My dear Doctor

Your very kind note reached me two days since.

Having been confined to the house for a week past, waiting to get over the effects of an operation for fistula, I have not had an opportunity to consult my colleagues and to make up my mind in the matter of the Hospital Service.

Should I find that I can make no arrangement with my confrères by which I will be able to serve, I shall place my resignation in the hands of the Managers by the time of their May meeting. which will give them ample time to select from the numerous candidates
