew. In the evening one of our genial townsmen living on the hill came into Zepp's print shop and seemed to be uneasy. He went out and returned with nearly 50 friends and catching the printer by the ears while the latter was at the telephone reminded him of the fact that it was his 37th. birthday. Mr. Houck, the mischievous toll-gate keeper up the pike, kept the printer at the phone until the crowd came in. The teacher's wife, our nearest neighbor, and the man on the hill, aided by all the neighbors made the evening a success, and one never to be forgotten. There was music on the violin, mandolin, guitar and several other instruments including a graphaphone, the latter belonging to a man living near Lineboro and considered the best in this community. Of course refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and lemonade, were served. It was a treat to all present, especially to the printer, who has often heard of birthday parties but never experienced a real one until he was 37 years of age.

Mrs. Zepp planned the surprise and the friends and neighbors carried it out to perfection. Even the "peck of peanuts" was in evidence. Numerous presents were given and nothing was left undone to make the evening enjoyable.

The printer could only say to the crowd: "It looks as if I have many warm friends. I cannot thank you all, but I feel it." Among those present were: Messrs. Nathaniel Shaffer, Philip M. Wentz, Jacob Lease, C. J. Sauble, Elmer Shaffer, George Houck, Harry Croft, Edward Dherit, Elmer Royer, John Shaffer, Edwin Royer, William Crumrine, Daniel Bucher, George Rush, Elmer Leese, Earl Royer, Amos Sauble, Lester M. Shaffer, Edward Zepp, Valentine Menchey, Beniah Bankert, Jacob Berwager, Henry Zepp, J. Albert Zepp, George Zepp, Sr., Alexander S. Zepp, Walter Zepp, of this county and Albert Coons, of Rhode Island. Mesdames Henry Zepp, C. J. Sauble, Geo. Rusk, J. Albert Zepp and Misses Viva Wantz, Dula S. Zepp, Etta M. Wentz, Ruth E. Wentz and Nellie Zepp.

Mr. Samuel Sterner recently sold his pretty property on the hill to Edward Jones and purchased the Harry Therit farm on private terms.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. S. B. Fridinger and daughter, Vesta, spent a few days in Baltimore visiting their son, Ervin, and some friends.

Viola Synder, of Snydersburg, spent a few days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder, of this place.

Wonders will never cease. Recently there was a pet cat called "Ginger," living in this place but for some reason it did not like Melrose. One morning it followed some cigar makers to Manchester since which it has not been heard of. "Ginger" did not come back.

Verily a correspondent's path is not strewn with roses. When no Melrose items are published people ask by telephone or personally, "Why don't you write items?" In reply let me beg to ask: Why don't you send in items of news?

LINCOLN'S PROPOSAL

Abraham Lincoln's offer of marriage was a very curious one, and singularly, has but recently come to light. Numerous as his biographers have been, and closely as they have gleaned for new facts and materials, it was left for Mr. Jesse Welk, of Greencastle, to discover this unique and characteristic production of Mr. Lincoln's almost untutored mind. The letter is one of several, written presumably to the lady he afterward married. Addressed to "My dear Mary," it read as follows:

"You must know that I cannot see you or think of you with entire indifference; and yet it may be that you are mistaken in regard to what my feelings toward you are. If I knew that you were not, I should not trouble you with this letter. Perhaps any other man would know enough without further information, but I consider it my peculiar right to plead ignorance and your bounden duty to allow the plea. I want in all cases to do right, and most particularly so in all cases with women. I want at this particular time more than anything else to do right with you, and if I knew it would be doing right, as I rather suspect it would, to let you alone, I would do it. And for the purpose of making the matter as plain as possible, I now say you can drop the subject, dismiss your thoughts—if you ever had any—from me forever, and leave this letter unanswered without calling forth one accusing murmur from me. And I will even go further and say that if it will add anything to your comfort and peace of mind to do so, it is my sincere wish that you should. Do not understand by this that I wish to cut our acquaintance. I mean no such thing. What I do wish is that our further acquaintance should depend upon yourself. If such further acquaintance would contribute nothing to your happiness, I am sure it would not to mine. If you feel yourself in any degree bound to me, I am now willing to release you, provided you wish it; while, on the other hand, I am willing and even anxious to bind you faster, if I can be convinced that it will in any degree add to your happiness. This indeed, is the whole question with me. Nothing would make me more miserable than to believe you miserable; nothing more happy than to know you were so. In what I have now said I cannot be misunderstood; and to make myself understood is the only object of this letter. If it suits you best not to answer this, farewell. A long life and a merry one attend you. But if you conclude to write back, speak as plainly as I do. There can be neither harm nor danger in saying to me anything you think, just in the manner you think it.

