My dear Dr.

I am so sorry thou art troubled about our not stopping at the Presb Hospital. It was my fault as much as thine, for I also forgot it.

The examination of the plans at thy house was so thorough, & our talk over them so general, that the whole matter passed from my mind as a finished subject.

Please not to say one word against thyself or my visit, for I came home so full of thy kindness & attention, & so charmed with thy family gathering, that it will all be lost on me. I told my children how richly I had
