H. P. GORSUCH, Postmaster.

Rev. Wm. Thompson of Tarrytown, New York, formerly a resident of Westminster, spent a few days at "The Westminser" this week. He is taking a trip through the country in his large touring car, in company with his wife, two children, nurse, a friend, Dr. C. W. Skinner, of Washingon, D. C., and his "sho-fur." On Sunday night he preached at Centenary M. E. Church and after the service he greeted many of his old friends. His splendid success in the ministry and the many warm friends he has made, have not lessened his affection for the friends and home of his boyhood, and he visited as many as possible. On Wednesday morning he gave great pleasure to the inmates of the Methodist Protestant Home, to whom he gave a delightful ride making two trips so as to accommodate all of them. The ladies enjoyed the ride immensely and will long remember Mr. Thompson's kindness and courtesy. On Wednesday noon he left for Washington and expects to reach his home on Monday next.

Ewell—Lynch.

Misss Mary C. Lynch, second daughter of Mr. M. John Lynch, of Liberty street, this city, and a granddaughter of the late Edward Lynch, of this city, and Mr. Arthur W. Ewell, of Crisfield, Md., were quietly married at the home of the bride's father, Wednesday, July 26, at 11 a. m., by Rev. Dr. D. L. Greenfield, the bride's pastor.. Those present other than the immediate family of the bride were: Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cookson, Mr. and Mrs. Burrier Cookson, Mrs. T. W. Mather, Miss Hilda Ewell and Mrs. Simon P. Weaver.

The happy couple left on the 1.59 p. m., train for Crisfield, Md. The groom is a student at the Westminster Theological Seminary, this city.

Bransford—Royer.

Miss Blanche Royer, daughter of Mr. William Royer, of Medford, this county, and Dr. L. E. Bransford, of Aberdeen, Miss., were quietly married in Philadelphia, Pa., July 14th, 1911, by Rev. Wm.D. Chaefaut, D. D., of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Dr. Bransford is on the University of Maryland Hospital staff and his bride recently graduated as a trained nurse. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. John Royer, of this city, and has many warm friends in this, her native county.

Knocked Senseless.

On Saturday evening last, between 4 and 5 o'clock, John Reindollar and William E. Murdoch, both of Tannery, this county, became involved in a war of words and Reindollar struck Murdoch on the head with a long shovel, knocking him senseless and fracturing his skull. The injured man was removed to the University of Maryland Hospital, Baltimore, where an operation was performed. At the time of going to press Murdoch was reported in an improved condition. Both men are young and married and the trouble has caused both families considerable anxiety.

Reindollar came to this city Saturday night to give himself up to the sheriff, believing he had killed Murdoch. On Monday, however, he was arrested and later released on $2,000 bail, Mr. Fred. Brehm becoming his surety. Conflicting statements have been made as to how the trouble began and nothing definite will be known until a hearing is held before Police Justice Shriver, of this city.

Capt. H. Clay Naill.

Capt. Henry Clay Naill, a former resident of Frederick county, died at his lodgings, 333 St. Paul street Baltimore, Saturday last, aged 80 years. He is surrvived by a widow (Mrs. Margaret Naill, who resides in Camden, N. J.,) a son (Henry Clay Nall, Jr., of Freehold, New Jersey); three brothers (Messrs. John Naill, of Staunton, Va.; Theodore F. Naill, of Rossville, Kan., and Jacob L. Naill, of Watersville, this county,) and a sister (Mrs. Elizabeth Balle, of Medford, this county.

The funeral services were held Monday last and the interment was at New Windsor, this county.

Born in December, 1830, in Frederick county, he was educated at St. John's College, Annapolis, and was prepared for the law. He was named after Henry Clay, the great statesman, who was an intimate friend of his father. In his childhood he was taken to see his father's friend at the national capital, and there he met Daniel Webster and other great men of that time.

Before young Naill was admitted to the bar to follow the career of his father's friend he was appointed assistant clerk of the Circuit Court of Frederick county. From this first appointment until almost extreme old age he lived in politics. During the Civil War he was appointed provost marshal of the territory from Frederick to the Potomac and to the Ohio river. He became the friend of Abraham Lincoln.

In 1875 he became a State figure in politics and was elected to the House of Delegates from Frederick county. He was a zealous Republican in both State and national affairs and knew personally every Republican President from Lincoln to McKinley.

Before the election of President Garfield Mr. Naill stumped the State of West Virginia with McKinley for Garfield. In return Garfield appointed him surveyor of the Customs of Baltimore. Later, under Mayor Malster, he was appointed Collector of Water Rents.

At the zenith of his career he was elected chairman of the Republican State Central committee, and held that office for many yearrs. When he began to grow old he was given the position of secretary to the committee.

