In no other State in the Union are people working as hard as in California. And they are working successfully. The San Francisco Labor Clarion says for Equal Rights for the Mothers of Men :

"That the labor vote of this city will be in line for suffrage appears evident from the success that is attending the efforts of Miss Maud Young and the other seven members of the committee of Wage Earners' Suffrage League. Of seventy-eight unions addressed by the committee in the last five weeks, nearly everyone has indorsed the amendment giving the ballot to the women of the State. In the majority of these seventy-eight organizations, which have 4,000 members, the indorsement was unanimous."

There are fifty organizations in California which have one working aim, namely, the adoption of the suffrage amendment. These organizations have been the means of securing endorsements in associations that in the aggregate represent the majority of the people of the State.

Fifteen well-known judges of California are announced as workers for the success of Amendment No. 8.

Voters Register.

For special election of October 10, in Los Angeles Suffrage Headquarters, and the Deputies are Women.

Los Angeles suffragists are doing a remarkable piece of work in taking up the duties of deputies of register the voters. The brief reference already made to this by The Woman's Journal does not indicate the scope and value of the work. The women are not simply clerks in a registrar's office. The voters come to Suffrage Headquarters all day long and wait their turns to register. The women, who cannot vote themselves, fill out the necessary blanks, answer a great many questions and are helping to make the heaviest registration ever known in Los Angeles. It was a very peculiar situation, a special election coming on and no funds to hire deputies. The women are glad to do the work without pay because it brings thousands of voters to Suffrage Headquarters, and because a full registration will help the suffrage amendment. Incidentally they are doing a great public service to the State. The women see the humor of the situation.

This Must Not Happen in California.

"Paw, are you going to vote for all the amendments on election day

'Don't bother me, Johnny."

(Pause)

"Paw, are you going to vote ?"

"I'm not going to vote. Are you satisfied now ?"

"Why ain't you going to vote for all the amendments, paw ?"

"I'll send you to bed if you don't quit bothering me !"

(Still another pause.)

"Paw, why ain't you going to vote for all the amendments ?"

"Because I forgot to register. Now if you say another word to bed you go."

Johnny looks amazed.

LINCOLN BOULEVARD.

The Boulevard will be built, if everyone will get busy, or create sentiment for it. One plan recently suggested is to write a postal card to friends living in other states as follows :—

I am interested in House Bill 13045 providing for a Lincoln Memorial Boulevard from Washington to Gettysburg. Write to your Congressman to support this bill. Also send this request to ten friends in other States, and help along a worthy and patriotic cause.

This will start an endless chain of requests and it is thought by this means that every congressman will have the matter brought to his attention by one of his constituents. Everyone help and in a few years you will be proud of the fact that you helped to obtain the Boulevard.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

July 28, 1911.

Mr. Borland introduced the following bill, which was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and ordered to be printed :

A BILL.

Empowering the commission to secure plans and designs for a memorial highway in memory of Abraham Lincoln from the city of Washington to the battle field of Gettysburg, in the State of Pennsylvania.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled that the commission created by the Act of Congress approved February ninth, nineteen hundred and eleven, entitled 'An Act to provide a commission to secure plans and designs for a monument or memorial in memory of Abraham Lincoln," be, and the same is hereby, directed and empowered to determine upon a location, plan, and design for a national highway from the city of Washington to the battle field of Gettysburg, in the State of Pennsylvania, to be known as the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Highway, together with all appropriate decorations thereof, including entrance arches at the terminals, ornamental bridges, and so forth, and report the same to Congress, together with its recommendation thereon. Said Commission is directed and empowered to negotiate with the States of Maryland and Pennsylvania with a view to securing the consent of such States, or political subdivisions thereof, for the creation of said highway.

Sec. 2. That all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Letter From Baltimore.

Baltimore, Sep. 26, 1911.

