Tonsiline Cures Sore Throat

The throat is one of the most delicate parts of the body. It is also one of the most important, and should be given the best possible care.

The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through it. It is very easily affected by cold, strain, exposure, etc., and Sore Throat is therefore one of our most common ailments. Strangely enough, it is also one of the most neglected.

Sore Throat is a very serious matter, for the whole system is in danger in consequence of it.

Every Sore Throat patient is a candidate for Tonsilitis, Quinsy, Diphtheria and other serious or fatal diseases, all of which can be prevented by the timely cure of the Sore Throat by the use of TONSILINE.

If taken in time a dose or two will do it.

TONSILINE is made to cure throat diseases and nothing else. It is the one remedy for this purpose sold largely in the United States. Every user endorses it; every physician, knowing its virtues, commends it.

The one most important thing to remember about TONSILINE is the fact that it really does cure Sore Throat.

Overland

A Foreword About 1913

And a Word of Advice to the Buyer

Most of you will remember that just before the 1912 season opened, we advised the public to wait and see what we had to offer before they bought.

We promised to save them considerable money. We told them how we could. And we did. Everyone knows that we made good on this. Tens of thousands followed our advice and profited by doing so. Our famous $900 Touring Car took the country by storm. It proved the equal of any $1200 car shown during the entire 1912 season. To date we have had to refuse thousands of orders for this model and more are still pouring in.

Our advice for 1913 is the same as it was for 1912. Wait for the Overland announcement.

We will make our 1913 announcement on August 17th. On this date the world at large will awaken to still more car for still less money.

A few week's w it cannot make much difference to you; yet it will make a big difference by saving you considerable money.

On August 17th you will get all the facts, specifications and particulars. Buy The Saturday Evening Post on that date. Watch the newspapers in your city.

On that date the new Overlands will be in every city in America—ready for your demonstration.

August 17th will be the red letter day of the 1913 automobile year.

Remember the date and . . . . . wait!

LEMUEL PHILLIPS
and others, Plaintiffs
JOHN PHILLIPS and others
Defendants
No. 4700 Equity

In the Circuit Court for Carroll county, Maryland, in Equity.

The object, of this suit is to procure a DECREE for sale of certain real estate situate, lying and being in Carroll County, Maryland.

The Bill states that on or about the ——day of —— A. D. 1895, a certain Edward J. Phillips departed this life, seized and possessed of real estate worth in and about $1,000.00.

The said real estate descended unto said Intestate's surviving brothers and sisters as tenants in common.

That said intestate left surviving him, a brother, Lemuel Phillips, a sister, Annie E. Stevens, a sister, Sarah J. Meddleton, a brother, John Phillips, all of whom reside in the State of Maryland. Also left surviving him the following nephews and nieces of a deceased sister (Lizzie Phillips) who intermarried with Mordecai Tillman, as follows: a nephew, Frank Tillman, whose wife's name is Lillian Tillman; a niece, Clara Tillman, who intermarried with John Anderson; a niece, Annie Tillman; a nephew, Harry Tillman, whose wife's name is May Tillman; a nephew, Jacob Tillman; a nephew, Albert Tillman; a nephew, Leonard Tillman; a nephew, Montrow Tillman; a nephew, Walter Tillman; and that all the children of Lizzie Tillman are adults, above the age of twenty-one years except Albert, Leonard, Montrow and Walter Tillman; and all of the above named nephews and nieces are residents of the State of Maryland except Leonard Tillman, Clara Anderson and John Anderson her husband. Also left surviving him the following nephews and nieces, children of a deceased sister, Mary M. Callender, a nephew, John Callender; a niece, Mary Esline; whose husband's name is Charles Esline; a nephew, Robert B. Callender, who intermarried with Katie Callender; a nephew, Frank Callender, whose wife's name is Ethel Callender: a nephew Harry Callender, whose wife's name is Maggie Callender, and all of whom reside in the State of Maryland and are above the age of twenty-one years. That all of the real estate of which said Edward J. Phillips died seized and possessed, containing about 45 acres and 3 roods of land more or less, cannot be divided among the parties who are entitled to the same, without material injury to all the parties interested, and especially to the infant defendants, but it would be to the interest and advantage of all parties interested that said property be sold and the proceeds be divided among all the parties interested, and especially so to the Infant defendants.