"Your friend, Lincoln."

Probably this is the queerest love letter on record and the most remarkable offer of marriage ever made. It is a love letter without a word of love, and a proposal of marriage that does not propose.

GROUNDHOG FALLS INTO HANDS OF INSANE MAN

According to Dr. J. J. Clark, superintendent of Springfield State Hospital for the Insane, while Baltimoreans were looking through Druid Hill Park on Thursday of last week for the proverbial groundhog, one of his patients took the bull by the horns—or to be more exact, the groundhog by the middle—and captured him.

A hypochrondriac at the State institution has constructed a cave for himself in the Hospital grounds, and has fitted it up with furniture. The groundhog established himself next door to the patient, and when the weather prognosticator animal took his annual peep at the sky yesterday the patient grabbed it and took it into his own cave. Dr. Clark now wonders what kind of weather we are to have.

BOIES PENROSE AS SEEN BY THE ALIEN

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 3.—When J. Androwsky of Throop appeared before Federal Judge R. W. Archibald and applied for citizenship papers, he stood erect, with heels together and answered questions with the air of a man who was sure of his ground. He answered quickly that Taft was President of the United States, that Tener was Governor of Pennsylvania and five or six other questions before the Judge asked:

"Who makes the laws of Pennsylvania?"

"Penrose," replied Androwsky, quick as a flash.

"Swear him as a citizen," directed the Court.

OLD PASSENGER RATES ON W. M. AND B. & O. TO BE RESTORED

Courts Declared New Law Unconstitutional

Announcement was made Wednesday that beginning February 16 the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the Western Maryland Railway Company would put in effect a higher passenger rate for local business in the State of Pennsylvania. The action of the roads will be due to the decision of the Pennsylvania courts holding the two-cent passenger rate laws, passed in 1907, unconstitutional.

Between some of the points in Pennsylvania both roads can restore the rates which prevailed prior to 1907, or three cents per mile, while conditions are imposed on them where other points are concerned, which will not permit the roads to charge more than two and one-half cents a mile.

Between points where the Baltimore and Ohio does not compete with the Pennsylvania Railroad the former can charge three cents per mile for passenger traffic. Where such competition takes place only two and one-half cents can be charged.

The Western Maryland has the right to collect three cents a mile on its line that does not compete with the Baltimore and Ohio; otherwise, the Western Maryland is not allowed to collect but two and one-half cents per mile.

In 1907 the legislature of Pennsylvania passed a law reducing the passenger rate fare from three cents to two cents. The roads fought this law, and the Pennsylvania Railroad, according to one of the local railroad officials today, got out an injunction in an effort to prevent the law from being enforced. The courts later decided that the law was unconstitutional. This placed the rates back where they were prior to 1907.

Before the two-cent law was passed by the Pennsylvania legislature, the Pennsylvania Railroad voluntarily reduced its passenger rate in Pennsylvania to two and one-half cents a mile. It is stated that this rate will still prevail.

House Cleaning Sale.

Stock-taking which corresponds with house cleaning, has just ended. The rummaging incident thereto has brought to light desirable and seasonable merchandise in almost every department. These limited quantities and incomplete lines must be sold before the crowding in of the Spring Stocks, and prices have been unsparingly cut to the lowest level.

Every odd lot, every short length, every broken size in the house must go, and we have made such low prices on them that you cannot help but buy. But you must be quick as the lots are small. Special tables throughout the house are filled with these wonderful bargains.
