MANCHESTER

The baseball boys are in high glee over their success in the entertainment of Old Farmer Hopkins that was given in the I. O. O. F. Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings, of last week. Mr. Frank S. Davidson was at his best and was well supported by local talent that were as real in their characters as novices could well be receiving well earned applause all along the line. The gross receipts for the two nights were about $68.00.

Miss Hattie Bixler gave quite a surprise to her many friends when the Baltimore American on Saturday morning announced a wedding license to Walter R. Ronemous, of Baltimore, and Miss Hattie Bixler, of Manchester. Her closest friends were satisfied that she and Mr. R. would be married, he having spent several days at the home the first of the week and on Tuesday enjoyed a social evening with several friends at the home, at a card party. He left on Thursday morning and on Friday evening the bride to be and mother left on the evening train with rather a large lot of baggage but their friends had no idea of the unexpected turn of affairs. But a number received announcements of the wedding from Washington, D. C., by Saturday's mail. The bride is a native of this place but grew to womanhood at Waynesboro, the native place of Mr. R., and as girl and boy were very intimate friends. After the death of her father, Mr. John Bixler, she and her mother returned to this, her native place, where she had a millinery parlor. Mr. R. is in the employ of the B. & O. Railroad company with headquarters at Baltimore. We extend them our best wishes for a long and prosperous wedded life.

On Thursday evening Mr. George P. Wentz and Miss Martha Stump were quietly married at the Lutheran parsonage by the Rev. J. B. Baker. After congratulations they left for the groom's home, three miles north of here where he has taken over the farm of his parents and will carry on the farming. They too have our best wishes for success.

Messrs. J. W. Hoffacker, B. F. Armacost, Harry Bollinger and Walter Armacost visited the automobile show at Baltimore, last week.

Mr. Samuel H. Abkin, of this place, is a doorkeeper in the House of Representatives at Annapolis. He is an appointee of legislator John B. Baker.

Mrs. Maurice Unger and son left on Saturday morning for their home at Manlius, N. Y., after a month's visit with Mrs. R's. home folks here.

Mr. Charles B. Miller, of Baltimore, spent Sunday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Miller. Charles is one of our boys and has made quite a hit as a traveling millinery salesman, having the full confidence of his employers.

Mr. H. A. Myers spent his days off of duty on the mail train, here among friends last week.

Mr. Harry Sullivan is visiting his brother, Mr. Flavius Sullivan and family at Fernandina, Florida, where Mr. F. Sullivan is deputy sheriff. He expects to spend several weeks in the land of flowers.

Mrs. Emma Sherman and daughter, of Baltimore, are visiting Mrs. S's. mother, Mrs. Effie Berwager.

Our cigar factories are on full time of ten hours. Mr. H. T. Ourstler, foreman of the West Indies Cigar Company, whose factory is on North Main street, informed us that they have 50 employees on the payroll; that is $400 every week and during 1913 they manufactured 3,232,000 cigars the most of which were shipped south and west to the Pacific Coast. This factory is owned by a firm in New York. The factory of Mr. Walter D. Hanson & Son employs 22 persons with a payroll of $175 and $200 a week and made 1,080,000 cigars during 1913. In connection with the factory they have a nice trade in their retail store, whose show windows are always in fine trim, showing the latest in smokes and sweets for all tastes. Their products are taken by several companies in Baltimore. We too got in touch with the interests of the factory of Mr. Charles M. Masenhimer on Foundry avenue, where we found 65 persons employed subject to a payroll of from $900 to $1,000 in two weeks, and that manufactured 3,811,600 cigars in 1913 and sold 3,800,700 during the year to different firms in Baltimore. Mr. Masenhimer is one of our boys who learned the trade when but a boy and no doubt then made up his mind to be a practical man in the business. After working for different manufacturers for several years he commenced business for himself and had his ups and downs along the lines of trade but he persevered and stuck to it and gradually he saw the business coming his way. Not having a permanent business house he bought the old house and lot on Foundry avenue where he built a factory that for some years met his trade, but later on he found it necessary to increase his employes and for room added a third story to his factory and still later a back building with an elevator to more easily handle his tobacco and products from one department to another and now has a building that he has cause to be proud of. He has his brothers Wm. F. and Kenneth, as foremen on their respective floors. Mr. M. is a busy man from early to late every day and keeps in touch with his business, going weekly to Baltimore looking after his interests. He has a fine home on North Main street where he lives. Besides these factories are Messrs. Frank Slack and the Brilhart Brothers, who employ 8 or 10 persons each and enjoy a ready output for their products. Taking these enterprises as a whole they mean much for our town, taking 50 weeks as a basis they pay out between 55 and 60 thousand dollars in a year and most all to home folks, much of which again finds its way into the tills of our business people, while some are proud of fine bank accounts.

The members of Emanuel Lutheran Aid Society enjoyed quite a love feast on Monday evening in the celebrating of their third anniversary in the Sunday school room of their church. They had a large attendance that was pleasantly entertained with recitations, dialogues and songs by a quartet. The receipts for dues, birthday presents to the society amounted to $42 that placed in the hands of the treasurer swelled the report to $1622 in bank for church purposes, closing the business period; then followed the social peoriod when ice cream, cake and coffee was served and much enjoyed.

