AMERICAN SENTINEL.

WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

JOS. D. BROOKS, Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1911.

The amendment to be voted for this year must be defeated. It is an insult to the intelligence of the people of the state.

The right to vote on local option cannot be disputed but the managers of the Democrated party do not intend to let the people of this county exercise their right if it can be prevented.

You were told that a threat to change the tariff would not unsettle the business of the country. If you will now look around just a little bit we think you will change your mind.

If the farmers of the country will just stick together they will very soon compel some of the "so-called" statesmen at Washington to change their minds.

Public sentiment is a mighty uncertain quantity. In 1892 it turn out a Republican administration because it wanted a change. In 1910 it turn a Republican House of Representatives into a Democratic one and before the newly elected members have a chance to be heard the President hands out the very thing public sentiment "thought" it wanted. Now it finds it made a mistake; but it is too late.

Judge Clabaugh, of Taneytown, this county, stated at the banquet of the alumni association of Loyolo College that he could lick his sons-in-law. He did not say whether he could lick them separately or as a pair, but if he can now fight as well as he played baseball thirty years ago we will bet even money he can lick them any old way, and odds that he can wipe up the earth with either one of them. He certainly was some ball player.

The Democratic Advocate in its last issue states it is now time to enact a tariff for the good of the whole country and not advocate measures by cabbage patches, wheat and corn fields. We would suggest to our neighbor that, perhaps, for its own good it will be well for it to go a little slow along that line. Owners of cabbage patches, wheat and corn fields have a way of distinguishing their friends from their enemies.

The speech of F. Hopkinson Smith at the Maryland Club banquet in New York on Saturday night was a delightful bit of retrospect and philosophy. We are mighty sorry the old fashioned home, with all of its delightful surroundings, has become a thing of the past and that the craze for gold and outward show has demoralized our present society. The old log fire place, the old arm-chair and the old fashioned refinement has given place to the radiator, uncomfortable chairs and rudeness. In the old days children were taught to respect their elders; but now it is "yep" and "nop" to everyone. "Yes Sir", "No Miss" and "No Mam" are now consider "old fashioned"—by some people.

When a delegation of farmers of this state called upon Senator Rayner in Washington on Tuesday and requested him to vote against the adoption of the Canadian Reciprocity Agreement on the ground that it discriminated against the farmers of Maryland and would work a great hardship on them, he flatly refused to comply with their request and told them that he was, as a Democrat, in favor of removing the duty from all necessaries of life; and that if it injured the farmer he could not help it. He said he had been studying the tariff for 25 years and that his views were fixed and could not be changed at this time.

When, however, Senator Smith was called upon he expressed some sympathy for the farmers of Maryland but told them he would be compelled to vote for the agreement because it was Democratic doctrine.

From all of which we are to understand that it does not make a partical of difference to the two Senators of Maryland whether the agreement injures the farmers or not, it is Democratic doctrine and should receive the support of the Democratic Senators.

Last fall the farmers of this county registered their protest, by a majority of over 500, against the very thing this agreement is seeking to do, but a lot of "progressive" and "insurgent" Republicans in the West lost their heads and helped the Democrats to beat down the advocates of the protective policy under which the farmers of this country have become a prosperous class.

The farmers of this county need not look to the Democratic Senators from Maryland, or from any other state, for protection because they represent "interests" that are opposed to the farmers receiving living prices for their products. It is the cities against the rural districts and the sooner the farmers wake up to the fact and prepare to defend their position the better it will be for them.

PIPE CREEK VALLEY.

A few persons heard it thunder last Sunday evening. This no doubt accounts for the appearance of a snake that John E. Bemiller killed the following day. No doubt the snake was a little ahead of its time.

Arthur Hullinger and sons, Stewart and Irwin, spent Sunday with his parents, Noah Hullinger and wife.

Joshua Zepp, of Wilmington, Del., formerly of this county, was visiting relatives and friends in our neighborhood and surrounding country. Mr. Zepp called to see Charles Bittle, last Saturday.

