SIDE ONE

Philad.a 27 Oct 1877

My Dear Doctor Morris

Your two letters were received together on Monday last, I read them with much interest, and fully sympathise with you in the conclusion expressed in your last letter, I have not seen Galloway since the receipt of your letters, but I do not doubt he will be governed by your advice in the case, I will say here that it will always give me pleasure to do any and every thing in my power to advance his interest in any legitimate undertakeing he may engage in, and I am sure with his experience & qualification for business he cannot be long in want of employment, tho' the continued depression in almost every branch of business does not present very encourageing prospects in the near future,

When I wrote I thought you was in Balt. but just now you are in the Alleghanies where the letter will find you
