MANCHESTER

There was a large congregation present at the Children's Day service of Trinity Reformed Sunday school on Sunday morning. The floral decoration was elaborate of vines and flowers. The school used the service "The Voice of the Shepaerd". After the opening exercise Master George Snower greeted all in his recitation. The school sang "The Children's Festival", Dr. Land read the 23rd Psalm, Lottie Kuhn sang a solo "Living with Jesus", followed by a recitations by Burns Twidale, Josphine Snaffer, Gertrude Abkin and Leo Bendig. The school sang "Let Your Light Shine", a class exercise "A bunch of Daises", with the little ones in daisy dress. After a recitation by Anna Bendig, and an exercise by boys, Dr. Land addressed the school, a collection was taken for Missionary Sunday school work. The choir sang an anthem and the school sang "Fighting for the Kingdom", followed by the doxology and benediction.

The Literary Club of Mount Carmel Grange Baltimore county, was here on Saturday evening and played "A Kentuckey Belle", a drama in three acts by seven ladies and five gentlemen, in the I. O. F. Hall. Although moderately patronized the members acquitted themselves like professionals. It was somewhat unseasonable for our people and at a time when several home affairs were right on hand.

Daniel and Jacob Lodge No. 23 I. O. O. F. held its memorial services on Sunday afternoon on the lawn next to their hall on York street. Some fifty members were present with members of Manchester Rebekah Lodge No. 18 I. O. O. F., while several hundred persons occupied seats. A committee had erected a stand decorated with bunting and flags that accommodated the speakers and the chairman of the committee, P. G. Jno. W. Burns. A selection by the Alesia Band led to singing "Nearer My God to Thee", followed by prayer. Mr. H. M. Loats gave a fine trumbone solo, accompanied by Miss Myrtle Buchman on the organ. Mr. H. Dorsey Etchinson, of Frederick, was introduced and in a most interesting address typified beauty as the prime object in God's great plan with man as the crowning ideal of his creation. In his thought of the air he created the bird; in those of the sea he made the fish thus bringing forth in beautiful language the wonderful works of the Creator until he reached the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of man and then entwining in them Fraternity, the underlying principle of the many organizations for the bettement of mankind, which in unison will bring about that peace to which the nations are now exerting their best efforts to bring to pass. In conclusion he gathered up the whole in a great bundle of applications bringing it in a heartfelt plea to the memorial occasion of the afternoon. After a selection by the band a male quortette sang an appropriate selection, when Mr. D. W. Bowersox, of Hanover, came forward and rendered the poems "When Father is Away" and "Three months in Arrears". This brought the Odd Fellow's friend, W. A. Jones, Grand Secty., to the stand in a short address and congratulation to the lodge upon having brought such an interesting occasion and having so many friends present to participate in the beautiful exercises. The audience rose and joined in singing "God be with us till we meet again". The line of march was taken up to the cemetery when fifty or more deceased members' graves were strewn with flowers while the band was playing appropriate music.

Worth always seems to have wrapped up in its bosom the success which we have demonstrated in one of our boys who several years ago was a clerk in the store of Mr. J. W. Hoftacker, where his worth began its development. In a business course in school it so developed that a position as bookkeeper was awaiting him at his graduation, where he more fully developed his attainments, so that when the CommercialCredit Company, of Baltimore, was organized a short time ago with a paid up capital of $300,000 he was made head bookkeeper and at the first meeting of the board was elected assistant treasurer who we have in the person of our honored friend Eli C. Warehime, one of our worthy boys.

Mr. Edward Albaugh, who has been a terrible sufferer from kidney trouble for some months, was taken to the City Hospital Baltimore on Saturday morning for treatment. Mr. A. stood by the anvil and weilded the hammer for forty or more years and only yielded to treatment and care after frail nature could no longer respond to the daily toil.

PLEASANT VALLEY