Those visiting at Charles Bittle's last Sunday were: Lewis E. Shriver and neice, Miss Bessie Shriver, John E. Bemiller and wife, Wilmore Haines and wife, Master Charles Haines, David Myerly and Thomas Keefer.

LOCUSTS DUE THIS YEAR.

Farmers are warned that the seventeen-year locusts are due to make their appearance this summer, and agricultural experts are now engaged in plans for reducing the ravages of the pest to a minimum. The locusts are expected to make their appearance along the Atlantic Cost from Virginia to New York, but are not likely to reach New England. They may also extend their depredations westward to the central and middle-west States.—Exchange.

MANCHESTER.

The play "A Finger of Scorn" was given on Saturday evening, 18th, in the I. O. O. F. hall with the following cast of characters: Rev. Philip Duncaster, William Brilhart; Norman Wely (detective), Charles Mitten; Richard Heritage, M. D., Dr. D. G. Everhart; John Goodan (fugitive), H. T. J. Lamotte; Sheriff Blake, Jacob E. Musselman; Peters (sexton,) Paul Leese; Irene Arnold, Eva Bixler; Bess, Bertha Gettier; Mrs. Pickins, Norma E. Wentz; Aunt Bina, Mollie Brilhart. They were greeted with a crowded house, even to the vestibule, which proved quite an inspiration to the performers, who acquitted themselves in a creditable manner. Mr. Brilhart acted well his part in the ministerial character, while Mr. Mitten, through love and pity, forgot his duties as a detective. Dr. Everhart held up the dignity of his profession like a veteran, while Musselman looked and played the sheriff for all that was in it. The old sexton was well represented in Leese. Mr. Lamotte, as the fugitive, in his make up added 40 years to his appearance, playing his part like a professional. Miss Bixler was as real in her part as a brave girl could be. Miss Gettier spoiled her amiable disposition through jealousy of Dr. Dick. Mrs. Pickins was the whole show. She was double tongued, loose at both ends sprinkling mischief in all directions. Aunt Bina was great in walk, talk and act. As a whole it was a hit for amateurs and put into the treasury of the Aid Society $35.00, net.

Trinity Reformed Aid Society held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Brilhart, on Monday evening. Though disagreeable yet they had 41 members present. After a scripture reading and the Lord's prayer in concert, the business period followed. The collection of dues amounted to $5.25. The time of the paper sale was fixed on March 8th., after the appointment of committees to attend to the same. The entertainment period was announced. A duet by Miss Ray Hoffacker and Margaret Loats; recitation by Miss Fannie Shower; song by Mrs. Albert Brilhart; duet by Mrs. Norma E. Wentz and Miss Minning followed by instrumental music. The meeting adjourned to meet at the home of Miss Carrie Baker on March 20th.

Mrs. Wm. L. F. Bergman entertained the members of the Sewing Circle at her home on Oak Tree avenue, on Thursday evening 17th. Fine refreshments were served.

Mrs. Walter D. Hanson, on the same date, had the members of the Lace Club at her home for the evening and entertained them at refreshments.

Miss Corinne Sherman gave a house party at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Sherman, on North Main street, from Saturday till Wednesday 22nd., having as her guests, Miss Mary McLaughlin, of Mason and Dixon, Pa.; Miss Annie Snyder, Lancaster, Pa.; Miss Elizabeth Masenhimer, of Manchester; Messrs. Charles L. Miller and John K. Baker, Hagerstown; Wm. Masenhimer, Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., and Charles H. Miller and William Culp, Baltimore. They all enjoyed the freedom of the home and were entertained royally during their stay.

Arrangements have been made to have "Old Farmer Hopkins" played in the I. O. O. F. Hall on the evenings of March 10 and 11, for the benefit of the Drum Corps.

Mr. Henry Rindskoph, of Reading, Pa., who at one time was a frequent visitor here, after 5 or 6 years absence spent several days here among friends while a guest at the Hotel de Stick.

Mrs. Ella Frey, of Baltimore, was a visitor at the home of W. D. Hanson, last week.