It has been many a long day since the Democratic party in Maryland has fonud itself in the predicament into which it has fallen in his campaign. Heretofore it has had only the Republicans to look after, but this year the insurrectionists are worrying the bosses quite as much as is their natural enemy. The great factor in this campaign so far as the Democrats are concerned is the Lee element. Without, they are lost. Mahon, Smith, Vandiver, Gorman—they all recognize the importance of placating the followers of the Montgomery Senator, and, while outwardly, they may regard the situation with debonnaire nonchalance, with evident satisfaction, yet it is impossible for them to conceal their feverish anxiety—their deep concern at the uncertain attitude of those who stood steadfastedly and unflinchingly by their guns, fighting for the overthrow of the party machine, fighting under the inspiring leadership of Blair Lee.

In some manner known only to the practiced manipulator, Senator Lee was prevailed upon to second Mr. Gorman's nomination and allow the ring program to be carried out; through some occult power or political legerdmaine that gentleman has assumed an external demeanor of acquescence and is permitting the bosses to employ his personal popularity in the manufacture of half-hearted enthusiasm. And yet, with all this surface manifestation of harmony, "peace and good will" the Democratic managers know, and Senator Lee must know, that the thousands of voters, representing the better and more independent element of the party, who voted against Gorman in the primary from principle and not because of a mere passing fancy—they know that these voters have no intention, however slight, of endeavoring in November what they so vehemently denounced in August. Therefore, the managers of the Democratic machine are worried, anxious, fearful, and well they may be.

The Lee following are not that sort of men; nor are they so blind that they cannot see through the scheme of making their leader the star attraction at all the political gatherings and demonstrations. Senator Lee, being a Democrat—one, too, who is looking to the future—necessarily must make a pretense of being "regular;" not that it is to be as much as hinted at that he would deliberately practice deception and hypocrisy; yet no one who knows Senator Lee, and who heard his speeches and read his utterances during the last session of the Legislature and in the recent primay campaign, will for one moment credit him with now being unqualifiedly, enthusiastically, heart and soul in favor of Mr. Gorman and what he knows Mr. Gorman represents regardless of platforms erected to mislead the unwary and less heedful voter. Mr. Lee knows, and his large number of supporters in the primary know, that all these magnificent ovations to the Senator, in which he is hailed as "the next Governor of Maryland," etc., are pleasing to the Democratic bosses (if, indeed, they have not inspired them) only so far as they hope the fulsome flattery will catch their votes for Mr. Gorman. But neither Senator Lee nor his compatriots are being deceived. They fully realize that if Gorman is elected and the machine wins out, Senator Blair Lee will never warm the gubernational chair for a single day.

It is claimed for Senator Lee that he has an excellent opportunity to retain his popularity and standing before the people as a hold-over Senator, because he can continue his fight along progresssive lines and keep up his fight for better laws, even though he may accomplish nothing through the same oppposition which he encountered in the last session—an opposition, be it recalled, headed by this same Mr. Gorman. We can but vaguely imagine that the opposition to Senator Lee's efforts will be—what it will amount to, and the extent of it, when headed by Mr. Gorman, the Governor, in comparison with that headed by Gorman, the President of the Senate. Why, with Gorman in the Executive Chamber, Lee in the Senate will never get a "look-in," even as a leader of the progressive and an advocate of much needed reforms, much less as a gubernational candidate four years from now.

Senator Lee's opportunity lies in the other direction. Let him continue his semblance of "regularity" if he must, and make all the harmony speeches and bosses want him to make but the thing for his friends to do—the thing for those Democrats who really want a man like Lee for Governor to do, is to smash the machine at this election—defeat the Mahon-Smith-Vandiver-made candidates, clean out the corrupt bosses, help the Republicans to give Maryland fair and honest election laws and see that they are enforced, and they they will have some hope of being able to nominate and elect the right sort of men for Governor, and other offices in this State.

Peace between the Lee Democrats and the Mahon-Gorman coterie ? There can be no peace, and the bosses realize it.

Senator Lee's followers are men—not puppets.
