1873 August - October Cooper Harris Lincoln Letters 199

SIDE ONE

Stevens Institute of Technology,

HOBOKEN, NEW JERSEY,

Oct. 5th 1873

My dear Doctor

For this seems to me the most natural and familiar address for you — I cannot say how much pleasure it gave me to hear from you and find that among the multitude who are similarly your debtors you should still so kindly remember one who has shared your kind offices and profited by your judicious counsel

More much I wish that some fortunate wind could transport you
