My Dear Cousin Caspar

I was delighted to receive thy kind note this afternoon

Sis Martha says she "cannot write", and offers me now such indulgence in the use of the pen, when thus comforted with the love of absent friends, which she partakes of, and hereinth sends her "affectionate remembrance" — adding — "I may tell thee, she is in "good health, and spirits", "& "prefers her City Home to "any other." — tho' she has been absent several days and nights
