MANCHESTER

The members of Lebanon Lodge No. 175, A. F. A. M., celebrated their annual social, called Ladies' Night, on Wednesday evening, 28th ult., in their hall and had present a large company of their members with their lady friends, to whom the occasion recorded a red letter period in their social life. The hall was brilliantly lighted and in readiness for the guests, who began to arrive at 7 P. M., and were soon in happy mood in the social circle. While this enjoyment was in progress Mr. Geo. M. Hoffman, caterer, with his corps of helpers, was busy in the kitchen getting in readiness the royal feast. The banquet room was in fine dress and inviting in every respect. Plates were laid for 80 or more persons and the table appointments were A1. All things in readiness the invitation was given and soon the guests had their places at the board. The menu consisted of oysters, celery, French slaw, pickles, turkey and dressing, cranberries, olives, salads, rolls &c., all of which was served by young ladies. After all had finished and the tables cleared a second course of harlequin ice cream in blocks, decorated with masonic emblems; cake and coffee, and then cigars were passed and enjoyed by the gentlemen. After 130 suppers had been served and the large company was comfortably seated in the lodge room the committee presented the following program for their entertainment: Piano solo, Miss Ray Hoffacker; address, P. M. Thomas S. Land, D. D.; piano duet, Misses Ray Hoffacker, and Treva Burgoon; recitation, Miss Fannie E. Shower; vocal solo, Miss Edna Lamotte; recitation, Miss Minnie Burgoon; solo, Miss Wertz. Following, all were dismissed to the pleasures of the social features that followed and all enjoyed. Those on the committee were H. C. Frankforter, R. J. Blocher, R. B. Wink, W. W. Hersh, P. L. Leese. The caterer was allright, with one exception. He should have had his mustache trimmed closer as it interfered with his sending in his orders distinctly, causing some delay. Visiting brothers from other lodges were Wm. Culp, Concordia No. 13, W. H. Hoffman, Adherence No. 88, C. J. H. Ganter, Pickering, Baltimore; Chas. H. Lewis, Samuel L. Lilly, Columbia No. 58, Frederick; Alvin Sauble, Door to Virtue No. 46, Westminster; A. G. Gentz, Fairport, No. 476, Fairport, N. Y.; Ralph Hoffacker, Dr. F. H. Beard, Patmos No. 348, Hanover, Pa.

There is a great deal of sympathy for Mr. Freeman Redding and sons, in the death of the wife and mother, who suffered a severe attack of pneumonia that yielded to treatment and when doing well took a relapse that caused her death in her 44th year. Her remains were laid to rest in the Greenmount cemetery on Sunday morning, surrounded by a large concourse of relatives and friends. She leaves a husband and two sons to mourn her loss. Jacob Wink was the undertaker.

We came to the conclusion several days ago that the man that could not tell the difference between a camera tripod and a bundle of umbrella handles had impaired eyesight, or was suffering from the last drink of coca cola he took. "How about it Doc?"

The members of Daniel and Jacob Lodge No. 23, I. O. O. F., will hold their annual banquet in their hall on the evening of the 27th inst.

Miss Winnie Masenhimer, who passed the 17th milestone along life's journey on Monday last, was given a complete surprise, arranged by her sister. She was in school all day and was innocent of what was going on at home. In the evening she was practicising her music when there was a call at the front door which she answered, to have a group of her girl and boy friends to rush in on her with congratulations. Though lost for a time she soon recovered herself to make all welcome and soon fun and games were alive, and with music thrown in made time pass swiftly. At 10 P. M. the hostess called a halt and ice cream, cake, chocolate and sweets were served and much enjoyed by all. Those of the company were Misses Mildred Hanson, Ethel Menchey, Flora Berwager, May Musselman, Irene Lau, Francis Waggaman, Helen Burgoon, Corinne Sherman, Messrs. John Brilhart, Malcolm Oursler, Harold Frankforter, Masters Levere Lau, Martin Loats, Austin Geiselman, Mrs. Dr. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. B. Myers and daughter Laura.

Crouse, who entertained their guests and several friends to a royal dinner on Wednesday, in honor of Mr. Crouse, who passed the 82nd milestone in life's journey, hale and hearty.

Mrs. Dr. J. H. Sherman was given a surprise on Wednesday evening by her daughter, Miss Corinne, who had a large company of friends at the home to celebrate the birthday of the mother. Everybody was in cheerful mood and enjoyed the pleasures of the evening and were bountifully entertained at fine refreshments.