It is thereupon, this Fifth day of February, in the year Nineteen Hundred and Thirteen, Ordered by the Circuit Court for Carroll County in Equity, that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper, published in said Carroll County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 10th day of March A. D. 1913, give notice to the absent defendants of the object and substance of this Bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 26th day of March next, to show cause if any they have, why a DECREE ought not to be passed as prayed.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. MILLER

Baltimore Woman's Success With Camera and Pen

The current issue of Leslie's Weekly has a very interesting account of a Baltimore woman, Mrs. Charles R. Miller, who is one of the members of Leslie's staff. Mrs. Miller is both an expert photographer and an unusually good writer, and, as both artist and author, she has traveled all over the world writing descriptive articles illustrated by herself. She has traveled on every railroad in the United States, visited the heights of mountain peaks and the depths of coal and gold mines, covered national conventions, been in revolutions, big national disasters and in out-of-the-way places which it would take nerve in men, much less in women, to visit. She went to Melilla during the war between Morocco and Spain and took pictures on the firing line, thus earning the title of being the only woman war correspondent in the world. There is not a man or woman of national prominence, from presidents down, whom Mrs. Miller has not photographed and written about and not a national department she has not made the subject of her pictures and articles. She is at home alike in Alaska and in the tropics, in Russia and in Spain, and has the proud distinction of being arrested in Hayti as a dangerous character and in Heligoland on suspicion of being a spy, because in both places she took pictures of a picturesque character. In fact, Mrs. Miller's adventures in the course of her profession would fill a book, and a most interesting book at that.

Yet, as Leslie's article states, Mrs. Miller is of a most womanly type, is one of the best of housekeepers, and her beautiful home on Linden Ave., is unique in its planning and decoration, as it contains souvenirs of every quarter of the globe. Mrs. Miller is the wife of Mr. Charles R. Miller, of the Fidelity Trust Company, who is extremely proud of his talented wife and of the fame she has won through her work, which is a labor entirely of love, as she pursues it solely through her liking for travel and for newspaper work. As Leslie's article states, she is such a thorough housekeeper as well as writer that even in her farthest travels there is no daily detail in her home which she has not planned and provided for in advance. The Leslie article is illustrated with a photograph of Mrs. Miller in the characteristic attitude of obtaining a timely snapshot.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were formerly of this city.

SPELTER PRODUCTION IN 1912.

Large Increase over Figures for 1911.

The Geological Survey has just issued its advance statement of spelter production and consumption in 1912. This statement, prepared by C. E. Siebenthal, gives the final figures of output by the zinc smelters for the year, distributed both by States producing the ore and by States in which the ore was smelted, thus giving a measure of the zinc-mining industry as well as of the zinc-smelting industry. The zinc ore made into pigments is not included in this statement, hence the full extent of the zinc-mining industry is not covered. The imports and exports of spelter, zinc dross, and zinc ore are also given, as well as a list of smelters and their capacity, revised to the close of 1912, together with additions being built during the first months of 1913. A long chart shows graphically the fluctuations for the last seven years in the price of spelter both at St. Louis and at London and in the price of 60 per cent zinc concentrates at Joplin.

The production in the United States of spelter made from ore, both domestic and foreign, was 338,806 short tons, an increase of 52,280 tons, or 18.2 per cent. over that of the previous year and by far the largest output in the history of the industry. The final figures show that the Survey's estimate of production given out January 2, 1913, was too low by only 176 tons, or five one-hundredths of 1 per cent. The spelter made in the United States from foreign ore in 1912 amounted to 14,899 tons, almost exactly the same as in 1911 and considerably less than in 1910 and several preceding years. The production of spelter from secondary sources such as skimmings and drosses also made large gains, being estimated at 50,000 tons, of which 21,000 tons was redistilled, partly at the regular zinc smelters using ore and partly at plants devoted exclusively to the redistillation of secondary materials. The consumption in the United States of spelter made from ore was 340,372 tons, an increase of 60,313 tons, or 21.5 per cent, over that of the previous year. The increase in consumption was made possible by the large imports of spelter. For the last four months of the year the average St. Louis price of spelter was more than 1 1|2 cents above the London price. It was during this period that the larger part of the 11,115 tons of foreign spelter was imported.