Mr. James M. Stoner had charge of the funeral.

Hail Storm.

On Friday afternoon between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock this city and vicinity was visited by the most destructive hailstorm within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The rain came down in torrents and immediately after the first hail stones fell, which, by the way were as large as hulled walnuts, the thermometer which had been standing at 80 degrees fell to 66 degrees inside of ten minutes. Crops within a radius of 5 miles to the north, northeast and east of this city were damages to he extent of $30,000 and the vegetable gardens in this city were ruined.

"The Dutch Picnic."

The annual picnic of Trinity Lutheran Church, Deer Park Road, near Smallwood, familiarly called "The Dutch Picnic" is one of the best known annual gatherings of the county, to which the people of all sections of the county for nearly thirty-five years, have looked forward from year to year with interest. Last year nearly 1,000 conveyances were counted on the grounds, and the crowd was swelled by hundreds of pedestrians. Arrangements are being perfected for a specially good time this year, and everybody is invited to come and meet his friends. The men of the congregation are requested to meet in the grove next Wednesday afternoon, at one o'clock, to clean up the grounds, put platform and seats in position, and get everything ready for a big day of Saturday, August 5th ,the day when the picnic will be held, if the weather is favorable. If the weather is unfavorable on Saturday, the picnic will be held on the following Monday, August 7th.

STATE GRANGE FAIR TO BE BIGGEST EVER.

Will be Held Near Taneytown, From August 8 to 11, Inclusive—Lectures on Farm Topics a Feature—Arrangements Made for those who Desire to Camp out on the Grounds.

The fourteenth annual Maryland State Grange Fair will be held on August 8, 9, 10 and 11, in Ohler's Grove, near Taneytown, this county. Nearly all the plans for the fair have been completed, and it promises to be the largest of its kind ever held.

Formerly the occasion was known as the Granger's picnic, but this year, owing to the fact that a number of non-residents of the State will exhibit, there it is necessary on account of the law for it to be held under the name of the Maryland State Grange Fair, conducted by the Agricultural Association, incorporated, of Taneytown.

The prime object of the Agricultural Association is to educate the famer. In this particular it is conducted along different lines from any other gathering in the State. It has a lecture feature furnished principally by the Maryland State Grange and the Maryland Agricultural College.

Is Farmers' Chautauqua.

It may be truly termed the Farmers' "Chautauqua" of Maryland, for the advancement, and for the betterment of their stock and products, where they may compare results of their labor, and excite a laudable desire among the farmers to excel each other in their products. It is also desired to create a closer social relation among farmers.

Many new features have been added this year. New buildings, cattle and horse stalls have been erected, and arrangements have been made for the erection of a number of tents for the accommodation of those who wish to remain on the grounds over night.

Prominent Speakers.

The program, which is an elaborate one, has been completed and includes addresses by Governor Crothers and many other prominent men. On Tuesday, the opening day, the address of welcome will be delivered by Hon. Joseph A. Goulden, of New York, who will be master of ceremonies.

On Wednesday Governor Crothers and Congressman J. Harry Covington will be the principal speakers. Walter Thompson of the Pennsylvania Railroad will speak on "Good Roads." Congressman J. Fred. C. Talbott and J. Charles Linthicum and Ex-Mayor J. Barry Mahool will be the principal speakers on Thursday.

A number of new and valuable premiums will be awarded this year.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

Don't forget our picnic ,this Saturday. Let the children all turn out as our good minister, Mr. Yoder, is goingto give each Sunday school scholar under ten years of age a treat, either candy or ice cream. So we hope they will all be there.

Mrs. Levi Myers is still suffering very much with rheumatism. Some days she is unable to be about.

Mrs. J. Ernest Helwig is critically ill at this writing, with very little hope of her recovery.

Misses Bertha Myers and Mildred Devilbiss spent several days in Baltimore.

Miss Blanche Baker, of Baltimore, is spending some time with Mrs. Jos. Hahn.

Mrs. Carroll Myers is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. C. Ebaugh, of Carrollton.

Mrs. Adah Wantz Myers raised a sweet patato that measured 6 inches and weighed one and a half pounds. Who can beat it?

Some of our people attended the Lutheran reunion at Pen-Mar, on Thursday.

We can't have any faith in Saint Swithan's day any more. We did not have any rain on that day and was not to have any for forty days, but we have had more since that time than we had before; not only rain but lots of hail, which did a great deal of damage to corn and vegetation in general.

Joseph P. Yingling started to boil apple butter, Thursday.

PIPE CREEK VALLEY.

Amos M. Wolf and family, of near Manchester, spent Sunday with Wilmer Haines and family.