As president of the company and in accordance with custom, I submit a report of the Westminster Cemetery Co. for ht eyaer WJ ETAO Cemetery Co. for the year just closed.

WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE NOTES

In a game replete with sensational plays and with each point hotly contested, Western Maryland College defeated the strong West Branch Y. M. C. A. basket-ball team last Saturday at the college gymnasium. The final score was 27-20 in favor of the local boys.

Dukes, left guard for Western Maryland, was the first to cage a basket. Arthur then scored from the center of the floor. West Branch retaliated by caging two baskets in quick succession. From then on the college boys had the better of the argument in the first half. Score at the end of the half, Western Maryland 17, West Branch 10.

At the beginning of the second half the college boys were out of form for fully ten minutes. As a result the West Branch team tied the score 19-19. Numbers, center for the green and gold, pulled the team together by a difficult shot from the side lines.

The last basket was thrown from beyond the center of the floor by Arthur. His was a beautiful clean shot. The game was delayed in the last half when the Y. M. C. A. lads misunderstood a decision made by the referee. As soon as the decision was explained the game proceeded without further interruption.

The excellent team work of Western Maryland made the victory possible. The team showed the effect of constant practice and their attention to the finer points of the game. Arthur scored the greatest number of points for Western Maryland. For the visitors Disney and Henry starred.

On Saturday afternoon, February 7, the local basketball enthusiasts will have the opportunity of seeing one of the best college teams in the state play on the local court. On that date Western Maryland meets Mt. St. Joseph's, of Irvington. The State championship this year is between Loyola and St. Josephs, of Irvington, as these have defeated all comers. On January 24 Mt. St. Josephs defeated Western Maryland at Irvington by a score of 57 to 11. The local boys are determined to wipe out this defeat, and should be able to turn the trick if they keep up their past improvement. Wamsley, forward for St. Josephs, is accredited with being the fastest basketball player in the State.

As this is an inter-collegiate game arrangements have been made for neutral officials. This will be the first inter-collegiate game ever held in the Western Maryland gymnasium. Game is to be called at 3 o'clock.

The score of West Branch-Western Maryland game:

W. M. C.		W. B.

Miss Ethel Roop appeared before the Browning Literary of Western Maryland College on Friday, January 30, with a very clever reading "Capital Punishment," the story of a mischievous schoolboy who is punished by being made to sit with the girls and feels the shame keenly but discovers after being given all his "example" and the core of an apple that what he had endured was really "capital punishment." Miss Roop is progressing steadily and the society is always delighted with a selection from her ever increasing repertoire.

SOW CLOVER SEED ON YOUR FALL SOWN WHEAT AND OAT CROPS

The best time for seeding red clover is in the spring, and it can be sown to excellent advantage either by itself or on fall-sown grain the end of February or during March. Very satisfactory stands are obtained by sowing clover seed on wheat, oats or other grains which may have been sown in the fall, and then running a sharp-tooth harrow crosswise over the field, so as to give the seed a slight covering. Running the harrow over it does not injure the grain crop, but increases the yield, really acting as a cultivation to the crop. Clover seed requires a good, firm seed bed, and sowing in this way, it is sown under ideal conditions for securing a good stand. All throughout the West it is the regular custom to sow clover seen in the spring on practically all fallsown wheat or other grain crops.

Sowing Alsike Clover and Alfalfa in Mixture with Red Clover

Red Clover is considered as the standard forage and soil-improving crop combined, and is more widely and generally used than any other crop for this purpose. The quantity sown to thb acre is usually ten or twelve pounds. It is an excellent plan when seeding to also sow two or three pounds of alsike clover to the acre; and if it is desired to inoculate the soil for alfalfa, a seeding of three to five pounds of alfalfa is desirable. Where these three clovers are sown in mixture, 8 lbs. of red clover, 3 lbs. of Alsike Clover and 3 lbs. Alfalfa is the quantity usually sown to the acre. The advantages of sowing alsike clover are more on the lines of crop insurance than otherwise, as alsike clover is surer to give a stand, and also stands more adverse conditions of dry or cold weather than other clovers.

Advantages of Sowing Alfalfa in Clover and Grass Mixtures

The sowing of alfalfa with both clovers and grasses is likely to increase the yield considerably, and the sowing of alfalfa in mixtures with other grasses and clovers is one of the best ways of testing as to whether it is adapted to your land, and also of thoroughly inoculating your land, in case it is desired to put the land down to a pure alfalfa crop afterwards.—Wood's Crop Special.
