SIDE ONE

Rectory Bradford Pcl
Nov 24 1875

My dear Dr Morris,

If it is the objection to the conduct of the Hospital people in the case of the boy Bambury, does not seem abated, and that the Welsh's think the whole thing was crass and unwise. As Mrs. Welsh particularly is a person whose convictions against the hospital might do at harm in many minds, I think it would be best to ask the Board, to morrow to pass a resolution to the effect that whenever a patient seems likely to die the duty of the superintendt or other officer shall be to send word to the nearest friend or relative of the patient and then invite him to visit the sick person, at once and remain with him, as long as he desires.

If you will draw this or some similar regulation and present it, to morrow, I think it will be very well, and tend to