Miss Hess, of Harrisburg, Pa., is a guest at the home of Mr. Geo. E. Leese, on York St.

Mr. C. William Miller has been closely confined to his room for some days suffering from grip.

The condition of Mr. Edward Oursler still continues critical.

After experiencing a week of gloom a bright Sunday burst forth only to be shrouded at night in dark clouds that by morning had covered the ground with 4 inches of snow and sent the mercury down to play with the teens while the old N. W. wind made it quite uncomfortable.

Mr. William Loringer brought a building lot from Mr. William E. Sharer, on Foundry avenue, adjoinling the home of Mr. Wm. H. Shower. Mr. George Reed, of Greenmount, has the contract to build the home as soon as the weather permits. Mr. L. sold his farm East of town.

Mr. H. A. Myers spent several days here among friends, this week. He was in New York in his dormitory on the seventh floor at the time of the explosion. He says the building swayed to and fro leaving those with him to think it was an earthquake shock. The street was soon full of flying rumors and he did not know what had caused it until he awoke from his sleep.

Dr. John C. Stick, of Hampstead, and Miss Elizabeth Masenhimer, of this place, left on Tuesday evening for Baltimore and then to New York where they were married by the Rev. J. M. Stick, brother of the groom, and where they spent part of their honeymoon. They will reside in Hampstead.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Frankforter, of South Main street, gave a social at their home to a number of relatives and friends in honor of their son Paul, who passed the 16 mile stone on the 16th inst. All enjoyed a pleasant time and abundant refreshments.

The members of the Fire Department held their annual banquet in their I. O. O. F. Hall on Wednesday evening. The members with their ladies, about 140 in number, accupied seats in the lodge room about 8 P. M. and were called to order by Mr. Jno. B. Baker, President of the company. Dr. T. S. Land was introduced and welcomed the friends in behalf of the members to which Rev. Lau responded in behalf of the guests and members of the Firemen's auxilliary. Miss Bessie Hahn, Miss Myrtle Buchman and Miss Hess, of Harrisburg, entertained the company with instrumental music. The banquet hall was truly American. Old Glory suspended down from the ceiling threw out testooning to all the sides in uniform hanging, while the side walls were decorated with crossed flags and the windows curtained in red, white and blue bunting. A picture of Washington was in place above the stage while the tables had flag and hatchet decorations. Plates were laid for 70. The appointments were first class in every respect. The menu consisted of oysters, chicken, ham, salads and ice cream, served in four courses. Every person present had a general good time and it proved to be a red letter period for the fire laddies who now have a membership of 65. Mr. Samuel Houck, of Baltimore, was present as an honored guest.

CARROLLTON.

Mr. Joseph Leppo who has been seriously ill with pneumonia is slowly improving.

All the other sick in the community are improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Freberthauser of Tannery, spent last Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shaffer.

On last Tuesday Mr. Jos. D. Nooman, principal of the commercial department of the Westminster High School, presented Paul Shaffer of this place, with a fine fountain pen [illegible] the most improvement in penmanship during the first term.

Jacob H. Lynch is improving his property by having a well dug. He is assisted by Carroll and Cleveland Shamer.

Your correspondent was sorry to hear that little Eva Brehm, daughter of John Brehm, is at the hospital but was unable to learn the particulars.

John Dutrow, our enterprising blacksmith, is well pleased with the gasoline engine he enstalled in his blacksmith shop some time ago.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

The fair and bazar which is being held by the band is largely attended. On the 16th, the Mayberry band was present and on the 18th the Union Mills band was present, both rendering fine selections.

Mr. Joshua Zepp, of Wilmington, Del., spent from the 15th, to the 20th, with Mr. Joseph Helwig and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Nathaniel Zepp, who was confined to the house for about three weeks is improving and able to go about.

Miss Airie Bemiller, of Union Mills spent from Thursday till Sunday with her friend, Miss Beulah Reese.

Mr. Levi Myers spent from Thursday until Saturday of last week in Baltimore with his daughter, Mrs. R. W. Fowler. Mrs. Fowler has returned from the hospital very much improved.