The list of smelters shows a total capacity of 107, 948 retorts at the close of 1912, with additions of 12,216 retorts under construction. With the exception of 576 retorts, the additions are all in Illinois. It should be borne in mind that all of this capacity will not be effective for smelting ore, for several of the plants listed are devoted partly from secondary materials.

THE CAUSE OF RHEUMATISM

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver and kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes: "All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1.00. Recommended by all Druggists.

JUST WHAT HENS EAT

Meat Is Usually in Form of Bugs and Worms.

Considerable Studying and Experimenting Necessary to Find Out What Fowls Need and How Much They Should Have.

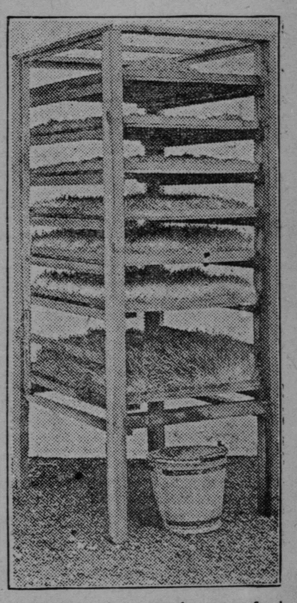

(By KATHERINE ATHERTON GRIMES.)

The hen has three reasons for eating: to repair the tissues of her body, to keep herself warm, and to make eggs. It therefore follows that her diet must be varied and plentiful.

If we open the crop of a hen that has been allowed to eat just what she pleased we will find that she has provided herself with three kinds of food—grain, green stuff and meat. The last named is usually in the form of bugs and worms.

We must, then, furnish our hens with food of these classes. Moreover, the quantity must be about right of each. If they are not given enough, they will have to use it all for body building and heat production, and will have nothing left over to make eggs with. If we feed too much of some kinds the surplus will go to fat, and the hens will get too lazy to lay.

It takes considerable studying and experimenting to find out just what the hens need, and how much they ought to have, but we must learn as soon as we can, or we will find our Oats sprouted to supply green food when none is growing in the open. The arrangement of the trays shows sowing at week intervals. Then trays can be slipped out and placed in the poultry house as needed.

poultry is not so profitable as it ought to be. The feeding question is one of the most important in the whole poultry business.

Experts tell us that a hen needs about six ounces of food a day. A flock of ten, then, will need about three and three-fourths pounds a day, or a trifle over twenty-six pounds a week.

Of this amount two-thirds by weight should consist of grains. The grain should be a mixture of equal parts of wheat, cracked corn and oats. A few handfuls of sunflower seed, cane seed or buckwheat should be added for variety. They are to the hen what pie is to the boy—and you know what that is.

The other third should be a "mash," which is a mixture of bran and other finely ground feeds, usually fed dry. Some poultrymen moisten the mash, but the majority claim that it is better to feed it dry, and let the hen moisten it in her crop by drinking what water she wants. If fed dry there is less danger from certain kinds of disease.

A good formula for a mash is as follows: One-half bushel of bran, 4 quarts alfalfa meal, 2 quarts each of ground oats and corn meal, 1 tablespoonful of charcoal, 1 pint of beef scrap, 1 tablespoonful of salt and 1 teaspoonful of pepper.

This furnishes both meat and green food in about the right quantities. Where these elements are given in other ways the alfalfa meal and beef scrap may be omitted from the mash.

These ingredients should be thoroughly mixed together, and the mash kept where the hens can get it any time they want it. It is a bulky food, but not a fattening one, so there is no danger of their eating too much. The bran is one of the best "condition powders" poultry can have. It keeps the system vigorous and healthy and furnishes a large part of the egg-making elements.

The grain food should always be thrown into a deep little of straw or chaff, where the birds will have to "scratch for a living." If you have ever watched an old hen digging about in the yard you will know that it is as natural for her to dig as it is to breathe.

Grit and lime, usually given in the form of oyster shells, are two other necessary elements. They should be kept before the fowls all the time. A very convenient hopper for feeding the mash, grit and shells may be made like the illustration, the compartment for the mash being much larger than the others.