The friends here were notified of the death of Mr. Jacob Morelock at the home of his daughter Mrs. A. P. Marsh, in his 80th year. On Monday he was down street and on coming home went to the bathroom where he was found unconscious and died at 8.10 P. M.

Mr. John Folgert lost a fine family horse last week from colic and Mr. Seighman, at Maple Grove, lost his fine driver on Sunday night from the same cause. The driver of the dead animal wagon from Hanover told our folks on Monday that they have four wagons out all the time bringing in dead animals, mostly horses. He said their veterinarians and farmers attribute much of the trouble to the corn that is fed.

The home of Miss Fannie G. Ross was the attraction for the lady members of the Willing Workers Aid Society, of Trinity Reformed Church, who responded to the announcement to the quilting of the venerable covering that had been at rest for more than a score of years without any particular reason for the delay in finishing it. It was in readiness by noon on Tuesday to be decorated with diamonds and other needle patterns that were well done by expert quilters. While this was being done another company of helpers were busy in dining room and kitchen in preparing a 5 o'clock dinner to which the gentlemen members of the society were invited. The table appointments were fine and At dinner served in three courses with a menu of pork, sausage, four vegetables, fruit, hot biscuit, bread, pickles, coffee, sour cherry pie, corn starch and cream, that were served in abundance by a corps of ladies that had their part well in hand, while the cooking department had expert workers that knew how to do things so that all enjoyed a royal meal for a dime. Upon the whole it was an enjoyable and social coming together of the members who are always ready to meet the challenge of their particular Zion, although it meant a great deal of work. Yet the social feature and enjoyment was worth much to the members and pastor, in more closely getting together in their church work. One thing should not be forgotten that the society owes a vote of thanks to the hostess in throwing open her home for the occasion. In looking over this memorable covering we found the names of several hundred persons, many of whom have since grown to man and womanhood, but it now will be finished and become the property of the parsonage for the use of the pastor's family. The following were present at the quilting:

Madames Dr. T. S. Land, Robert Shower, C. W. Stick, W. H. Shower, C. Miller, Ed. Yingling, J. C. Frankforter, Chas. Brilhart, David Brilhart, W. W. Wentz, J. N. Abken, Harry Bollinger, Nelson Grove, Geo. Bixler, Frank Brilhart, Thomas Carlisle, John E. Masenhimer, C. M. Masenhimer, N. F. Masenhimer, Dr. J. H. Sherman, Geo. E. Leese, E. W. Gregory, Edgar Nagle, H. M. Loats, C. J. Everhart, D. L. Dubbs, J. E. Musselman, Dr. Bardwell, J. W. Hoffacker, M. E. Gettier, H. T. J. Lamotte, Chas. H. Everhart, J. P. Baltozer, Misses Celia Shower, Fannie Shower, Stella Kneller, Mollie Brilhart, Maggie Fuhrman, Sadie Masenhimer, Mary Masenhimer, Sarah Masenhimer, Minnie Masenhimer, Julia Masenhimer, Corinne Sherman, Ella Leese, Ada Leese, Miss Bird, Margaret Fuhrman, Eliza Cox, Margaret Loats, Nannie Grof, Frances Wagaman, Fannie G. Ross, Ray Hoffacker, Mary Leese, Messrs. Dr. T. S. Land, Cornelius Miller, Chas. Brilhart, Kenneth Masenhimer, Chas. M. Masenhimer, Wm. F. Masenhimer, E. W. Gregory, Chas. J. Everhart, Geo. S. Motter, Prof. Bowlus, Prof. Penn, H. T. J. Lamotte, Geo. A. Crouse, J. P. Baltozer, G. W. J. Everhart, Dr. League, Master Ernest Brilhart.

Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Roeder, of Glen Rock, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Anna, to Mr. Babcock, of Henderson, North Carolina, the wedding to take place about the middle of February. Anna was one of our girls during the 12 years pastorate of her father and has many friends who are ready to extend their congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bitzel entertained a number of guests last Tuesday evening. A pleasant time was spent. Refreshments were served in abundance and all returned to their homes thinking what a pleasant evening they had spent.

Quite a surprise was sprung on Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckingham when a little crowd peeped in the window on them and saw a picture of sweet home life and comfort. When a little too much noise was made Mrs. Buckingham looked up and saw faces at the window. She went to the door and said "come in, come in," but I think she thought we were never going to stop coming in. We were splendidly entertained with music and singing. Refreshments were served as only a farmer and wife can serve them from their own home supplies. At about twelve o'clock all departed for their homes. Mr. Chas. A. Wagner is having his home papered. Mr. Truman Hook is doing the work.

SILVER RUN

Mrs. Mandella Stair, widow of Geo. Stair, died at her home in Silver Run, Sunday morning, at 2 o'clock, aged 74 years, 5 months. Mrs. Stair had been in failing health for some time and the cause of her death was Bright's disease. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Crouse. One brother, David Crouse, and one sister, Mrs. Albert Keys, survive. Her funeral was held in St. Mary's Reformed Church Tuesday afternoon, her pastor, Rev. S. C. Hoover, officiating.
